Some were one boot and one shoe; others rejoiced in a shoe upon one foot, and a sandal of carpet for the either. Their garments were so fifthy, so uttarily commingled with dirt, that the meanest chilfodier among us would recoil from them in disgust. The men themselves told us that their midte bodies were swarming with vermin. Not even their nudity was covered, save by dirt. The lower garments of many hung in tatters upon their limbs. Few had shirts of any kind, but old sleeveless coats alone, through the rents of which their naked flesh was virible. For The Dunkers and the Draft. At the recent annual national assembly of the "Dunkers," or German Baptists, held at Morrison's Cove, Blair county, several materials and several others, including indicate the several materials and several materials. ters of interest came up for decision, growing out of the peculiar tenets of that sect. The Further Particulars of the Defeat of most important of these quantions was the course to be pursued in the matter of theconscription act. The principles held by the "Dunkers" in respect to the war are similar to those entertained by the Quarters; they accent literally the pacaging tachings of the to those entartained by the Quarters; they accept literally the peaceful teachings of the Gospel, opposing all kinds of warfare as contrary to divine instructions, and are strictly non-combatant in their dealings with their fellow-men. The question of the draft was referred to a committee, by whom it was determined, notwithstanding their peace principles, to sustain the government and obey the laws. It was also desided that every member drafted shall pay his commutation, and, if he is unable to do so, the arrennes is a member drafted shall pay his commutation, and, if he is unable to do so, the expense is to be assessed, according to ability to pay, on the members of the congregation.
