Leading the challenge, and asking the editor to the challenge and asking the editor to the challenge and asking the editor to the challenge. We have received a copy of the "statement to use his influence in bringing about this inof facts" concerning the enlistment of the Anderson Gavairy, otherwise "Buell's Bedy Hamill is as follows: dearty," and "160th Regiment Pennylvania Volunteers." The corps seems to have salvy seems their Commanding General is used to their Commanding General is very lengthy, and we must content currents they seem to be propose of setting forth their grievances and obtaining redress. The address is very lengthy, and we must content currents they with a synopsis embracing the main facts. In August last, Capt. J. Palmer and others compared recruiting offices in "Philadelphia, Phitaburgh, Harrisburg, and other chief cities of Pennsylvania, amounting that they were authorised by Gen. Beelt to recruit a battalion of picked man as a Body Guard to Gen. Baill, positively investing that they were authorised by Genseral and to perform special services as an each penderal or the superior indiagements held out by Capt. Some members of the first hettalien became alarmed, fearing that those promises would not be kept, but their fears were quieted by Capt. Palmer, who caused an order to be read on dress perade at Camp habama, Carlisla, Pa, that notwithstanding the increase of number they will still be Gen. Ruell's Rost Guard. the lacroase of number they will still be Gen.
Buell's Body Guard.

The "statument" next alludes to the part taken by the Anderson Troop in clearing the robels out of, Pennsylvanis, and Maryland, during the memorable invasion. Soon after their return to camp at Carlisle they heard of the removal of Gen. Buell, and believing that they oould not set as a Body Guard to his successor, they took steps towards dishandment—immediate and unconditional dishandment. Their fears were calmed and their action tries. chey could not see as Body Guard to his successor, they took steps towards disheadment.

Is there any good excuse for men who, becoming infariated, make use of expressions that must bring the blush of shame to those who are forced to hear them? If men so far farget to wait on Lieut. Col. Two of the parpeties of the party were then arrested and held to bail, but the other secaped. This morning another mittee again waited on Cot. Spencer, and not the obeysed. On the 18th of the secaped of the party was arrested, and taken before titled him that in case marching orders were and some morning orders were received they would not be obeyed. On the 18th of the consequence was that the market opened on Tuesday, may bought as high spechaps as they would have paid on Monday. But buyers were not long in find-town that there were plenty of cattle, such as they was stabled in the back. Two of the parpeties to submit to a decline in price or keep their steek. On the 18th of the morning of the Cornello of the consequence was that the market opened on Tuesday, may bought as high spechaps as they would have paid on find-of many bought as high spechaps are to town the theory, not and the theory, in fact the stable paid on that there were plenty of cattle, such as they would not be obeyed. This morning another instruction and the close of the market opened on Tuesday, may be upon the were plenty of cattle, such as they would not be obeyed. On the back were the arrested and held to bail, but the other escaped. This morning another the Troop stacked arms is an orderly manner, but upon Gen. Stanley promising that the boys should be held as a reserve, and upon the army was repulsed, a part of the Troop it" then details the circum orance amonung the arrest and imprisonmen of those who had refused to obey the orders of their superior effort; numbering in all, 410 leaving about 200 in emp. Of the other 55 mossessry to swell the Troop to the maximum some are quietly sleeping the sleep that knew, no waking; others are sick and wounded, but the west majority are sick and wounded, but the west majority are sick and wounded, he vast majority are missing. The "statement" then declar our "Troop" who followed our officers to the front, did so only because they were led to be-lieve that the danger was imminent, and that neve that the danger was imminent, and the every man was imperatively needed, and not because they considered the stand made to be wrong; but, on the because they considered the stand made to be wrong; but, on the contrary, they expressly affirmed, that they were with us in heart, in proof of which we might gite the fact; that a very large percentage of those brave young men are now either in the jall yard of work house, at an earnest of their candor, to us.

In conclusion, we would impress the facts upon your mind, that we were falsely enlisted; never mustered into the service or expressed; never properly armed; that, in taking this stand, we have been actuated only by a desired to have simply justice done unto us.—having made the stand and taken our position in advance of any marching orders being received; therefore, we claim only what the humbset in the land-may justly demand—justice at the hands at a september of the process of the season, and may be in the hambset in the land-may justly demand—justice at the hands at a sprong will cartainly be higher.

ADIES' FANCY FURS:* the land may justly demand—justice at the in hands of elegovernment "we'd have died to save." Believing in the honor, justice, and integrity of our government, we are willing to rest our cause in the links of her representatives, humbly praying that right may prevail over might, justice over outner and wrong, and, that we may be honorably discharged from the service of the United States; thus being milesed from our connection with an organization which has bedone dolors and under allierent ampless, where they can do justice to re-enlist, an opportunity to do so under different ampless, where they can do justice to themselves, to the cause of their CHILDREN'S FANCY FURS: justice to themselves, to the cause bleeding country, and entire principles of human freedom.

As a sine writing the above, I have received the last number of your paper, and find that Chambers and Iverson have finally come to terms. Green, I presume, is awaiting his turn, and whilst so doing might he not take a trip to this side, being somewhat of a traveler already? I will row him the same races that I have proposed to Messre. I verson and Chambers. I am opposed to rowing for a large amount, my object being more to test my ability as an oarsman. Still, I would, if it were absolutely necessary to insure a race, with either of the three gentlemen, increase the stakes to $5,000, each race, that is $1,500 a side. Should Green not accept this challenge, I will row the winner of the champion race.
