Seriously Injured by a Street Car.

On Wednesday afternoon, an accident of a painful and it may be fatal character occurred to Mr. Hugh Carson, carpenter, of Algheny. While passing over Ohio street, at the eastern corner of the penitomisary, his attention was attracted by a wagon, and while watching it, and waiting for it to pars, a parsenger car on the Manchester line approached on the opposite track. Mr. Carson was standing on the side of the track, and not hearing the car, in consequence of the noise made by the wagon, the horse struck him and knocked him down. This was just at the moment of time when the wagon and car were side by side.
When the vehicles had passed, Mr. Carson was found to have been very seriously injured.
His hip joint was dislocated, and one of his ribs were broken. He was conveyed to his residence on the West Common, a few doors south of Ohio street, and but a few rods from where the accident occurred. His care is the more critical, owing to the fact that he is far painful and it may be fatal character ocverable condition last evening, and his phy-sician has deemed it necessary to exclude visitors (rom his room . He is a very estima-ble citizen, and we hope he may recover.

HON. B. F. WADE. As the time approaches for the election of a snator frem Ohio, the attention of all true Senator frem Ohio, the attention of all true riends of the administration here is directed to the chances of Hon. B. F. Wade, who is a candidate for re-election. Every one who wishes success to the administration, desire such a friend as he is to the cause of the coun try, to continue in his place. He is so brave so perfectly henest, so unflinching in his de-votion to the principles of the Republican party, and, therefore, of rational liberty, that should consider it a national calamity to lose im from the United States Senate, and I do most earnestly hope and trust that such a les may not be suffered. He is needed as a coun terpoise to the wily Cox, in the House, who is as busy as Old Nick is said to be in a gale of wind. Cox is of the diplomatic order. If burrows like a mole. You may see a smal pile of dirt where he went in and anothe here he came out, but what he did while below the surface is something you are free to guess at. Mr. Cox had the honor of dining nd wining the late Gen. McCiellan here, th other night.
