Esying this the young forger brushed a tear from his cheek, and a moment after linked arms with the detective, in whose charge he was, and laughingly walked away. Follow-ing them back to the cells, we addressed the prisoner:

"How much of what you just now uttered

"How muon, or want you just now distorted did you readly feel?"
"Every syllable."
"Having committed this illegal act in a deliberate manner, after days of preparation, how is it that repentance comes so suddenly?"
"It does not come suddenly. Fools talk of stifling conscience. It can't be done. The stiffing conscience. It can't be done. The man who believes that a criminal ever enjoys an hour's true happiness, is a foot. I expect to go to prison for about five years, and yet compared with the torments of conscience the uffering from confinement is nothingness.

THE LATEST NEWS The Second United Presbyterian Church Alleghany was filled to its atmost capacity yesterday morning, to hear a discourse for Bev. Col. Clark. At ten o'clock the house yesterary morning, to hear a discourse industrial Rev. Col. Clark. At ten o'clock the house, was well filled, and at half-past ten, the time; for the commencement of the services, every; available place in the church was occupied. The sermon was, as usual, siequant and impressive, and was listened to with breathless attention. Col. Clark, in the course of his remark, said he had no doubt many whom he saw before him had come with the expectation of hearing a disceurse on the war, but in this they would be disappointed. He appeared on this occasion to speak for the cause of the meek and lowly Jesus, and Him crucified. The sermon, therefore, was not in reference to the war, but a very touching and elequent to the war, but a very touching and elequent allusion was made to those who had fallen in battle, designed more particularly for the consolation of their friends.
