Mentgomery county, Ohie, stationed at Camp Dick Robinson, Ky., with his regiment, was recently sent out on a secuting expedition.

After a time he became separated, and soon discovered a party of secesh, who did not notice him. Concealing himself, he fired on and succeeded in killing seven of them before they saw where he was hidden. There being me further chance Micoy attempted to escape, but unfortunately his horse threw him, severely injuring, and disabling him. In this way he was easily captured by the rabels, who deliberably shot him seven times, wounding and mangling him in a most dreadful manner; but not killing him. He was ittil able to raise up, and shot his eighth man! An end was then put to this gallant here by bayenetting him, and his mangled remains were thrown into a much hole. Many was between 31 and 22 years of age. The above particulars were obtained from a Union woman, who witnessed a part of the affair. It occurred on her farm. She pleaded unsuccessfully with the leader of the rebel party for the privilege of burying Mr. Many's corpes, but was reduced. recently sent out on a scouting expedition.

The Second Part of Dr. Colones's work, just issued from the press of Messes. Appleton, will doubtless attenct quite as much; and the same kind of attention from theologians, and indeed all, whose studies have prepared them to enter into the centroversies of questions of biblical criticism, philological, historical, chronological, scientific, and (now we may add) arithmetical, that have recently been stirred up particularly in Great Britain, as did the First Part on its publication, a few mouths ago. In that part it was thought, by many, that the Bishop employed his arithmetic, which appears to have been a speciality with him before he appeared as a biblical critic, in an aniair and unphilosophical spirit, as an instrument of criticism. Be that as it may, he has certainly not continued any longer to follow up that method,—for this Second Part is mainly devoked to the discussion of philological questions affecting the age, suthership, historieal value, etc., etc., of the Pentatsucch and the Book of Joshna. Having thus very briefly stated the character of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, and the part of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Bishop Colonso's work, the colon of the Second Part of Having thus very briefly stated the character of the Second Part of Bishop Colenso's work, as distinguished from the First Part, we content ourselves, without further remark, to relegate the business of criticism to those of our contemporaries, whose more special vocation it is to enter atadequate length into such a subject. We are altogether, satisfied that the Divine Truth, which has stood for contruries and milleniums, will not be shaken by either arithmetic or philology, and that the result of all the controversy that may be excited, will only do for this age and generation, what similar controversies have done for past ages and generations—namely, reveal more clearly the eternal and fixed relations of all Truth to Him in whom we live, and move, and have our being.

We have suffered for some years from an enormous corn, located on an exposed part of a toe. Passing along Grant street to-day, in the vicinity of Diamond, we dropped in at the office of Dr. Randall, four doors above, to inquire how long we should be laid up, in case we submitted our test, or rather our corn, for an operation. "Sit down," said Dr. R., "and I will see." We doffed our boot, sat dewn, and the Dr. examined: to our infinite astonishment, in about ten seconds, with a part of small tweesers pointing to us, he said "there it is." And there it was—about the site and shape of a [grain of cats, and as hard as bone. We looked at the places of late of ly occupied, and found a little hole, corresponding in size with the corn.

The operation is absolutely painless; there is no caustic, no cutting, no bleeding. Dr. Randall just finds the cause of the annoyance, takes his tweezers and lifts it out—that's all. Let all who enjoy corns, keep them well pruned and growing; but all who do not, should call at once and get rid of them.

From H. T. Coffey, M. D.—I have seen Dr. Rendall operate for the removal of corns from the feet. The operations were skilfally and rapidly performed, and almost painless. I take pleasure in recommending him te any who wish to be relieved from those troublesome pests—corns and bunions.
