Special Dispatch to the Pittaburgh Gazette. PHILADELPHIA. Dec. 16, 1862. A special dispatch to the Inquirer says: The report that the rebels have two hundred thousand men at Fredericksburg is known to be false, Evidence of the mos positive kind makes their number under sighty thousand men; and although General Sarnside is confident that his force is ampl for the work before him, large reinforcement are going forward, and not the least doubt is expressed in high official circles of our ultimate success. The rebel sympathisers are industriously at work circulating lying stories of the fabuous number of men under Gen. Lee, but our army are confident of victory, and the more determined stand the enemy will make the nearer they will be annihilated.

This bids fair to be the most determine struggle of the war, and it will no doubt be a decisive one. Gens. Burnside, Sumner, Hooker. Franklin and Reynolds are men who will fight as long as a round of ammunition remains. D.

Ducing last night the army evacuated their position on the opposite side of the river. The movement was a perilous one but was conducted in safety. The artillary was the first to cross, the last of the infantry brought up the rear shortly after day light this morning.
The enemy never discovered the movement until it was too late to do us any harm. As until it was too late to do us any harm. As soon as the last man was over, the ponteon bridges were removed, cutting off all communication. Our wounded are all asfe on this zide of the river. There was a heavy wind all last night, with considerable rain, which assisted us in preventing the rebels from learning our intentions.

From Nashville.

Nashville, Dec. 16.—The rebels have increased the force at Nelinsville.

Gen. Forest has not yet been at Charlotte.
The Federals are still at Charksville.
Three hundred of Woodward's rebel cavalry came in with their arms, refusing to fight for the Southern Confederacy any longer.
The weather is stormy.
The Louisville and Nashville cars arrived on time. All is quiet along the road.
There is nothing new South of Nashville, except a slight, unimportant, skirmish yesterday.

Mr. Potter and Mr. Sloan severally addressed the House on the private and public character of their deceased colleague.

Mr. Noble testified to his high esteem for the deceased, who was born and reared in the district which he (Mr. Noble) represents. The usual resolutions of condeince were passed, when the House adjourned.

SEMATE.—The Vice President laid before the Senate a message from the President placing at the disposal of Congress the swords ed to him by Majol decleral Butler, from New Orleans, and suggesting that if they should be given to any one by Congress, as rewards for bravery, Gen. Butler is entitled to the first communication. Laid on the table. Mr. McDongali, pr Cal., offered the following joint resulution:

Resolved, First. That the Government wil accorea, First. That the Government will maintain the payment in coin of interest on its indebtedness, and would consider it a breach of faith to the public to do otherwise.

Recolect, Second. That the duties on im-
