TO OUR REPRESENTATIVES AND FRIENDS IN WASHINGTON.—The Washington office of the Pittsburgh Gazette is on 14th street, just north of the Avenue, and precisely opposite the Ladies' Entrance to Willard's Hotel, on the first floor. Our Washington correspondent can be found or heard of there, at all hours of the day or night, and messages and news left there for us will be sure to reach us. A file of the Gazette can always be found there, and our Representatives in Congress, and other friends, are requested and invited to call, whenever convenient. We entreat them to feel assured that they will always meet a cordial welcome from our correspondent, at his said headquarters—perhaps we should say, especially so when they bring news.

Invisible Greene.

At last the great secret is out, and we have the origin of all the mysterious rumors that have been floating about the community for weeks as to the peace propositions from Richmond, in the revelations of a certain Greene. He is not the Verdant Green of the play-wrights, nor the Sap Green of the artists, nor yet the pale seagreen of Mr. Carlyle; but an invisible green of Fernando Wood and the Chicago Times. Those eminent authorities, our readers will remember, have been tantalizing Yankee curiosity extremely by giving out that they could tell something very important and very interesting if they had a mind to. They had in keeping, it appears, a fellow very properly named Greene, who was full of information, which he kept under for a time, but which in the end was too much for him and had to come out. He relieves himself through the columns of the Chicago print.

The only result of Mr. Greene's travel, so far as we can see, is that some of the rebel sympathizers who aspire to control the "democratic party in the free States have impudently "shown their hands." Depending, perhaps, upon the prudence of Mr. Greene, they have boldly asserted that the imaginary "proposal" with which he was burdened were of a nature to be honorably accepted by the nation and the government. Mr. Wood recommended them; the Chicago Times of last Thursday said:

"Of the precise terms of the propositions we are not at liberty to speak, but they are such as the South could honorably make and the North could honorably accept."

What, then, are the terms which these democratic leaders are ready to offer to Davis? for it is in that light, and not as an offer from Davis, that these propositions must be regarded. What do Fernando Wood and the Chicago Times think honorable to the nation? To woo the rebels back, they are willing, it seems, to pardon all the rebel leaders—Floyd, Thompson, Toombs, Yulee, Mason, Slidell, Yancey, Wigfall, all —and reinstate them in their places in Congress; they are ready to have the nation assume the immense rebel debt, contracted for their preparations to shed the blood of our brethren and to dishonor our flag; they are ready to return all slaves who have escaped from their rebel masters during the war. This is what these northern traitors to our national honor and good fame offer to Mr. Davis; that is what they try to persuade the American people—once the proudest nation in the world—to swallow down as "honorable alike to the South and the North."

They are either a grim set of jokers, these peace-at-any-price democrats, or else they are the absurdest of fools. Here is a people which has given and is giving its best blood, and everything that is most precious, to enforce law, to crush rebellion, to put down an outbreak against law and order, and by the moral effect of that putting down, to make rebellion hopeless forever on this continent; and here come a few old political gamblers and hacks, and propose to give up everything to the rebels—to offer, in fact, a prize to rebellion, and make it meritorious to take up arms against the government. Does Mr. Wood think the people of America are idiots? or, is it he who is besotted by his prejudices and passions?

We intended to make some remarks upon this absurd stroke of party strategy, but the foregoing article which we copy from the New York Evening Post expresses our sentiments so well that we adopt it as our own.

The Chicago Times, in which GREENE's ridiculous narrative first appeared, is the paper which threatened the first volunteers who marched from Illinois to suppress this rebellion with "a fire in the rear." The Post of this city copies GREENE's narrative at length, and says, "The statement bears the appearance of truth upon its face." The Times says, "The publication of Mr. GREENE's statement is timely and wise." These are straws which show that the whole affair is a cunningly devised scheme of rebel Democrats to wheedle the country into a dishonorable peace with rebels, who have been for nearly two years doing all in their power to destroy the Government; to save from well-deserved punishment and restore to honor, place and power, the perjured villains who are now in open and bloody rebellion; to save slavery and strengthen all its bulwarks; and last, and most important of all, to restore the Democratic party to power by a re-union with the Southern wing. This is but a further development of the traitorous scheme foreshadowed in the Hughes resolution, and in the late speeches of WOOD, VAN BUREN and others, in New York. But the wretched conspiracy has culminated and exploded in a manner so inconceivably ridiculous that we trust we shall be troubled with it no longer.

It is, we think, probable that Greene had an interview with Messrs. LINCOLN and STANTON, but his narration of it is so utterly extravagant that the man must be as green as the author who can give it the least degree of credence. It has not even the semblance of truth.

The individual who has been used in this detestable business has a most unenviable record, as will be seen by statements in another part of this paper; but bad as he may be, the men who used him are more execrable still.

One word more. GREENE states in his narrative, to which he has made oath, that he left Pittsburgh on the twenty-third of October; that he was at Richmond on the twenty-sixth; was at Harper's Ferry, on his return, on the twenty-ninth; that he spent two days in Carroll county, Md., with some relatives, and then returned home. Compare this with Mr. DUNLAP's statement, 2d paragraph; and it will be seen that his statement cannot be true, and that the story of his being at Richmond at all is a sheer fabrication.

A Curious Paragraph.

The Richmond Dispatch puts forth the following extraordinary utterance:

We would have the word intervention expunged from the Southern dictionary, and the bare thought dismissed from the mind as a guilty and shameful thing. We are able to establish our own independence; and no independence obtained in any other way would be worth having. As for those Governments which stand aloof from us in our hour of trial, after having, by their intrigues, brought about the present state of things, we leave them to reap the fruits hereafter of their sinister and inhuman counsels. If we succeed, they can expect no special favors at our hands; if we fail, we shall fall with honor, but our fall will sound the death-knell of their power upon this continent, and perhaps their stability at home.

For the rebels to pretend to discard the idea of intervention, as "a guilty and shameful thing," is pretty cool; but how does such a declaration tally with the intimation that it was the foreign governments, whose intervention is so scornfully repudiated, that, "by their intrigues, brought about the present state of things?" It is a confession that they did seek intervention, that they hoped for it, based their expectations upon it, intrigued for it; and now, forsooth, when foreign despots, like traitor Democrats at the beginning of the war, become frightened at the unexpected development of power on the part of the government, and of uncompromising loyalty on the part of the people, and stand aloof, they affect to scout at intervention! Such courage as this is born of despair, not hope.

The closing clause of the Richmond editor's despairing cry is true; for nothing is surer than that the downfall of this great rebellion will be the death-knell of the power of European despotism on this continent, "and perhaps their stability at home." The crushing out of this last and greatest struggle of the spirit of despotism and oppression, in that spirit's darkest and strongest citadel, American Slavery, will give such an impulse to the spirit of freedom and true democracy as will severely try the stability of such thrones as those which Napoleon and the Hapsburg occupy.

But that is not what was in the mind of the Richmond editor. He has hopes that as the rebellion and the Southern Confederacy are failures, a union of the rebel "secesh" with the rebel "democracy" can be brought about as the next best thing; and that when, by their united action at the polls, they can bring the country back to its former subserviency to the slave power, they can get us into another war in Mexico for the purpose of expelling the French and introducing the negro. That, it will be remembered, is a part of the programme got up between the despairing rebels of Richmond and the aspiring rebels of New York. They fully believe that under the magic word "democracy," they can wheedle the country into an assumption of the debts of the Confederate government, and a war with France for the possession of Mexico, all of which would of course be added to the domain of Slavery. It is a poor scheme, however, and has but a few backers—such political desperadoes as John Van Buren, Fernando Wood, G. W. Train, and their train of pewter-mug followers, together with their unknown coconspirators at Richmond.

The Banks Expedition Heard From.

A letter from a special correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer, dated "Propeller Albany, at Sea, December 9th, 1862, gives us some items of information. He does not tell us where the expedition is going exactly, for the Captain of the Albany had sealed orders, which, as late as Tuesday, had not been opened. Enough was known, however, to warrant the following statement:

The expedition will not land at any of the points now discussed. It will not go as far as some think, and yet farther than others suspect. This, although it may seem like a riddle, is a fact.

The letter continues:

"On Sunday, we were visited by a storm of no ordinary violence. When about one hundred and thirty miles out from New York, a strong westerly wind arose, which broke the mizzen-mast boom, and blew away some of our rigging. As the night set in the clouds began to look threatening, and before nine o'clock the sea was lashed into a perfect foam. The little Albany, although rolling terribly, stood it well, and after tacking about some time, we at last sailed in under the ice of Cape May. During the storm there was hardly a person on board who did not suffer from seasickness; and the misery among the men between decks can hardly be imagined. Unfortunately, our doctor was the most seriously sick man among us."

"This morning, as several soldiers were eating their breakfast on the roof of the cabin, a sudden gust of wind swept their plates and tin cups into the sea, leaving the astonished troops to go hungry until dinner time. There was quite a fleet anchored with us at Cape May, and the several points below, which presented a very imposing appearance as we got under way after the storm and stood out to sea.

"As yet there has been no concentration of the transports, and almost every day we pass some of them, while others, faster than the Albany, pass us. Altogether, the fleet will consist of about forty vessels. How large they are, how many men they carry, or what they are freighted with, I am not permitted to say. In other words, this letter must necessarily be unsatisfactory, in consequence of the peculiar circumstances of the case. Never mind, I hope soon to be able to write you glorious news concerning the achievements of this expedition—the grandest of the war."

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.—A gentleman of large scientific attainments is now in the city for the purpose of introducing to the notice of the Government a newly invented gun metal. Cannon made from this material cannot be made to burst, and can be so loaded as to destroy an enemy's fleet before it can come near enough for its own guns to be brought into action. The WAR Department is taking a deep interest in this discovery, as its exclusive use would make us monarchs of the sea. The same gentleman also has a most valuable improvement in the manufacture of fire arms. The control of these two inventions would, at once, place us ahead of every warlike nation in the world.—Wash. Republican.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN CHEWING TOBACCO.—A Missouri letter in the Dubuque News says tobacco is used among the natives in the rural districts indiscriminately by both sexes, children as well as adults, both for chewing and smoking. A foraging party near Hartsville recently called at a house where they found a woman and thirteen children, the three eldest being girls, and all "chawing" a "power" of tobacco. One of the party remarking that she was the first woman he ever saw chew tobacco, the old woman exclaimed: "Wal, now, where was you brought up? Never seed a woman chaw 'bacca? Guess you hain't been round much. Don't you have any ladies whar you was raised?"

A CORRESPONDENT of the Haverhill Gazette, writing from Beaufort, S. C., Nov. 16, asserts that two hundred guns were fired in Charleston, and the city beautifully illuminated, in honor of the Democratic victories in New York and Pennsylvania.

COL. LUM SMITH, the famous "bill poster" of Buffalo, having accumulated a tolerable fortune in his humble calling, has become ambitious, and gone into the banking business in that city. We will bet that "Lum" fails. He should have stuck to bill posting and left bill shaving to others. All great men in a small way, are sure to prove small men in a great way.

NEGATIVE DEFINITION OF TREASON.—The New York Union Club, by a vote of fifteen to thirty-five, a short time since, declared that treason to the United States was not a crime of sufficient magnitude to be a cause for expelling a member guilty of it from the club.

2d Collection District, Pa.,
Allegheny, Decem ber 6th, 1862.

Notice is hereby given to all persons concerned, that I have received the list of the annual assessments for United States Excise Taxes for Division No. 4 of the 2d Collection District, being that part of Allegheny county north of the Ohio and Allegheny rivers, and that I will attend at my office, on Water street, next door to the office of the City Treasurer, in the City of Allegheny, for the purpose of receiving said taxes, until the 20TH DAY OF DECEMBER.

All persons who neglect to pay the duties and taxes assessed upon them during the time specified, or to take out their license, will be liable to an additional 10 per centum on the amount for the use of the Government, and to such other pains and penalties as are in the law provided for.

The annual list comprises taxes on licenses, carriages and silver plate,

United States money, such as treasury notes, post office currency, and gold and silver, can only be received for dues to the Government.

The Monthly List, being Excise Taxes on Manufactures, are not yet ready. When received, due notice will be given.

I will also attend in person, or by deputy, one day in the borough of Turtentum, for the purpose of receiving such taxes, to wit: on TUESDAY, the 16th of December, at the house of Hezakiah Vantine.

DAVID R. WHITE,
Collector of the 2d District, Penn'a.

SEWING MACHINES.

GET THE BEST.

WHEELER & WILSON'S

SEWING MACHINES,

No 27 FIFTH STREET,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

The HOLIDAYS are coming, and nothing can be more appropriate, economical or acceptable for a CHRISTMAS OR NEW YEAR'S GIFT, than an improved

Wheeler & Wilson Sewing Machine,

Awarded the first premium over fourteen competitors, at the UNITED STATES FAIRS, for the years 1858, 1859 and 1860; over 97,000 now in use in the United States, giving universal satisfaction.

The Machine makes the lock stitch impossible to unravel, with the essential advantage of being alike on both sides, forming no ridge or chain. It will quilt, stitch, hem, fell, gather, bind, cord, tuck and braid.

THE BRAIDER IS A NEW IMPROVEMENT, being an attachment for sewing Braids or Cords upon any kind of fabric, in the most elaborate designs without any previous basting.

The elegance, speed and simplicity of this Machine, the beauty and strength of stitch, and adaptability to the thickest or thinnest fabrics render it the most SUCCESSFUL AND POPULAR SEWING MACHINE now offered to the public.

☞ WARRANTED THREE YEARS. ☜

SEWING MACHINES.

WILLIAMS & GRVIS' unequalled double thread

$20 FAMILY SEWING MACHINES,

Salesroom, No. 19 FIFTH STREET,

PITTSBURGH, PA.

These Machines will do all kinds of work, and are warranted and kept in repair one year without charge.

LILLIE, STRAIN & CO., Agents.

SPECIAL NOTICE.

Let the public be perfectly assured that they may buy and use WILLIAMS & GRVIS' MACHINE with as much impunity as any in market, notwithstanding the gross misstatements in reference to one made from the Grover & Baker Sewing Machine Co. and others. The idea of accepting persons from using these machines, when they cannot sew as from ordinary them, is preposterous. This Machine was executed Feb. 14, 1861. We promise to reward any person with a Sewing Machine who can point out one single case where a person to whom we have sold a Machine have been legally stopped from using it, or have had to pay to say party.
