A Noble Donation.

On Thursday last the Board of Managers of the American Bible Society, at a special meeting called for the purpose, granted, by a unanimous vote, over 150,000 volumes of the sacred scriptures—chiefly New Testaments in English and German—in value not less than $10,000, to the United States Christian Commission for free distribution in the three Western armies commanded by Generals Rosecrans, Grant and Burnside. Already, within a few weeks past, the Commission has systematically supplied almost the entire army of Gen. Hooker with Testaments granted by the Bible Society, and with other books, papers and tracts by the agency of about thirty delegates from six different states in the army. And now the same system is in operation in the army of Gen. Rosecrans, and in process of organization in those of Gens. Grant and Burnside, under the direction of Rev. B. W. Chidlaw, of Cincinnati, and Rev. Edward P. Smith, of Massachusetts.

Within a few weeks it may be hoped and predicted that every man desiring it will have a Testament and Hymn Book, with other reading matter adapted to their circumstances and wants. The influence of such work upon the men cannot but be most cheering and beneficial in every respect, while it reflects the greatest credit on the two great associations by whom it is accomplished.

The Army Committee received a dispatch yesterday, from their delegates, who left here last Thursday, stating that they had arrived safely at Nashville. Five more delegates will leave here next week for the army of the Cumberland.

Collections for the Army Committee of Western Pennsylvania will be taken up today in all of the churches of this part of the State. Let all be prepared to contribute.

City Mortality.

The number of deaths in this city, from April 6th to April 13th, as reported by Dr. A. G. Mehaffey, physician to the Board of Health, is as follows:

Males	11	Adults 8
Females	8	Children 11
Total	19

The diseases were: Consumption, 3; syphallery, 1; inflammatory rheumatism, 1; inflammation of lungs, 1; congestion of brain, 2; meningitis, 1; pneumonia, 1; diptheria, 1; dropsy of brain, 1; acute hydrocephalus, 1; cancer, 1; still-born, 2; cardiac disease, 1; erysipelas, 1; marasmus, 1.

In consequence of small-pox prevailing in the city, parents are requested to have their children vaccinated, and are notified to call on the Physician to the Board of Health, at the office on Fourth street, between Grant and Ross streets, from 7 till 2 p. m., or at No. 28 Centre avenue, from 4 to 5 p. m.

Rumsey's Minstrels.

This splendid troupe will give the last of their entertainments this evening, at Masonic Hall, and those who wish to enjoy a rare musical treat should by all means embrace this last opportunity. Their performances are characterised by the highest musical talent, and their programmes throughout are dignified in tone and unexceptionable in character. We regret that they cannot stay longer, but they are advertised in Steubenville and Wheeling, and open in the former place on Friday evening. We cordially commend them to our friends below.

This afternoon a grand matinee will be given for the benefit of ladies and children, to commence at three o'clock. As this evening will most positively be the last opportunity to hear this excellent troupe of melodists, all should embrace it. Let there be a big turn out.

Suicide in Wheeling.

On Tuesday morning, Mrs. Susan Taylor, of Wheeling, was found dead in her bed, and a tea cup containing a liquid in which strychnine was found near the bedrail. Two children of the deceased were sleeping in the same bed with their mother, but neither knew of her death until informed by a gentleman who gained admittance to the house by a back window, about seven o'clock in the morning. The children observed that the mother was lying very quietly, but they supposed she was asleep. No cause is assigned for the suicide except that the deceased was of a melancholy turn of mind, and had a great deal of domestic trouble. Mrs. Taylor was the wife of Robert Taylor, who is now serving as a soldier in the First Virginia Regiment.

Emma Waller's Benefit.

This lady's farewell benefit will take place on Friday evening. The plays are the Shakspearian character of Hamlet, and the great creation of Scott, the Gipsy Witch, Meg Merrilies. When we say that Mrs. Waller's Hamlet is equal to her famous personation of Iago we accord to her the highest praise. Her Meg, as a dramatic representation, stands alone in its power and originality. The bill ought to fill the house, apart from her distinguished claims as an artiste.

New Music.—"Dan Bryant's Popular Comic Song, How Are You, Green-Backs?" for sale by Mrs. Charlotte Blume, 43 Fifth street. Some illiterate contemptible wretch, styled E. Howers, Esq., claims to have composed the miserable doggerel, which has excited at with a steal skill of Mr. Charles Glover's wedding, tune; but no musical draping, or human touch,—for it is simply the poison of slaver and the discordant hiss of a creature of the copperhead species, in a very crude, frothy state of mixture.

Appointments at the President.

Appointments at the President.—Captain J. W. Kirker, of Butler, has been appointed Provost Marshal for the 23d Congressional district.

Dr. John S. Kuhn, of Allegheny, has been appointed Examining Surgeon, and Josiah Copley, Esq., Commissioner of the Board of Enrollment of the same district.

Capt. Kirker can be found for the present at the office of Dr. J. S. Kuhn, 38 Federal street, Allegheny.

Passier Beer.—Mr. George Kraus, the well-known brewer, who displayed such a tempting lot of premium beer, in the April cheap market, on Tuesday last, and who now, with tank, a rapid sale, will have a more of the same kind on his stall, on Friday morning, having filled a tank, young beer fed by the same person who fattened the latest beef. Those who wish to enjoy a nice, cooling, juicy steak or roast (and who do not) can obtain the same by making an or application to Mr. Kraus at the time place stated.

SCHOOL DIRECTORS attending the Convention on Monday next, (May 4th,) to meet County Superintendent, will pay full fare upon the Pennsylvania Central Railroad, and be returned free of charge to their respective homes by showing a certificate from the President or Secretary of the Convention to the conductors. We presume all roads will act in the same liberal manner.

Editors Gazette: There is perceptible in this State, at present, considerable anxiety as to who shall be our next Governor. The names of a number of excellent gentlemen have already been coupled with that distinguished office, and the friends of each are extremely active in publishing the merits of their particular favorites—often indulging in glowing, spirited econiums upon their relative qualifications, and promising in the event of success, such a ministerial era in our history as has never yet signalised our good old Commonwealth.

To this we take no exceptions, for it is probable there may be some bright and shining lights among those referred to; yet, as the trials which now agitate our country are of a momentous character,—the hopes of our future clouded and unsettled—our very national existence hanging in the scale of doubt and uncertainty, it behooves the yeomanry of our land to pause and reflect—rush not heedlessly into a sacrifice of their best interests—and, whilst asking the inexperienced and untried to hold off, call on the veteran and strong man in intellect to take the helm of State, and by his sagacity and practical knowledge, pilot us safely through the storms now raging and threatening the destruction of our beloved country.

Such a man is in our midst. It is almost needless to observe that in point of intellect, sound constitutional law, as a clear, logical reasoner, and withal, possessed of a heart true and loyal as ever beat in breast of man, no one stands so prominently before the public, as the right and proper person to direct and watch over our destinies in State matters, as our esteemed fellow-townsman, Ex-Governor WILLIAM F. JOHNSTON.

In presenting the name of our honorable Ex-Governor to the consideration of our fellow citizens, we do it fully persuaded that if chosen by them to once more occupy the Gubernatorial Chair, no alarm, no mistrust, need be felt concerning the policy which would mark his administration. His qualifications as a statesman are already established. His knowledge of the manifest interests of our State—his broad and comprehensive views upon the great national issue with which our State government must necessarily be more or less blended,—and his ardent, but restrained love for all the liberal institutions of our country characterize and hold him as one to be preferred by the people of the Commonwealth. His past history is part and parcel of his States history. His record is without blemish. It stands a proud memorial of his ability and patriotism, and it gives assurance that come weal or woe, his whole energies—his whole ambition, aye, his life, if need be would be consecrated to the advancement and intellectual progression and happiness of the whole human family, and the preservation and perpetuity of our country, "ONE AND INSEPERABLE." PRIZE FIGHT.—A prize fight $250 a side came off at Denver City, Colorado Territory, on the afternoon of April 16th, between Wm. M. McDonough, of Pittsburgh, Pa., and a man by the name of James Raffs, in which McDonough, after fighting twelve rounds, was victorious. A large crowd was in attendance.

CHIROPODISM.—Dr. Rendall, late of London and New York, continues to exercise his surgical skill in the removal of Corns and Bunions without pain or inconvenience. Persons who have suffered for years with these troublesome and annoying companions, go into his office limping and making wry faces caused by the acute pain they suffer, and in the course of a few seconds can skip with joy at the entire removal of the cause, being fully satisfied that they have made one of the cheapest investments in their lives. Ease and comfort, as far as the understandings are concerned, are desiderata devoutly wished for by all. Read the following certificates, and remember that the address of Dr. Rendall is Diamond street, opposite the Court House, fourth door from Grant street:

FROM WASHINGTON.
OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

Special Dispatches to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, April 29, 1863.

REVENUE DECISION.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that all contracts for loans of money or currency, on gold at par, over three days, must be stamped to the amount of half of one per cent. of the sum loaned and interest thereon at six per cent.; that a loan on gold or silver coin over par is void, and that one of gold or silver coin at par is subject only to the duty imposed on other loans. Those applications for bounties, arrearages of pay or pensions only are exempt from stamp duty which are made in pursuance of the law for special claims of discharged, disabled or bruised officers, soldiers, sailors or musicians entitled thereto.

REV. DR. SUNDERLAND,

Pastor of the largest and one of the most fashionable congregations here, is to preach a sermon to-morrow, taking strong anti-slavery grounds. In announcing his intention last Sunday, he stated that what he had to say might drive him from his pulpit or tear the congregation in pieces, but at this crisis he did not believe the pulpit should be silent. The forthcoming sermon produces considerable excitement among the fashionable churchgoers in this hitherto pro-slavery city.

PERSONAL.

It is reported, on doubtful authority, that General Butler has been offered the command at Charleston, and has declined it.

Gen. Fits Henry Warren has been cleared of Halleck's charges against him, by Judge Advocate General Holt, and the President has approved of Holt's decision.

REPORT CONTRADICTED.

The report that the Clerk of the District Court at Key West has absconded with thirty thousand dollars, is contradicted by the fact that the Attorney General has business letters from him of a later date than that of the alleged making the assertion.

PAYMENT OF TROOPS.

The amount of warrants passed at the Treasury to-day for the payment of all the troops whose terms of service have expired, or will expire, is between two and three millions.

NO FOREIGN LOAN TO BE NEGOTIATED.

The report that the Treasury Department has sent J. Walker, or any other agent, abroad to negotiate loans, is contradicted. Acting Secretary Harrington says there is no authority for a statement.

WEATHER.

More than a foot of snow, but not enough to stop the mails, fell here yesterday.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The U. S. Marshal of Dr. Boyle, acting under the order of the Supreme Court, to arrest Dr. Boyle, Attorney, issued an order by the District Attorney, issued an order to show cause why the persons interested should not be condemned and sold as the Confiscation act. This is the first case under this District. Dr. Boyle is one of the National Volunteer commander of the commencement of the rebellion, and organized here at in seizing the public buildings to assist of the rebels, and soon after for the benefit of President Lincoln in his organization where he has been cruelly treating the South fice of Provost Marshal.

Gen. Martindale, Military Governor of this district, has issued a general order that to-morrow will be observed, stating and men in his command as a day of fasting humiliation. He says all who are nerved to the performance of his duty, whether in battle or elsewhere by the inspiring presence in his mind and purpose of Gods majesty, the movement began—the effect by an influence of immeasurable power, a whole nation stimulated and from such influences will be irresistible, and be fitted by

The Army of the Potomac.
--Expedition to the North Neck.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Tribune announces that the army of the Potomac is in motion. Gen. Hooker has crossed the Potomac is delay, caused by the storm, made all haste to get ready once after the last serious were completed storm, made all haste to ing, at daylight ore, and his arrangements cavalry corps last week. On Monday morning at midnight, the movement began—the from the taking the lead. How far the unexpected has progressed we can only infer cross time which has elapsed, but if no vanced, obstruction has interfered, the ought by this time, to be far advanced.

The Herald contains the following from the headquarters of the Army of the Potomac, dated April 28th, 1863:

The expedition to the Northern Neck returned last night. The force was composed of the Oneida, N. Y., Cavalry, Captain Mann, and a detachment of the First Pennsylvania Cavalry, under Lieut. Col. Gardener, and arrived in King George Court House on Saturday night, where a halt was made for a few hours. The expedition captured a number of prisoners and some important letters found in houses of secessionists. The command returned again, although narrowly escaping capture. The rebels had fired the bridges over the Mattox Creek, and if our men had been detained a few moments later, they would have been almost completely cut off.

Southern News.

NEW YORK, April 29.—Further advices from Port Royal contain a report that the city of Charleston will be again attacked on the 3d of May, when the spring tides will recur.

All the Monitors except the Weehawken had left Port Royal.

The health of the troops was suffering somewhat from the warmth of the weather.

Rebel deserters report that new obstructions have been placed in Charleston harbor, which will not allow the smallest craft to pass.

Advices from Newbern state that General Hill's forces were at Greenfield, and even further north.

Our troops at Elizabeth City and Winfield had been withdrawn to Washington and Plymouth, and are to be retained for the purpose of building a fort at the latter place, which will allow the withdrawal of one regiment, which is now there, for operations elsewhere.

This evening's Post contains a report, received by way of New Orleans, that a Paymaster, with $600,000 for our troops, was aboard the steamer Fox when she was captured by the rebels.

The Post thinks that Gen. Banks has taken possession of a large amount of rebel property, and the news indicates that part of our forces have reached Alexandria, La., where the rebels had a large quantity of stores and boats. It is not impossible, it says, that all have been captured.

From Murfreesboro.

MURFREESBORO, April 29.—At noon to-day a small force of rebel cavalry appeared on the Manchester pike, and the videttes gave the alarm, saying that the enemy was advancing in force. Gen. Negley, with commendable prudence, moved out a short distance, but the alarm proved to be false. Gen. Negley met several citizens, residents near the outposts, moving in, who reported that the rebels had declared they were coming to drive the Federal army from Murfreesboro. It is thought generally that the demonstration of yesterday was made for the purpose of forcing Rosecrans to concentrate his lines, thus leaving Wheeler and Van Dorn at liberty to set on the flanks with their cavalry, also to enable them, with the force north of Duck river, to defeat any attempt we might make similar to the one at McMinnville. At present all efforts of the rebel cavalry on our flanks are futile.

Meeting at Buffalo.

BUFFALO, April 29.—Gyrus W. Field addressed the Board of Trade and our citizens to-day on the subject of the Atlantic Telegraph. Resolutions favoring the project were passed. The Railroad Convention was in session to-day, and Mr. Field addressed the meeting this afternoon.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The steamer Shellbark, from Havana on the 23d, arrived at this port to-night. Vera Cruz dates of the 13th have been received per a French vessel stating that Puebla had been occupied by the French up to that date. The French had lost from 500 to 600 killed and wounded. Lamier, chief of artillery, was killed, and Col. Larnier badly wounded. The estimated entire force of Ortega in the city was 25,000.

The bridge over the Rio Presto was held by the French, thus preventing Comonfort, with 12,000 reinforcements, from crossing.

Another arrival from Vera Cruz, dated on the 16th, states the mail from Puebla had been received, containing the advices of the capture of Pisaca and the Cathedral, but the city still was commanded by the forts Guadalupe and Loreto, but nothing is said to their opening fire on the French.

Puebla was filled with barricades. One-third of Puebla is claimed by the French to be in their possession as the result of the thirteen days fighting.

Arrested on the Charge of Treasonable Correspondence.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 29.—Dr. Dorsey, a resident of Indianapolis, and formerly of Maryland, was arrested to-day, charged with treasonable correspondence with the rebels, and sent to Louisville to be tried by court-martial.

Additional from the Anglo Saxon.

MONTREAL, April 29.—A dispatch from the mail officer of the steamer Anglo Saxon says that all the mails have been lost. Two hundred and thirty-seven but of four hundred and forty-five lives are supposed to have been lost.

From New York.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The royal mail steamer Arabia sailed for Europe with $13,000 in specie.
