The Meeting Last Night—Interesting Addresses.

Notwithstanding the limited notice given, Lafayette Hall was filled, last evening, by an earnest and intelligent audience, to listen to the address of Isaac Hazlehurst, Esq., of Philadelphia, upon the Constitution. At the hour designated, and without the formality of an organization, Gen. Moorhead stepped forward and introduced Mr. Hazlehurst, who was received with a hearty round of applause. The speaker then proceeded to read his essay, which, although occupying perhaps an hour, was listened to with deep interest and close attention. It was a clear, logical and argumentative discourse, touching the nature, scope and powers of the Constitution; and it was delivered in a calm, dignified and dispassionate manner. There were many forcible and eloquent passages, which elicited enthusiastic applause, and which we would like to reproduce, but as each particular phrase and sentence went to make up a connected whole, it becomes difficult, if not impossible, to make a synopsis which would do justice to the speaker and at the same time interest the reader.

At the conclusion of Mr. Hazlehurst's address, cries were heard for "Blair!" "Blair!" which threw the audience into a tumult of excitement.

General Moorhead arose and remarked that inasmuch as the audience had been so highly entertained by a "man of law," it might be agreeable to them now to listen to a "man of letters," turning to the Hon. Montgomery Blair, Postmaster General. The General's pun was fully appreciated by the audience, and caused no little mirth. After hastily endorsing the loyalty of Mr. Blair, he introduced him to the audience to speak for himself.

Mr. Blair began by alluding to the marked prosperity of the city of Pittsburgh, and was rejoiced to see so many of his fellow citizens assembled together, as it indicated that they were alive to the interests of the country, and ready to hold up and strengthen the hands of those who administered the government. In speaking of the administration, he stated that it had its faults, for the reason that it was human to err. It could not be otherwise. But he apprehended that no one present doubted the sincerity or the loyalty of Abraham Lincoln. (Loud applause.) He was on the right side of this controversy, let it terminate how it might. He was not only sincere and a patriot, but he had exhibited great wisdom and comprehension in managing the affairs of his administration. (Applause.) Mr. Blair then dealt some very hard blows at the Southern traitors and conspirators, and was particularly severe on the peace croakers of the North, and the accursed "institution" of slavery. He made some very humorous allusions to his efforts as counsel in the Dred Scott case, and described the manner in which Scott and Dred were kicked out of Court as unceremoniously as though they had both been black. He continued to speak for half an hour, in a very happy vein, and concluded by urging the people to stand firmly together in this struggle until the end. He closed amid marked applause.

Gen. Cameron was next introduced to the meeting, and delivered a neat address. He dwelt mainly upon the ability of the people to maintain a long war, and administered a severe rebuke to those who creaked about heavy taxation. He contrasted the financial condition of this government with that of England, and argued that the resources of the country would enable it promptly to meet the interest upon the war debt, although it were increased tenfold. He never believed that the war would soon be ended, and significantly added "it is not over yet." Nevertheless, said he, the ability of all classes to contribute to the support of the government, that the war debt, however great it might become, could be wiped out before our children would leave the stage of action. He alluded to the proud record of Pennsylvania, in putting 125,000 men in the field, in defense of the Union, and stated that she would freely contribute another hundred thousand if necessary. He spoke in fitting terms of the noble deeds which our brave men had performed, and closed to say that the gloriously-contested war would share in any of our old Commonwealth's sacrifices rather than the rebellion should succeed. His speech was well received and heartily applauded.

The meeting then adjourned, when many citizens crowded upon the platform to exchange civilities with the distinguished speakers.

Col. Bayne's Regiment—Preparations for their Reception.

It will be noticed by the following letter to the Mayor that a number of our patriotic citizens are desirous of giving to the 136th a warm and hearty reception, and we hope that all who can will turn out on the occasion:

PITTSBURGH, May 19, 1863.

Hon. B. C. Sawyer, Mayor, &c.:

SIR: The undersigned citizens of Pittsburgh and vicinity respectfully suggest the propriety of calling a meeting, at such time and place as you may direct, to devise measures for extending a suitable public welcome to the 136th Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers, under command of Col. T. M. Bayne, on their return to our city. Over two hundred and fifty of these brave men have volunteered to return to the field again. They have borne our flag on the new historic fields of Antietam, Fredericksburg and Chancellorsville, and our people are anxious to unite in according them the honors due to the soldiers of the Republic.

We have the honor to subscribe ourselves your obedient servants,

P. C. Shannon,	Robert J. McGowan,
J. H. Sewell,	B. C. Sawyer, Sen.,
Thomas Williams,	W. S. Lane,
Henry A. Weaver,	James M. Cooper,
S. F. Von Bonhorst,	James Eitell,
J. K. Morange,	David Hunn,
John W. Riddell,	A. G. Mcfaddens,
C. ——Batchelor,	J. F. Jennings,
E. B. Carnahan,	William Little,
David W. Bell,	Hiram Hults,
George Wilson,	John P. Glass,
John L. Boyd,	William Hadfield,
E. S. Dorrie,	S. Schuyer, Jr.,
Will M. Hartzell,	Samuel Riddle,
Thomas Steel,	Thomas Howard,
William Boggs,	Nard E. Vols.

The Mayor's reply:

MAYOR'S OFFICE, PITTSBURGH, May 22d, 1863.—My fellow citizens will meet at the Board of Trade Rooms this afternoon at two o'clock, to perfect measures for the proper reception of this brave and gallant regiment—136th Pennsylvania Volunteers, Col. Bayne—as solicited by the above call.

B. C. SAWYER, JR., Mayor.

U. S. MARSHAL'S SALE.—The United States Marshal has levied upon 544 shares of the capital stock of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne & Chicago Railroad Co., and also 10,000 shares of the capital stock of the Pittsburgh & Steubenville Railroad Co., as the property of the city of Pittsburgh, at the suit of Lewis Martin, and will sell the same on Friday, the 29th inst., at ten o'clock.

SOIREE MUSICALE.—A musical entertainment will be given this evening, at Masonic Hall, by the pupils of Prof. J. T. Wesendick. The doors will be open at a quarter past seven o'clock; to commence at eight.

Mahoning and French Creek Railroad Company.

We call attention to the opening of the books for this company at the Merchants' Exchange to-morrow (Saturday.) There are now being contracted three branch roads from the northward extending into the oil region and to Franklin, which must deprive our city of much of its most profitable trade unless we succeed in making a railroad to meet them; and it behooves every man who has business connections in the northwestern counties of the State, to aid in the present project.

It is believed the transportation of oil alone, would warrant the construction of the road, but in addition to this, there will be a heavy traffic in the Lake Superior and Canada iron ores which will seek the furnaces in Clarion county and in Pittsburgh manufactures destined for Western New York. The passenger travel must necessarily be large, owing to the great numbers engaged in the oil and lumber business, and who will find this to be the most available route.

COL. CLARK'S LECTURE.—Our city readers should not neglect to attend the meeting at Lafayette Hall, this evening when, by request of a number of citizens, Col. Clark will deliver an address relative to the nine months campaign. The popularity of the speaker, and the interest which the public naturally feel in the subject, will doubtless attract a large audience.

EXTRACTION OF CORNS AND BUNIONS.—Various circumstances have delayed the departure of Dr. Rendall, the successful operator on corns and bunions, but the principal one of these is the great demand for his services, which his peculiar system of treatment has caused; but he argues those persons who intend to honor him with a call, that other engagements will preclude the possibility of his remaining in the city longer than the present week.

The testimonials that have been published from time to time in our paper, from well known citizens, who were previously lame for years from corns and bunions, are of themselves sufficient to prove the efficacy with which he operates. Selected from them are the following:

Messrs. Phillips, Esq., of the Select Council, and F. Boyle, Esq., Pittsburgh, April 18, 1863.—We certify that Dr. Rendall has operated on our feet, removing corns therefrom, doing so without pain and entirely to our satisfaction.

[Signed] W. PHILLIPS.
F. BOYLE.

Dr. Rendall has this day removed eight corns from my feet. The operation was a painless one, and the result is such that I advise those troubled with Corns and Bunions to give the Doctor a call.

OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

PHILADELPHIA, May 21, 1863.

PREPARATIONS FOR THE DRAFT.

Orders have been issued from the Provost Marshal General's Office to be prepared for making a draft immediately on the completion of the enrollment. The hope is now expressed that the draft may be made before the first of July.

PROTECTION FOR NEGRO SOLDIERS.

The President has been so much engrossed as to be unable yet to give formal audience to the committee from the negro meeting, praying for suitable protection for negro soldiers against the treatment threatened in the rebel proclamations and sanctioned in the rebel Congress. It is not believed, however, that the interests of justice are likely to suffer in his hands.

Prominent members of the administration give assurances of Mr. Lincoln's fixed intentions to resort to the sternest retaliatory policy to compel an equal security for negro prisoners in rebel hands with that of our white soldiers.

WITHOUT AN APPROPRIATION.

The administration has received notice that the State authorities of Indiana may be compelled to appeal to it for funds to carry on the State Government, the late copperhead legislature having left them without an appropriation. The answer, understood to have been given, is that, in the present crisis, any interruption or embarrassment of the duties of State officers would be regarded as a calamity to be prevented at any expense or hazard.

A SENTENCE COMMUTED.

An order of the War Department has just been issued containing the following:

By direction, the sentence published against Sergeant Charles Braffit, of the 5th Ohio cavalry, in General Orders No. 70, from Headquarters of the District of West Tennessee, is commuted from death by being shot to imprisonment for three months from this day.

DISMISSED THE SERVICE.

It having been shown by satisfactory evidence that Major Nathan Earlywine, of the 4th Indiana volunteers, (cavalry,) was guilty of converting to his own private use two mules belonging to the United States, the President directs that he shall and he is hereby dismissed the service.

REBEL FEAR FOR THE SAFETY OF VICKSBURG AND RICHMOND.

Greatly to the grief and rage of the rebel dome, the Richmond Whig, of yesterday, admits, in a leading article, the serious danger of Vicksburg now, and of Richmond, in case an attempt to capture it be made.

SENT TO THE COMMISSION.

The first instalment of $20,000 has been sent to the Commission now in session in Minnesota, to award the damages from the late Sioux War, to be paid in sums of not over $200 to any one sufferer.

THE RICHMOND PAPERS AND VALLANDIGHAM.

The Richmond papers are still exercised about the terrible violation of Vallandigham's constitutional rights.

THE ENGLISH VICE CONSUL.

At Richmond has been made Consul at Mobile. He is accredited to Lincoln—not Jeff Davis.

NATIONAL BANKS.

Senator Ben Eggleston, of Cincinnati, is here looking after national banks to be established in Cincinnati.

FROM MURFREESBORO.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

MURFREESBORO, May 21, 1863.

There are reports in circulation from information brought by scouts, and also from intimations in rebel papers, that our forces have been driven back from Jackson to Fort Gibson, and that the rebel forces under Johnston again possess the line of railroad between Jackson and Vicksburg. The rebel sheets fairly throb with exultation, recounting the movement of forces from all parts of the South to reinforce Johnston.

Another set of reports put an entirely different face upon matters. According to these Grant has beaten Johnston, and has taken possession of the railroad bridge over the Big Black river, the most important bridge in that section of the country, and entirely cutting off the rebels in Vicksburg from all communication with the Confederates.

I give both reports for what they are worth. Take your choice.

The Winchester Bulletin of the 15th declares that the tories and bushwhackers of Tennessee have formed an organization for running Confederates for various civil offices at the coming election. The organization is to take the name of the peace party.

In the dispatch announcing that Colonel Moody had been recommended for the regular army, the Post Chaplain says, that the names of Gens. Thomas and Negley were absurdly transformed into Gen. Thomas and nephew.

The weather is growing warmer.

Return of a New York Regiment—Divorce Granted.

WASHINGTON, May 21.—The Thirty-first New York Regiment will return to that city on Sunday from the Rappahannock. It was commanded by Col. Pratt, and had been in all the battles with the army of the Potomac, excepting Williamsburg and the second Bull Run, when Pratt was promoted a Brigadier General. The Adjutant, Frank Jones, was appointed Colonel, and it was he who led them in the late attack and capture of Mary's Heights at Fredericksburg. The regiment formerly numbered a thousand. It now numbers about three hundred privates.

The Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, to-day, pronounced the decree of a total divorce in the case of Gen. John M. Brannon against Eliza Brannon; granting him the guardianship of his own child. The material fact caused much excitement and interest five years ago, especially in New York. It appears Col. Wyman, with whom she eloped, was shot through the heart at the battle of Fair Oaks.

From Nashville.

NASHVILLE, May 21.—Maj. Gen. Schofield, transferred from this department to that of Missouri, leaves here to-morrow for St. Louis.

A number of rebel sympathisers were sent south to-day.

Several Federal officers, taken prisoners by the rebels, and exchanged, arrived here to-day. Among them are Col. Alexander, of the 21st Ill., Col. Swanvik, of the 22d Ill., and Lieut. W. Van Dorn, formerly of the gunboat Sidell.

OUR COUNTRY'S CALL.

BY JOHN PIERPONT.

AIR—"Tools Was Made," &c.

Men who plough your granite peaks,
O'er whose head your Eagle shrieks,
And for aye of Freedom speaks,
Hear your Country's call!

Swear, each loyal mother's son,
Swear—Our Country shall be One!
Seize your sword, or bring your gun,
Bayonet and ball!

For the land that bore you—Arm!
Shield the state you love from Harm!
Catch, and round you spread, the alarm;
Hear, and hold your breath!
Hark! the hostile horde is nigh!
See! the tyrant comes rousing by!
Hear and heed our battle cry—
"VICTORY OR DEATH!"

Sturdy landsmen, hearty thews,
Can you see your Stripes and Stars
Flow all by the breeze, but bare,
And cold-blooded fear?
There the rebel host or flouts!
Tyrants, vaunt-loud, by your votes,
Spring, like bloodhounds, at your throats;
Let them bite your steel!

With no traitor at their head,
By no bribe-gift covered lad,
By no lure caught a bed,
While he dreams of flight;
By no "Young Napoleon,"
Kept at bay by wooden guns,
Shall our brothers and our sons
Be held back from fight!

Like a whirlwind in its course,
Shall our's a rebel force
Jackson's foot or Stuart's horse,
Pass our sleepy posts
Round, like rats, "to skin and eat,"
And our beggared let them go!
No! in thunder answer "No!"
By the Lord of Hosts!"

With the Lord of Hosts we fight!
For His Freedom, Love and Right—
Strike for home and hearthal-might
Shall with Victory crown
Loyal brows, alive or dead,
Grim and crawling Copperhead,
And, in bloody heels tread,
This rebellion down!

Talk of "Peace," in hours like this?
'Tis Lucar or's traitor kiss!
'Tis the Old Serpent's latest hiss!
Foil his foul intrigue!
Plant your heel his head upon!
Let him squirm! His reign is run!
Now to keep your Country one,
Join our Union Leagues!

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A COUGH, COLD, OR AN IRRITATED THROAT, if allowed to progress, results in serious Pulmonary and Bronchial affections, oftentimes incurable.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES reach directly the affected parts, and give almost instant relief. In BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, and CATARRH they are beneficial. The good effects resulting from the use of the Troches, and their extended use, has caused them to be counterfeited. Be sure to guard against worthless imitations. Obtain only the genuine Brown's Bronchial Troches, which have proved their efficacy by a test of many years. Public speakers and Singers should use the Troches. Military Officers and Soldiers who over-tax the voice and are exposed to sudden changes, should have them. Sold everywhere, at 25 cents per box.
