The river is still receding steadily at this point The weather, yesterday, was clear and cool, and very orable for out-door business. Business at the wharf is not very brisk. There has not been a single arrival since Monday. The star light, from Louisville, is due here this morning, an the Nellie Rogers, from St. Louis, will arrive abo for Cincinnati. She had an excellent trip, including some three hundred tons of government freight fo Nashville, which will have to be reahipped. Business is very active at the Allegheny, and we notice large receipts of petroleum and fair shipments of miscetlaneous merchandise. The packets have good trips both up and returning. There is more business doing on this stream than there is on the Ohio, which is owing to the fact that there are more onto, which is only of the first than the latter.
