TO CAPITALISTS AND MILLERS ... THE ... PEARL STEAM FLOURING MILL ... FOR SALE.

The owners of the "PEARL STEAM MILL," being actively engaged in other pursuits, and desiring to have a division of their interests, offer for sale the large and valuable establishment, on terms that must prove advantageous to any party wishing to engage in the milling business.

To persons residing in the vicinity a particular description of the property may be unnecessary, as the Mill is in full and successful operation by the present proprietors, H. T. ARNOLD & BROTHER, and open to the examination of any who may desire to look through it. For information of parties at a distance, a brief description is here given:

SITE.

The Mill occupies a small square of ground in the City of Allegheny, at the corner of Locust and Sandusky streets, which bound two sides of the lot, and one. The Pennsylvania Canal forms its northern and west'n boundary, running at the mill and receiving its supply of water from the Juniata; parts where it empties into the Allegheny river. It is thus completely flanked and protected from fire risk from the surrounding property, for streets on the south and east fifty feet wide; the canal on the north ten rods width, while on the west there is a basin about 100 feet square. Just across the Pennsylvania Canal, about 75 feet from the north end of the mill, runs the track of the consolidated Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago and Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railways.

A bridge across the canal, recently rebuilt, brings the Mill into easy communication with those roads, and makes the receiving of grain from them convenient and cheap.

THE MILL

Is substantially built of brick, and roofed with slate. It is 137½ feet long, 55 feet wide, five stories high, and a sixteen foot gamrel, making six floors accessible for use. It was completed in the spring of 1858. There is ten pairs of stone and five complete bolting chests. The machinery for cleansing and preparing the wheat, is the best in the market that can be procured. The capacity of the Mill may be fairly set down at 350 barrels per day. As many as 1,200 Barrels per day have been made, but under ordinary circumstances 350 only could be relied upon as an average product.

THE STOREHOUSE

Was added to the Mill shortly after it got into full operation, when the necessity for increased room for storing Wheat, Flour and Barrels became apparent. It is 65 feet long, substantially built, like the Mill, and roofed with slate. It adjoins the Mill, and with it forms the letter L, the base resting on the canal or hoth'side.

THE SOURCES OF SUPPLIES

Of Wheat are by the Ohio River, from Southern Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Kentucky, and also, in time of peace from Tennessee and Northern Mississippi; by the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago and Cleveland & Pittsburgh Railways from the West and easy access to the greatest grain market in the world, CHICAGO—as well as to an immense growing Country in the valley of Illinois, of Northern and Central Ohio and Indiana. During the low stage of water in the Ohio river, in the months of July and August, supplies of Wheat are obtained from Southern Ohio and Kentucky by rail.

The Pittsburgh & Steubenville Railway, now nearly completed, will afford an additional source of supply.

A market for the product of the Mill in the eastern cities is reached by the Pennsylvania Railroad, while all around it is a manufacturing and commercial district, requiring large quantities of Flour and Meal.

For further particulars and for terms apply to any of the undersigned. ... JNO. T. LOGAN, ... WM. LARIMER, ... WILLIAM BAGALEY. ... Pittsburgh, April 1863. ... ap9:tf

WM. B. BRADBURY'S ... PIANO-FORTE ESTABLISHMENT, ... No. 427 BROOME STREET, N. Y. ... The subscriber respectfully invites the attention of the friends and the public generally to his Piano-Forte Establishment, at No. 427 Broome street, corner of Crosby street. ... Having withdrawn his interest, stock and materials from the late firm of "Lighte & Bradbury," which firm was dissolved on the 31st January ult., and having purchased the entire stock of Piano-Fortes and Piano-Forte material owned by his brother, Edward G. Bradbury, in the said firm, he is now prepared to supply the increased demand for his celebrated Piano Fortes. Employing the most skillful and experienced workmen, with a large stock of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material, and an abundance of capital, he has taken in hand the personal supervision of the whole business of manufacturing his instruments, and is enabled to turn out Piano-Fortes of unequalled tone and durability. ... BRADBURY'S NEW ROLLER PIANO-FORTE. ... In the arrangement of our new scale, drawn and prepared with the utmost care, expressly for our new instruments, we have added every improvement which can in any way tend to the perfection of the Piano-Forte, and we can confidently assert that, for delicacy of touch, volume, purity, brilliancy and sweetness of tone, combined with that strength and solidity of frame necessary to durability, these instruments are unequalled. ... "STRENGTH AND BEAUTY" is our motto, and we invite the closest criticism of the best unbiassed judges in the land. ... Every Instrument warranted for five years. ... WM. B. Confidence in Gen. Hooker.

Of course there are many—embracing most of those who, as partisans, are disaffected towards the administration—who curse and grumble at Gen. HOOKER for his return to the north bank of the Rappahannock; but it is of little consequence what such people say, so long as he has the confidence of the army and of the administration. The following extract from a letter of a Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette takes a calm and hopeful view of this important question:

1. The President, who went down to the army sorely disappointed, almost broken down indeed, has returned with the best of spirits, and with unabated confidence in Hooker. He does not say that all of Hooker's operations were entirely free from error, but he does praise his Generalship, and he is entirely satisfied still to trust the army in his hands. This I assert, not as rumor, but as a fact I know.

2. With equal certainty I add that the most eminent Cabinet ministers regard the initial failure of last week as offering no reason for losing faith in Hooker.

3. Less important, but still not without significance, is Halleck's opinion. He, too, don't seem disappointed and returned satisfied. He says that, if General HOOKER committed any mistake at all, it was in being lenient with those who had been an undue care for his army, into recrossing the river when it was not absolutely necessary. Further than that, he said there was no error whatever.

4. It is accepted on all hands that the original plan was unexceptionable, and that the execution of at least half of it displayed consummate generalship.

5. And it is just as universally accepted that equal generalship was displayed in the masterly retreat. If Hooker qualled and wilted in what Kinglake would call "the crisis of the adventure," he showed no signs of it in managing the retreat that followed hard afterward.

With these facts I take it, the people, like the Government, will not be unwilling to trust Hooker still further. It were folly to expect great Generals never to be worsted; it is from such reverses that Generals really great will pluck occasion to show that elasticity of resource that meets and overbears the crisis.

For the rest, we staff not have long to wait. I have the best authority for saying that orders were issued to lay down the pontoons for once more crossing the river last Thursday night. The heavy rains of Thursday and Friday undoubtedly wrought some delay. The weather again appears settled, and (if it is not already) the army soon must be in motion.

Touching Bottom.

Among other surprising facts brought out by the raids of Stoneman in Virginia and Grierson in Mississippi is the circumstance that few able-bodied men could be found, unconnected with the rebel army, during either of these extensive excursions. Gen. Stoneman visited ten counties during his dashing nine days, and Gen. Grierson appears to have secured Mississippi almost from one end to the other. Gen. Grant's dispatch describes Grierson's force as having gone, almost unmolested, from Ripley and Houston, in which he was born, to Okolona and other places towards the east, to Enterprise, in the east again, after visiting various points in the west, then to the Natchez road, and finally in the direction of Baton Rouge.

The entire State appears to have been thoroughly ridden over by only about one thousand men, and this when there is a considerable force of Confederate troops in the neighborhood. ... Mississippi, and no region where fighting men were formerly more plenty. Even the rebel journals are filled with mortification, openly expressed, at the daring of these "Yankee" troopers, and the Jackson Appeal thinks they can go where they please and do what they please, as they are in no danger of "meeting a Confederate force which will capture them."

If thus it is found that both in the East and Southwest rebel fighting men are growing so scarce, we may feel assured that no more great armies can be placed in the field after those now in the field are destroyed, and there is encouragement in the thought that such a consummation cannot be much further delayed.

REBEL HOPES.—The Chattanooga Rebel says:

What do we hope for? Do you ask? Not for peace more than revenge upon a ruthless, heartless, cruel enemy. We hope, and hope in earnest, for it is long enough, if no longer, to see our cavalry swooping through every city, village and hamlet of the Yankees. To see their women begging protection as ours have pleaded with tearful eyes to fiends in Yankee uniforms. To be protected from their brutal soldiery. To see the plows torn from the hands of their farmers and broken to pieces—their fences laid waste and their homes in flames, &c., &c.

A TELEGRAPHIC ITEM from Lisbon to England, arrived by a recent steamer, shows that the Brazilian Government does not easily forget the insolent, uncalled for and unjust treatment of Mr. Christie, the late British Minister Rio de Janeiro. When about returning to England, Mr. Christie, as is customary at the various Courts of the World, desired a farewell audience with the emperor. The latter promptly and justifiably declined to receive a man who had been only a mischief-maker, but who seems to be so entirely wanting in the character of a gentleman that the better portion of the English press style him "a bully."

A LETTER from Fortress Monroe, in the Providence Journal, dated May 7, says "the most important movements are on foot now, and when completed will be of the most vital importance to the Army of the Potomac in defeating and crushing the rebel hosts. What these movements are is not for the public to know at present, as on their secrecy your success depends. But the plan is deep laid and well conned over, and cannot well fail."

A CORRESPONDENCE is published between Mr. Adams and Lord Russell, concerning the alleged attempts of Union agents to enlist Irishmen for the service of the United States. The only thing that could be substantiated was, that thousands of able-bodied young Irishmen were hastening to the United States, in order to avail themselves of the offered bounty.

A CONSPIRACY to supply the rebels with wagons and get cotton in return, via Matamoras, has just been discovered at Columbus, Ohio. Some of the parties, who had gone to New York to complete their preparations, have been arrested.

IN France, an important machine for cotton-spinning has been invented, which, it was thought, would considerably alleviate the existing distress.

GEN. HASCALL has warned the publishers of Copperhead newspapers in Indiana, that they must apologise for their recent virulent articles, and be careful for the future unless they wish to be arrested, and to have their sheets suppressed.

THE receipts of grain at Buffalo on Sunday and Monday were 2,180,000 bushels, the largest amount ever received in an equal time.

GENERAL ORDERS No. 105. ... WAR DEPARTMENT, ... ADJUTANT GENERAL'S OFFICE, ... Washington, April 22, 1863. ... The organization of an Invalid Corps is hereby authorized. ... This Corps shall consist of Companies, and if it shall hereafter be thought best, of Battalions. ... The Companies shall be made up from the following sources, viz: ... First. By taking those officers and enlisted men of commands now in the field (whether actually present or temporarily absent), who, from wounds received in action or disease contracted in the line of duty, are unfit for field service, but are still capable of effective garrison duty, or such other light duty as may be required of an Invalid Corps. Regimental Commanders shall at once make out, from information received from their Medical men, Company Officers, and from their own knowledge, rolls (according to the Form furnished,) of the names of all the officers and enlisted men under their commands who fulfill the following conditions, viz:

1. That they are unfit for active field service on account of wounds or disease contracted in the line of duty; this fact being certified by a Medical Officer in the service, after personal examination.

2. That they are fit for garrison duty; this fact being likewise certified by the Medical Officer, as above, after personal examination.

3. That they are, in the opinion of their Commanding Officers, meritorious and deserving.

These rolls shall be certified by the Examining Surgeon and Regimental Commander, and transmitted, through the regular channels of military correspondence, to the Provost Marshal General of the United States.

The Regimental Commander shall enter in the column of remarks, opposite each officer's name on the roll, a statement as to the general character of the officer for intelligence, industry, sobriety and attention to duty; and all intermediate Commanders shall endorse thereon such facts as they may possess in the case, or if they have none, they shall state how far they are willing to endorse the opinion of the officer or officers making the recommendation. These rolls shall be forwarded from time to time, whenever the number of men in filling the conditions enumerated or the exigencies of the service may render it expedient.

Second. By taking those officers and enlisted men still in service and borne on the rolls, but who are absent from duty, in Hospitals or Convalescent Camps, or otherwise under the control of Medical Officers. In these cases the Medical Officer in attendance shall prepare the rolls according to Form, entering the names of officers and men from the same regiment on a roll by themselves, and send them, with the certificate of the Surgeon, duly signed by him, to the proper Regimental Commander, who will forward them, as heretofore specified, subject to the same conditions and requirements. If in any case, the Regimental Commander shall think an officer unfit, in point of character, to continue in the service of the Invalid Corps, though disabled and certified by the surgeon, he will state his objection in the column of remarks, and note the fact upon the roll, signing the certificate. If any officer or enlisted man now in the service, but absent and beyond the reach of a Medical Officer in charge of a depot of convalescents, desires to enter the Corps, he will take the course indicated below for those who have been honorably discharged for wounds or disease contracted in the line of duty.

Third. By accepting those officers and enlisted men who have been honorably discharged on account of wounds or disease contracted in the line of duty, and who desire to re-enter the service. In the case of an officer, application for appointment must be made to the Provost Marshal General of the United States through the officer detailed as Acting Assistant Provost Marshal General of the State. No application of this kind will be considered unless the following conditions are completely fulfilled:

1. That the applicant produce the certificate of the Surgeon of the Board of Enrollment for the district in which he resides, that he is unfit for active field duty on account of wounds or disease, and is not liable to draft, but is fit for garrison duty.

2. That he furnish evidence of honorable discharge on account of wounds or disability contracted in the line of duty.

3. That he produce recommendations from the Regimental, Brigade and Division Commanders under whom he formerly served, that he is worthy of being the provided for and capable of returning to active service in the Government. In case it shall be impracticable to get this last evidence, he may, having established the first two points above, satisfy the Board of Enrollment that he is deserving and present his case for the action of the Provost Marshal. It will be obtained by the applicant, and must be transmitted with his application for appointment.

If there be no acting Assistant Provost Marshal General for the State, the application must be forwarded through the Adjutant General of the State, who is desired to endorse thereon such facts in the military history of the applicant as he may know, or have on file, and to forward the same to the Provost Marshal General of the United States. ... Every officer honorably discharged on account of disability, by the finding of a retiring Board, and assisted men, honorably discharged on account of disability, by the finding of a Board of Enrollment that he is deserving and present his case for the action of the Provost Marshal General, will be obtained by the applicant, and must be transmitted with his application for appointment.

If there be no acting Assistant Provost Marshal General for the State, the application must be forwarded through the Adjutant General of the State, who is desired to endorse thereon such facts in the military history of the applicant as he may know, or have on file, and to forward the same to the Provost Marshal General of the United States.

Fourth. By enlisting from the ranks, and assisted men, honorably discharged on account of disability, during the present rebellion, who may have been refused admission into the Corps, will present themselves to the Board of Enrollment at the district in which they reside, for examination by the Surgeon thereof, who shall examine them and report the result to the Board of Enrollment.

The Board shall then consider each case, and if the applicant is found to fulfill the conditions specified below, the Board shall give him a certificate to that effect, viz:

1. That he is unfit for service in the field.

2. That he is fit for garrison duty.

3. That he is meritorious and deserving.

4. That he was honorably discharged from the service.

The Provost Marshal for the District shall then send the application, with the certificate of the Board, to the Acting Assistant Provost Marshal General of the State, who shall procure such evidence of service and character as the records of the Department to which he belonged, on file at the Headquarters of the State, may
