Nork: Charles Scriber. 1862. Pittsongh : for sate by R. & Davis, 30 Wood street. pp. 602. The suthor of this volume is a son of the celebrated tien. Pact, whose name and fame have travelled far boyond the confined of the South American Republics, in the ever-recur-ring froubles of which,during many years, he took a conspicnous part. His con, too, scoording to the evidence supplied in the pre-sent volume, may repeat the boast of the Tro-jan prince, and say "Pare sagna fsi," when relating many a boils detretiner, many a dar-leg exploit, and many a hir-breadth escaps, by flood, and field. Yet, while the wor-threngthout, is a narrative of personal deven-tive, there is no approach to the immodesty of an everweening egotiom fin any part of it. The suthor is a genuine lover of nature; has the sorther and many a hair-breadth escaps, the suthor is a genuine lover of nature; has the sorther and has, morswer, the courage and enderance which find in danger and in-tigue only how source of enjoyment—a new elament to sport in:-even such an one as the post describes in these gailant Knights, who weak forth in search of an enture, has the set of the suthor is a factor of and and in-tigue only how source of sulforment—a new elament to sport in:-even such an one as the post describes in these gailant Knights, who ohn Hughes, Treasurer, Mile county 14 (ico, S. -Bat we cannot extend our notice. Suffice it to say, that the work answers to its titlepresenting, with great vividness of coloring, the "Whith Sources," . Which the lianes of Vesi-sensels, according to the accounts of every travelier who has visited them, must abound im-appectally, when the travelier himself is emper to find them out, because he thoroughly enjoys them. We may add, that the book is handsomely printed, and contains a number of beautifal illustrations, which greatly in-creases its value. creases its value.

The Post's Grammar -- A Reward. PITTSBURGH, March 4. Mesers. Editors :-- A clargyman, who lives

Alichardson, Hegister, Allegheny Co... 220 66 Isa A. Rowley, Clerk of Courts, Alle-ay county..... on the border of Butler County, informed me some sometime since, that he had ordered the proprietors of the Post to "discontinue" some sometime since, that he had ordered the proprietors of the Post to "discontinue" sending that paper to him, for several roacons. The most important, however, were its gram-matical inneouracies and "valgatistins," which, said he, were desiroying, his children. Since that time, I have been reading the Post more closely, for the purpose of accertaining whether the elergyman was slandering one of our ely papers. The result is, that I have become dirguted with its grammatical inso-cerneise and literary defects. The articles which appear in the issues of yesterday and its day, are beneath a schoolboy, and in order to text the matter, I hereby offer a premium of Fivm DorLars to any boy or girl in the Grammar Departments of our Schools who will give the best grammatical analysis of the articles referred to.

At 12 o'clock m. the Senate met the House of Rep of the articles relative does gramma does analysis of the articles relative does it would likely have passed this matter without any notice whethers, were it not that the Post is continually talking about the "doits" and "soribbiers" of the Gassile. The analysis referred to above are to be forwarded to the editors of the Gassile, who will award the price, which will be paid in a good greenhock at the book-keepper's deak.
