tion. This was a regular field day in the House.

In Committee of the Whole, Thad. Stevens said something at which the Kentucky delegation took offense, and a ranning debate followed. -Sterens took the ground that the ra bel States could dlaim no constitutionalrights while in arms against the Constitution; that the rebols made such resistance to our authority as to secure the acknowledgment throughwe out the world as a belligerent newer; that they were, therefore, to be dealt with not as an insurrectionary portion of the country, to be reduced, but as enemies to be subdued and governed as conquered provinces, and that we were doing a thousand things in thus endeavoring to subdue them which had no warman in the Constitution intended for the govern ment of the States of the Union. Mr. Thomas, of Mass., Mr. Olin, of N. Y.

and Lovejoy, vehemently protested against there doctrines and demanded the Republican party should not be held responsible for their opposition particularly. 44

The Kanfucky delegation kept up a sharp fire of questions and succeeded in embarras
