Boon after ten o'clock, Saturday night; a man approached the house occupied by Mary Burks, and at the door he ensemtered James McKee, who had been married to this woman some years ago, and whe, although not general supervision over the brothel, and managed to resp the profits. The stranger preved to be a man named James Stapetton, who had been absent in California for the last ten years, and had just returned. He had known Mary Burks before he left the city, and it is said that they were then on terms of familiarity. He was also acquainted with McKee, but Burke before he left the city, and it is said that they were then on terms of familiarity. He was also acquainted with McKee, but when they met McKee failed to recognise him and he then told who he was. As soon as he made known his name he eaught McKee by the neck, and drew a revolver from his pocket. McKee, however, succeeded in quieting him a little, and he weat in and saidown. Mary Burke was not in the house at this time, but was cut talking with one of har neighbors.

There were two girls in the house, Fanny Benfield and Isabella Kelly, together with three men named Edward Murray, Morgan Hopkins and William Williams. Stapelton three men named Edward Murray, Horgan Hopkins and William Williams. Stapelton approached Fanny. Benfield, and asked her if she was engaged for the evaning, and she re-plied that she was. He then accepted Irabella Kelly, with a similar question. She gave an evasive answer, and he sat down beated har, remarking that he wanted to talk with her. McKee stood leaning against the fire-place, and while Stapelton was talking to Miss Kelly she observed that he had taken his revolly she observed that he had taken his revol-ver again from his pocket, and told him that she did not want to talk to a man who han-died a pistol. He put it back into his pocket, but the girl was still afraid of him, and in order to get away she remarked that she wanted to get a drink of water—saying which she took a cup or tumbler and passed out into the street, as if to draw water from a hydrant. She want directly to where Many Burke was, and told her about the man with the revolver, and told her about the man with the revolver, and what had passed between him and her husband, McKee.

After the girl left Stapetton, he lay down upon a bench, and was in that position when Mary Burke entared. Mary was a woman of undaunted courage, and of vary muscular frams, and had sustained herself "creditably" in many a row. She was a rough customer in a fight, and was not easily intimidated by sither knives or pistois. She entared the room and asked: "Where is that shooting man." He was pointed out to her, when she inmediand asked: "Where is that shooting man."
He was pointed out to her, when she famedially by the hand. The hand-shahing seemed to be mutually agreeable, but Stapleton soon after said: "I suppose you're the same old be you always were." She thought he was joking and laughing replied: "Yee; and I suppose you're the same old the move stop. The murderer fied immediately, and the news of the shooting created a great deal of excitoment. Dr. Hopper was called to wait upon the unfortunate woman, and found her lying in a pool of blood. He was not long in discovering, however, that her case was ut-terty hopeless; as her life was fast ebbing away. She retained her consciousness, but was not able to converse much. She was

She ramined him that he was her lawful husband, and saked him to his her before she died, which request was compiled with.

The polloe started in pursuit of Stapleton as soon as they heard of the shooting, and they succeeded in finding him at the boarding house of Mrs. Dougharty, on Grant sirreding house of Mrs. Dougharty on Grant sirreding house of

The Raid into West Virginia. We have nothing definite or satisfact rom the seene of operations in West Virginia The Wheeling Intelligencer, of Saturday, con ains the latest from that quarter. It says:

Takes the latest from that quarter. It says:

There seems good reason to believe that the rebels have a very considerable force, under Imboden and Jackson, threstening Clarkshurg from the direction of Weston. All reports yesterday peinted that way. The probability is that their main strength is in that direction, and is held in reserve for the big end of the work yet to be attempted.

The "situation" last evaning was generally understood to be this: That Jones had gotten his forces as far as Bridgeport on the Northwestern Virginia Read, which is seventeen miles from Grafton and about five from Clarksburg; that he was there attempting to form a junction with Imboden and Jackson, preparatory to a combined attack on Clarksburg. The aggregate strength of the rebel commanders is variously estimated at ten or fifteen thousand. Undoubtedly it is much larger than heretofore reported. The slow and stubborn way in which they move indicates that fact it was no report of what was done after the encounter at Shinston. Our forces, it is thought, fell back to Clarksburg in apprehension of the rebels in their pear.

IMPORTANT DECISION. The following question was recently subtted to the Interior Revenue Office from bankers in New York: First-When gold coin or gold dust is consigned to the United States for sale, and drawn again by reason of payment of said drafts, the owner becomes in Indiana, and Kellogg of Michigan, and a our debt to an amount not over the par value, poem was read by Col. Jameson. It was one and some remains unpaid for 10, 20 or 30 days by delay of the conversion or of the sales of the gold dust or coin. What is the stamp? The answer is as follows:

The act of March 3d, 1863, defines how ansactions in gold and silver coin and bullion may be carried on, declares all contracts, cans or sales not made in accordance therewith to be void, and affixes certain penalties mental requirement is that they shall be settled in three days. In the cases put by you the settlement is postponed for 10, 20 or 30 days, in so far as the first is understood. It appears to me that this drawing against the gold alleged to be consigned for sales taken n connection with the assumed delay of commission or of sales for 10, 20 or 30 days, thanges the transaction from a simple hanges the transsource, practically into a out from behind his detenses and give isle, as at first assumed, practically into a out from behind his detenses and give isle on our own ground, where certain destruction awaits him. BBADBUBY B NEW SOALE PIANO FORTE.

In the arrangement of our new scale, drawn and prepared with the utmost care, expressly for car new instruments, we have added every improvement which can in any way tend to the perfaction of the Piano-Forte, and we can confidently assert that, for delicacy of touch, volume, purity, brilliancy and sevenines of tone, combined with that strength and solidity of frame necessary to durability, these furstruments are unequalitied.

"TREMOTE ARD BRAUTY" is our motivated and we invite the closest criticis of the best unbiased independent in the land.

"TREMOTE ARD BRAUTY" IS OUR MOTIVATION OF THE SEASON.
