Judge Hampton

We publish below a letter signed by many members of the Pittsburgh Bar addressed to Hon. Judge Hampton, President Judge of the District Court of this county, requesting the use of his name for re-nomination for the position he now occupies, his official term having nearly expired, and the reply of Judge Hampton, thereto.

Judge H. has filled his responsible position with great fairness and ability, and the letter of the Bar, emanating, as it does, from professional gentlemen, who have been thrown into daily contact with him, conveys the highest compliment the Bar could give or the Bench receive:

PITTSBURGH, May 14, 1863.

GENTLEMEN:—Your letter, requesting the use of my name as re-nomination as a candidate for the office of President Judge of the District Court, has been received. Accept my thanks for the kind and complimentary terms in which your request is conveyed.

The approbation of my official conduct, by my brethren of the Bar, with whom I have been so long associated, is very gratifying to my feelings.

Next to the consciousness of having faithfully discharged his duty, the highest reward a public servant can receive is the approbation of those he has served.

The Judicial position is not to be sought, but if the people desire my acceptance of a renewal of my term of office, my name is at their service for renomination.

I am, very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
M. HAMPTON.

Union Rally in Plum Township.

The loyal citizens of Plum township and vicinity held a mass meeting at Plum Creek church, on Saturday, May 23d. Dr. Samuel Schreiner presided, assisted by George Sharp, Alexander McJunkin, Rev. Townsend, James McMath, and others, as Vice Presidents. James Armstrong and H. R. Tomer were chosen Secretaries. Able and eloquent addresses were made by Hon. John P. Penney, Hon. J. K. Moorhead, Revs. J. G. Spargrove and Townsend, and Dr. Schreiner.

The Committee on Resolutions consisted of John Alter, John Stewart, Thomas Armstrong, James McMath and James Gray. The following resolutions were adopted, and from their tenor, it can be easily perceived how high an appreciation the people of that portion of our county have of the peace measures of the croaking "copperheads:"

Resolved, That this unjust and wicked rebellion against the wise and beneficent government established by our patriotic ancestry, deserves the execration of the civilized world, and that it must and shall be put down.

Resolved, That we approve of every war measure designed to thwart, embarrass and defeat the traitors in arms, and that the freemen of Pennsylvania will stand by the General Government in its heroic efforts to establish the supremacy of the laws in the revolted States.

Resolved, That we despise and loath those base sympathizers with treason in our midst who, under the garb of a pretended devotion to "the Constitution as it is" are affording aid and comfort to its most deadly enemies.

Resolved, That the recent arrest, trial and conviction of that base conspirator in the North, C. L. Vallandigham, is matter of congratulation among loyal men, and we see in it new reason for confidence in the present administration.

A Correction.

Last week we noticed the burning of a load of hay, in Allegheny, belonging to Mr. R. H. Pearce, and, upon information received at the Mayor's office, we made use of the following language:

It is said that the hay was fired maliciously, and it is also as acted that during the evening Pearce got into a political discussion, and expressed the most violent copper-head sentiments. Some persons say that the fire was in consequence of the disloyal sentiments of the at-rend Pearce, but there is no positive information on the subject. The fire may have been accidental.

We have just received a note from Mr. Pearce, in which he complains that great injustice has been done him by representing him as having "uttered secession sentiments." He says "I have always given my country my warm support, and in this great and righteous war I am for my country at all times and in every place." Mr. Pearce then expresses the belief that the object of the incendiary was to "burn up the whole establishment," and not to destroy any particular load of hay.

The note from Mr. Pearce is accompanied with a certificate from Mr. L. B. McAboy, in which he states that Mr. P. has always been regarded as a fast friend of the policy and plans of the administration party; that he was last year Supervisor and this year acting School Director for this township, elected by the Republican party; and that among his neighbors, instead of being a copperhead, he is altogether the reverse."

The above correction is certainly due to Mr. Pearce, and we make it cheerfully.

The Pentecost.

The celebration of the Pentecost was commenced on last Sabbath, and continued on Monday. It is likewise recognized as the Shabuoth, or the sixth of Tebeth, 2433 on the second day of the Passover, the Omer or measure being arranged so as to mark the days until forty-nine have intervened, as it said in Leviticus, chap. xxiii, 15th and 16th verses: "And ye shall count unto you from the morrow after the Sabbath, from the day that ye brought the sheaf of the wall offering, seven Sabbaths shall be complete; even unto the morrow after the seventh Sabbath shall ye number fifty days; and ye shall offer a new meat offering unto the Lord." As the fiftieth day is celebrated the "Feast of Weeks," commemorative of the giving of the Ten Commandments, and of the events narrated in the Book of Ruth. Floral offerings and general rejoicings make the Jewish Synagogues localities of much interest and emolien on such an occasion.

NEW COUNTERFEIT.—We learn from the publishers of the National Bank Note Reporter, that a new imitated "five dollar" note on the Bank of Northumberland, Pa., is being circulated, viz: canal boat scene; cars and men loading hay on back ground; female portrait on each lower corner; 5 on each upper corner. The title of the bank is much heavier and blacker in counterfeit than in genuine. It is well engraved and calculated to deceive good judges. Better refuse all bills of that denomination on the bank unless satisfied they are genuine.

JULY WEATHER IN MAY.—It has been very truthfully remarked that the weather of the past ten days has been more like that of July than May. Now, when we should naturally expect a succession of spring showers, we are in the midst of a "dry spell" which, it is feared, has already done much injury to the farming interests.

FORESTALLING.—Isaac Lindsey, charged with buying eggs in the Allegheny market, for the purpose of selling them again, was taken before Mayor Alexander, and after a hearing was fined five dollars and costs.

ASSAULTS A WOMAN.—George Baker has been lodged in jail by Justice Shroeder, of Birmingham, to answer a charge of assault and battery preferred by Marie Bohm.

DUQUESNE STATION, PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD,
Pittsburgh, May 23, 1863.

Messrs. Hudson Henry, C. H. Duncan, Wm. H. Barker and others:

GENTLEMEN:—Your kind letter of the 22d inst., containing expressions of your kindly feeling towards me, as well as my invitation to partake of a supper, when it might suit my convenience, has just been received.

I regret that my immediate departure to the scene of my new duties will render it impossible for me to meet you on that occasion.

Permit me, however, to tender you my heartfelt thanks for this exhibition of your friendship and the assurance that I shall ever cherish it in keeping, as it is, with the courtesy and forbearance which have been extended to me in all our official and social relations.

Again, thanking you, and wishing you much happiness and success in all your undertakings, I subscribe myself,

Yours, very truly,
HENRY A. LAVELY.

THE 135TH REGIMENT.—We had an interview with Col. T. M. Bayne, to-day, and from him we learn that the 135th Regiment cannot reach this city before Saturday next, and it may not be until Monday. The men are all ready to be mustered in, but they have to wait and take their turn, as several other regiments are in ahead of them.

A MEMBER OF THE DAY FORCE CHARGED WITH TREASON.—Patrick Fender, a member of the Mayor's police, has been accused of uttering treasonable sentiments—drinking the health of Jeff. Davis and has been arrested and committed to jail by Alderman Gray.

RESISTING A PROCESS.—Joseph Heiser, of Reserve township, was fined three dollars and costs, by Mayor Alexander, for disorderly conduct, on oath of Andrew Arant. The prosecutor is a police officer, and served the attachment on the defendant, which threw him into a "fit," and caused him to act very indecorously.

LARCENY OF BONNETS AND HATS.—A man named John Campbell has been committed to jail by Justice Davison, of East Liberty, charged with the larceny of a box of bonnets and hats, valued at seven dollars. The name of the prosecutor does not appear upon the commitment.

PROMOTION.—Capt. James A. Lowrie, of this city, has been promoted to the position of Assistant Adjutant General, with the rank of Major, and assigned to duty on the Staff of Major Gen. Negley. He held the same position, with the rank of Captain, previous to Gen. Negley's promotion.

THE 134TH REGIMENT, Col. O'Brien, is expected to reach this city on Thursday or Friday, from Harrisburg. The time of their arrival will be more definitely announced hereafter.

HIS NAME.—Wm. Ewing is the name of the brakesman who was killed on the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad, on Saturday last, at Courtney's station.

PERSONAL.—Major F. Kennedy, son of R. T. Kennedy, Esq., and a member of General Negley's Staff, is now in the city on a visit to his friends.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[FROM OUR EVENING EDITION.]

FROM WASHINGTON.

Reception of the News from Vicksburg in the Potomac Army and Richmond.

ACCOUNT OF AFFAIRS IN REBELDOM, BY A RELEASED CORRESPONDENT.

Rebel Prices & Supplies.

&c., &c., &c.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON, May 25, 1863.

RECEPTION OF THE VICKSBURG NEWS IN THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Your correspondent with the army of the Potomac writes the following concerning the reception of the Vicksburg news in the army.

STONEMAN'S STATION, VA.,
Monday, May 25, 1863.

The glorious news from Vicksburg has completely electrified this army. The demand for Sunday papers, which contained the first particulars, was three times as great as the supply, and the carriers were hilarious and gleeful all the afternoon. In the evening, when intelligence of the final capture of the city became known, many signs of tumultuous joy occurred, and whole brigades turned out, even as late as ten o'clock, to give three rousing cheers for Grant and his splendid army. This news inspires and re-energizes our men to a wonderful degree, and completely wipes out any unpleasant effects of our recent failure, if any still existed.

THE RICHMOND PAPERS ON THE NEWS.

The Richmond papers of yesterday morning have been received here to-night. They lie vigorously in their effort to conceal their disasters at Vicksburg. Witness the following extracts from the Richmond Examiner, of the 23d:

"A telegram, dated Jackson, from the reporter of the Mobile Advertiser and Register, published in another column and received here yesterday morning. It was at first received without criticism, and believed and occasioned no little gloom, especially among the weak minded individuals of the community, but, when re-read, it was found that the dispatch wouldn't stand inspection, and in the course of the day the whole concern became pretty generally discredited. The Reporter tells of the battle of Sunday, and further on states, (which perhaps recently authentic information he gives) that Gen. Loring is in command at Jackson. That Loring is as Jackson, and had not informed the Department here, of this Sunday's battle, is pretty good proof that there was no such battle. It is to be presumed that he enjoys at least in an equal degree with the Reporter, facilities for acquiring and transmitting intelligence relative to the movements of our troops.

"Jackson and the surrounding country is in a high state of excitement and doubtless the theatre of countless rumors. But of these rumors the reporter has made his story. As to the statements of our tremendous loss of artillery, there may be something in it, though that also should be received with caution. To the further discredit of the dispatch, we may add that it was not believed in official circles, and that up to a late hour last night, no information had been received later than Gen. Johnston's dispatch of the 18th, which conveyed information that Gen. Pemberton had been attacked at Edward's Depot, and compelled to fall back behind the Big Black. We have authentic information that Gen. Pemberton, in anticipation of this movement of Grant upon Jackson, has for months past been removing the medical and commissary stores from that place to Vicksburg."

The Richmond Examiner, of the 23d, says:

"We infer that the Kentucky citizen was spirited on the retreat from Jackson, which still rests on very slight authority, and that Vicksburg has been besieged on land, has caused considerable sensation, but the imagination of the worthy public, on this as on very many other occasions, has far outrun the reality. Vicksburg has not fallen, and is not going to fall. It is not in so much danger as it has often been in before, and the Federal army struggling to complete the long siege, is in a very dangerous situation. The Confederate forces have undisputed possession of Jackson and the railroad. The Federal army is working between that point and Vicksburg, and Gen. Johnston is at the head of a rapidly increasing column, which will soon make a terrible apparition upon the scene of action. In the town of Vicksburg, provisions have been accumulated, which will last for months. The defences on the side of the land are ample. The conformation of the ground gives overwhelming advantage to our garrison in case of an assault.

"There is no reason whatever for despair about Vicksburg. It is a lucky point for the Confederacy. It has already cost the invaders many a thousand of men, many millions of dollars, and will cost twice as much more before many weeks are over. The crisis in the military situation around Vicksburg has long been impending, and will now soon be decided for this season. The division of our forces and some bad management of batteries commanding the river before the town, have lost us the first engagements. Both those engagements were far from being decisive, either of the fate of the town or of the campaign in the State. It is far more probable than otherwise that Gen. Johnston will be able to recover the ground lost by mistaken made by the military commander there. There is really no occasion for fears about Vicksburg, whatever may be the result of the military operations around it. The interest of these will be soon eclipsed by far greater events elsewhere. Within the next fortnight the campaign of 1863 will be pretty well decided. The most important movements of the war will probably be made in that time. If the Confederate standard is again victorious, as may be hoped with much solid reason, although mere victory will not end the war it will destroy the efficiency of the enemy's army for the rest of this year. If we gain all that is now fairly possible, an entirely new character will be given to our future operations, and will relieve the country of half the sufferings it has hitherto endured. Now is the noble day—the fortunate hour—for the Confederate army. At this time, if ever, let every man be at his post."

OFFICE OF PURVEYOR ABOLISHED.

A general order of Gen. Hooker abolishes the office of purveyor, and gives the furnishing of the entire supplies for officers' messes to sutlers, who must find their own transportation.

FISH RAVIOR.

Rebel deserters from Fredericksburg state that they are now supplied with a ration of fish, caught from the Rappahannock, instead of meat.

GEN. WRIGHT.

Brig. Gen. H. G. Wright, late commanding the Department of the Ohio, has assumed command of the Second Division Sixth Army Corps.

VICKSBURG.

We have no official confirmation of the capture of Vicksburg, but dispatches from Memphis state that on Friday Gen. Grant's right and left wings were within a mile and a half of the city, and the centre within a mile; that the place must fall the next day, Saturday.

PAYMENT OF TROOPS.

Warrants were passed at the Treasury to-day for the payment of all, as yet, unpaid troops, except Grant's and Rosecrans' armies. Grant's men will be paid as soon as they stop. All requisitions for soldiers' pay will probably be filled this week.

POLITICAL PRISONERS.

Commissioner Ould charges that our Government is arresting great numbers of political prisoners, contrary to agreement, and threatens severe treatment of prisoners in his hands in retaliation.

REBELS GLOOMY.

The rebels feel gloomy about the news from the west. Passengers by the last boat from City Point, say the report them current in Richmond of the fall of Vicksburg, was producing intense consternation.

THE WORLD'S CORRESPONDENT—HIS ACCOUNT OF MATTERS.

On Friday Mr. Colburn, of the World, was released on the usual parole, and before leaving had the freedom of the city. He found it quite gay, and with far less military display than in Washington. The same scarcity of able bodied men was not noticed there as throughout the country. The streets were filled with fashionable promenaders elegantly dressed, but in two year old fashions. Few or no drunken people were seen, and no drunken soldiers.

The rebels were altering a tag in the canal, apparently with a view of arming her.

The suburbs of the city contain a large number of comfortable hospitals, where their wounded seemed to be well cared for.

I was in the Capitol, which retains the usual dingy appearance, but Congress had taken a recess.

Ordinary blocks of stone lay around the park, used for Department buildings. In spite of the ravages of war, the city still looks charmingly, and little general distress is apparent. The style of living among all classes is remarkably fast, and money flows with the most reckless extravagance.

The "French lady," Yavoja, was there and quite a number of foreigners, particularly Highlanders, are seen on the streets.

The rebels are still lamenting the death of Jackson. They asserted that Lee was the greatest of living Generals, and spoke highly of their confidence in Joe Johnston.

Van Dorn's staff had published a card denying that domestic difficulties in Dr. Peters' family had, anything to do with what they call the extermination of their General.

The fight between Bragg and Breckinridge is still progressing, and seemed to excite but little attention.

No complaints are made against the conscription law and all spoke as if every man in the south regarded himself as a soldier. Virtually, however, the conscription law is done with, as it has already drawn into the army their whole available strength.

The hope of foreign recognition seems to be abandoned; but all parties were confident of final success. They were wonderfully jubilant over Chancellorville, and had no fear about future movements on the Rappahannock.

Fire in CINCINNATI.—Rebels Driven from Kentucky.

CINCINNATI, May 26—12 m.—The shell destroyed buildings 31, 37 and 39, Main street, occupied by Kellogg & Andrews, Sherman hay and feed contractors. Over bales of hay were burned. The total loss is about $30,000. Insurance not known.

The rebels crossed Cumberland river yesterday at Burkin's Ford and Hartford, Ky., and were driven back across the river last night after a skirmishing.

Yallandigham arrived in the rebel authorities south of Bowling Green yesterday.

ST. LOUIS, May 26—At the close of yesterday, in this county, to-day, in the State Convention, Charles D. Drake, Chief Justice of the State, presiding, the following ordinance was passed by a vote of 1,000 members present, by about 1,000 majority:
