Mr. and Mrs. Stratton, who are now travaling through this country to let people see how small they are, stopped at the Jones House, in Harrisburg, on their recent visit. Their levess were densely througed, and hundreds failed to gain admittance. Among those whe was disappointed were several staid gentleman belonging to the hotel, who prevailed upon the agent to conduct them to Tom's room, after the serning lavies was ever. Followed by a crowd of spectacled and reputable gentleman, the agent proceeded to the chamber, knocked at the door, and was summoused to "come in." But when the door opened, there stood Tom in his unmentionables, while Mrs. Thumb was invisible, She had just retired, taking refuge among the cambrie raffles of a linen pillow slip, after repeating her tiny prayer, doubtless, of "Now I say me down to siesp all wrapped up into a little heap." But the General stood defant, with boots in hand, his brow gathered into a frown at the intrusion, which no explanation of the agent could dispel. Nothing was left but retreat. The crowd of curious genilemen returned to the office of the hotel, satisfied that they had attempted to see, even M they how small they are, stopped at the Jones

Yesterday, an ardent admirer of Vallan digham, and one who giories in the epithet of "connerhead," undertook to denounce, on the public street, the arrest of that notorious traitor. An excited crowd collected about the "aymachiser," and when they heard the burden of his complaint they soon gave him to; understand that any man who apologized for Vallandigham was no better than he, and deserved to be treated as a traitor. Several gentlemen became so excited that they cried out "knock him down," "choke him," etc. An attempt was made to collar the sympa-thises, but through the interfarence of a friend he was conducted to a place of safety, and scaped any violence which might have been intended. We cannot justify a resort to meb violence under any circumstances, but the man who undertakes to denounce the Government for stopping the mouth of a blatant traito ilike Vallandigham, provokes a platant traitor may expect to be knocked down, which is now the temper of this loyal community.

pecial Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazatte PHILADELPHIA, May 6.—The New York Times, of to-day, gives an additional account of the battles in Eastern Virginia, but has n new particulars. In speaking of the capture of Fredericks burg, it says: Among the prisoners taken are the 16th and 18th Mississippi, of Barksdale's brigade, who have usually defended the river passages during the past winter. There is also a whole company of the famous Washington artillery of New Orleans, and a more aristocratic and intelligent lot of Southern chivalry I have never seen. The officers are: different Union sources, though losing enor-Capt. Squires, Lieut. Galbreath, and Lieut. mously in killed and wounded, as the Rich-Edward Owen, formerly of Cincinnati. A mond papers admit. This rebel dispatch says fine looking young man introduced himself to that on Saturday Lie drove Hooker out of the me as-private Morgan E. Harris, formerly of Cincinnati, and desired that his friends should know where he was. Most of them appeared much chagrised at their capture, and said it was the first misfortune of the kind. Four c heir guns were taken; also two of Alexinder's battery. These were all the guns aptured I believe.

The Philadelphia Inquirer save Fredericks arg has been reoccupied by the rebels. The neights below are jointly eccupied by Union and rebel troops. A pertion of them occupied on Sunday morning were retaken, after a desperate resistance, by fresh reinforcements from Longstreet's Corps, and an enfilading fire was ommenced on portions of the other redoubt eccupied by our troops, which was, however, rompily checked by the expulsion of the bels from the entrenchments taken.

With reference to the recompation of Fredricksburg by the rabels it argues that the evement on their part was in accordance with Hooker's plan, and that they would sither be bagged therein or make a precipitate retreat into the jaws of death at the hands of erty, and all the railroad bridges within five he Pederals, and consequently the loss of redericksburg should not be regarded as a werse to the Federal arms.

It is stated that everything is in readiness or an immediate removal of stores, &c., from iquia Creek, if, by any possible chance, the fortunes of war should turn against us, and rebels. It further says that the number of heavy. ebel prisoners, already taken, is upwards of

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, of today, says: No dispatches for the press have seen sent from Washington by telegraph today, but we knew of a private dispatch, recoived at noon to-day, from a perfectly trustworthy source, the tenor of which is as follows: The authorities at Washington are perfectly confident of Gen. The Government is disputching steamers from St. Louis with troops and supplies, to the posts on the Upper Missouri, for the expedition sgainst the Indians under Gen. Pope. Gen. Pope himself has already gone forward to Sioux City, where, it is said $,000 or 10,000 troops are to rendexyous for the expedition. With such a force as this, under a commander possessed of so ther-ough an acquaintance with the Plains as Gen. Pope, the hostile tribes of the Far West ought to be completely crushed out and rendered incapable of further hostil
