

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 22. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

From Yesterday's Evening Gazette. Recruiting Colored Troops. For some time past, Mr. Amos Butler, who is only a volunteer, has been recruiting colored volunteers in this city...

State Sabbath School Convention. The State Sabbath School Convention will meet in the First Presbyterian Church of this city, on Tuesday morning, next, at ten o'clock a. m.

Departure of the First Massachusetts Cavalry Regiment. The First Massachusetts Cavalry Regiment, under the command of Colonel William W. Phelps, will depart for the front on Friday morning, next...

Chicago Market. The Chicago market was very quiet today, with only a few transactions reported. The price of wheat was steady, and the price of corn was slightly higher...

FOR SALE. DOLLAR SAVINGS BANK, No. 66. For sale, a large lot of goods, including clothing, shoes, and household goods, at a great discount...

FOR SALE. TWO CAPITALISTS AND MILLERS. For sale, a large lot of goods, including flour, sugar, and other provisions, at a great discount...

FOR SALE. A BARE CHANGE FOR A BEAUTIFUL AND DESIRABLE COUNTRY HOME. A beautiful country home, situated in a healthy and fertile section of the country...

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

(FROM OUR EVENING EDITOR.) LATEST FROM VICKSBURG. Taking of the Outer Works Completed. The batteries above and below taken.

The Battle Most Sanguinary. The Federal Loss Severe. Town of Jackson Destroyed. The batteries above and below taken.

Commercial Record. Pittsburgh Markets. The market for various commodities, including wheat, corn, and sugar, was active today...

FOR SALE. A BARE CHANGE FOR A BEAUTIFUL AND DESIRABLE COUNTRY HOME. A beautiful country home, situated in a healthy and fertile section of the country...

FOR SALE. A BARE CHANGE FOR A BEAUTIFUL AND DESIRABLE COUNTRY HOME. A beautiful country home, situated in a healthy and fertile section of the country...

FOR SALE. A BARE CHANGE FOR A BEAUTIFUL AND DESIRABLE COUNTRY HOME. A beautiful country home, situated in a healthy and fertile section of the country...

FOR SALE. A BARE CHANGE FOR A BEAUTIFUL AND DESIRABLE COUNTRY HOME. A beautiful country home, situated in a healthy and fertile section of the country...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...

THE BATTERIES ABOVE AND BELOW TAKEN.

The batteries above and below Jackson were taken by the Federal forces on Friday night. The capture of these batteries was a decisive blow to the Confederate position...

THE TOWN OF JACKSON DESTROYED.

The town of Jackson, the capital of Mississippi, was destroyed by the Federal forces on Friday night. The town was burned to the ground, and only a few ruins remained...

THE BATTLE MOST SANGUINARY.

The battle of Friday night, between the Federal and Confederate forces, was the most sanguinary of the war. The Federal forces, under the command of General Grant, defeated the Confederate forces, under the command of General Johnston...