many of our readers know that for more than three-quariers of a century before the pure becoming identified with the Indians, who had made it their city of refuge from alavery also?

For the slaveholders of Carolina had no sornples against enslaving indians any more than Africans, until it was discovered that the untameable nature of the red man made him an it is. A more unequal contest was never fought. On one side, one of the mightest powers on earth, with endiess stores of men and money at its back,—and on the other a handful of outcasts fighting for their homes, and pretracting the fight for as many years as the American Revelution lasted.

the reduction to hopeless bondage of multitudes who had been for generations free, on claim of pretended descendants of imaginary owners, by the decision of petty government
