Winness, The Government of our beleved country is still in peril, owing to the terrible rebellion of the fourthern States; and, shewes, thousands of the heave men of the Horth are nobly striving to uphole the Government; and, whereat, there are great numbers of ministers, flabbath School superintendent teachers and achoiave serving; their country as chaptering, private soldiers, marines and sallors, by it therefore. lains, efficers, private soldiers, marines and sallors, be it therefore.

Resolved, That the current prayer of every member of this Convention is, that the Government may be essentiated; that the Frestigat of the United States and his Cabinet may be grided in all their plans by the Aimighty Raker of nations; that our army and nary may be successful in defeating our enemies, and that the day may soon come when peace shall be re-bored, and the religion of our Lord and Barlour Jesus Christ prevail throughout the entire land.

Resolved, That we will heartify support the Government in its effects to put down rebellion; that our expansities are unreservedly with the brave men who are fighing our batties by land and on sea, and expectally with the Christian levothers who have gone from the churchs and Sabbath Schools of our own State. peccasify was gone from the churchs and Sabbain occurs or was gone from the churchs and Sabbain occurs or was fatte.

Received, That the faithfulness of Christian officies, soldiers and sallors, while performing their duty in the came and fadd, and on board ships ore, they had the came and fadd, and on board ships ore, they had the testimony furnished in a Cristian retaining, and the contraction of early radious training, and the sall contraction of early radious training, and the testimony formished in a dying hour, show the value and importance of early raligious training, and are e-pecially encouraging to all engaged in the zoble work of subbath School instruction.

Secoles, That the President be authorised to appoint a Corresponding Secretary, whose duty it shall be to obtain, by correspondence or otherwise, for preservation and future publication, all the information that can be precured in relation to these control ones. In the preservation and future publication, all the information that can be precured in relation to the same and scholars with the army risses by the Covarnment to maintain its authority and preserve its existence against the armorious efforts of bad men to destroy it, and settlitute in its piace at yelong the particular interests of the men to destroy it, and settlitute in its piace any stome of an other interests of civilination.

Amotion was made to take up a collection The Grand Jury returned the following true A motion was made to take up a collection to defray the expenses, to which the local committee objected, as they desired to bear the whole expenses.

The Chairman announced that the Sabbeth schools of Pittsburgh will meet in this place shoels of Pittsburgh will meet in this place this afternoon at three o'clock; the schools of chair afternoon at three o'clock; the schools of deriv house. Allegheny in the South Common Methodist church at the same time. Appropriate ad-dresses will be delivered, and the occasion bids fair to be an interesting one. On motion, the Convention adjacened to meet this evening at half past seven o'clock. A vast number of children of the Sabbath schools of Pittsburgh, assembled in the First Prebytarian Church, at three o'clock, Hon. Robt. McKnight in the chair. There could not have been less than thirteen of fourteen hundred children in the assembly when we entered. It was soon found that the large and especious church would not near contain the living tide that was swelling so rapidly through the gates to the church, and so the stream was turned towards the Gunberland Prechyterian Church, on Seventh street.

The exercises were commenced by the Rev. Dr. Douglas leading at a throne of groos. The Assembly united in singing the "Happy greeting to all," commencing—"Come, children, and join in our fatival song."
As the hundreds of youthful roloss poured APPERSOON SESSION. "Come, children, and join in our festival cong."
As the hundreds of youthful volces poured forth their song of praise, the effect was reality thrilling. We were so much enchanted, that we wondered if angels could have excelled it. The children were then addressed by Raiph Weils, Hegg, of New York. Mr.
Wells far accessed anything we have ever heard in the way of a "tait" to children.
We might as well attempt to report a hall

The Assembly then united in singing "The Gespel Ship." Gespal Ship."

The Rev. Aifred Taylor, Bristol, Pa., next addressed the children. He commenced by saying "All aboard, all aboard, this gospet ship of which you have been singing." And then seem to show the importance of getting into the ship. He then gave the following text: "Moth and rust," which he wished the children to resemble. He then year on to compare six to the moth and rust, and amused the children not a little. children to ramember. He thin went on to compare size to the most hadrus), and annual the shildren not a little.

Two verses of the "Golden Shors" was then stage effect which the Ber, B. W. Children and the shildren shi ties, and the audience gradually retired.

ATER Convention was called to order at 7% o'clock, Rev. Dr. Douglas in the Chair.

The proceedings were opened by singing the 807th hymn, after which prayer was made by Rev. Mr. Neebit of the fiethedist church.

The following resolutions were adopted after very interesting debases:

6. That every teacher on entering the work, should faily messure the responsibility which he assument; make the substar's conversion his study alm, and teach Jerus from the Word of God.

10. The se the blessing of God is an indispensible requisite to success in any good work, the first carry of the teacher is favore, previous, or protested prayer.

The mater bettaries opened furiously, supported by a hill battery on the starboard. The vessels advanced to within four hundred and forty yards, by our marks, and raturned the fire for two hours, without cessation.

The enemy's are being very accurate and incessant, and finding that the hill batteries behind us were alienced, I ordered up the Tusoumbia to within 800 yards of the batteries, but her tures was soon made untenable. Not being able to stand the enemy's shot, I made her drop down.

I had been engaged with the forts an hour longer than Gen. Grant asked. The vessels had all received swere shots under water, which we could not stop up while in motion, and not knowing what might have delayed the movement of the army, I ordered the vessels to drop out of fire, which they did in a cool and handsome manner.

This was the hottest fire the gunboats have ever been under, but owing to the water batteries being more on a level with them than usual, the gunboats threw in their shells confact that the aim of the enemy was not very good. The enemy hit the vessels a number of times, but the shots did not do man damage. Not a man was killed and only four wounded. I had only enough ammunition for a few moments longer, and set all hands to work to fill up from our depot below. After dropping back, I found that the enemy had taken possession again of one of the lower hill batteries and was endeavoring to remount his gunr, and had mounted a 12-pounder field piece to fire at Gen. Modrithur's troops, which had landed a short time before at Warrenton.

I sent the Mound Gity and Carondolet to drive him off, which they did in a few moments. I beg leave to enclose a letter from General Modrithur, suplaining why he did, to use his own expression, take advantage of the results gained by the gunboats. I have since learned from General Grant that the army did assault at the right time vigorously. In the noise and smoke we could not see or hear it. The gunboats were therefere still fighting when the assault had proved unsucossiful.

when the assault had proved unsuccessful. The army have terrible work before them, and are aghting as well as soldiers ever fought before, but the works are stronger than any of us dreampt of, General Grant and his soldiers are confident that the brave and energatio generals in the army will soon overcome all obstacles and carry the works.
