ceived an unwelcome corroberation in the The Great Battle at Murireesboro. After several days of painful anxiety, the country is warrented in hailing the resuit of the terrible straggle of at least four days a Murfreesboro as a signal, decided and telling victory. It was probably the most fiercaly contested battle of the war. and the loss has been very heavy; but no structed during and shortly after the Crimean battle of the war has denemore to advance war, France has also constructed four iron our cause, and to inspire hope of a speedy driven, and of course demoralized.

These victories, gained at the expense of ten iron frigates. It is in contemplation to than defeate; and while we may and up indulge in a chastened feeling of exulta-tion, and in renewed hops, we off hardly go to excess in our gratitude to the brave men whose unflagging bravery achieved them, and to that all controlling Prince Consort, Ocean, Caledonia, Royal Oak Power which girded them with strength, insuited that with strength insuited that with strength.

in Mr. McKay's own words : their efforts:

Angry and Scared.

The Pittaburgh Post is still in a parox-yam of rage about the proclamation of emancipation; but we advise the editor to be more careful or he will expose too plain-ly the treason that lurks in his heart. In a leader of orer a column in length, in that paper of Monday, speaking of the aboli-tionists, (which term embraces all who prefer the salvation of the country to the pre-servation of alavery,) it lets off in advert-int is scrap of pregnant truth: After welve months of carnage and death, these blinded enthusiasts discovered that instead of storey being a course of the rest. The about the grace help we wrong the iron case of a dght. The prostent was hound by every considera-tion of duty and patriotism to deprive them of that element of strength; and men who object to, and oppose, that measure of war, of justice, and of or the give aid and confort to the enemy. Out of its own mouth let the The Pittsburgh Post is still in a parox- navy are thus noted by Mr. McKay :
