of the enemy's works and a part of the city. A tail tree, ascended by means of a ladder, in General Horey's Division, affords a fine view of the sity. We have constant proof of the fact that the garrison is on very short al-lowance and cannot hold out long. Great quantities of dead cattle have been seen float-ling in the river below the city, and many are being turned out of the works into our lines. Thirty-three prisoners, who were let out meer proteness of killing best, all gave themselves up, and represent matters in the city as in a most deplorable condition. Receasily, it is said, the rebels have been firing old nails and places of chain-a fact which indicates either a re-finement of cruelty or exhaustion of aminuni-tion. n Vicksburg. As the chief point of interest in our military ANOTHER place of rebel gasconade and falseperations, the eyes of the public are still di-rested toward the Western Sebasicopol of the Rebailion, and the leaguer, inexorable as fate, which imprisons Pemberton and his army in Smith had taken Milliken's Bend, and cut off their stronghold. The rebel chieftain, a ren-Grant's supplies. Our own advices, by a steamer which left Milliken's Bend later than egade Pennsylvanian, is not wanting in the spirit and desperation which will hold out to the the date of the rebel dispatch, show that so spiritand desperators a speech he made after the date of the report dispeter, said had been far from having captured, the rebals had been Isst, as we can judge by a speech he made after the fight of the 22d ult., which has been pub-lished in the Jackton Mississippian. He said : "You have heard that I was incompetent and a traitory and that it was my intention to sell Vicksburg. Follow me and you will see the cost at which I will sell Vicksburg. When the last pound of beef, bacon and four; the last grain of corn; the last cow and hog and the last non shall have been consumed, and the last than a shall have been consumed, and the last han a shall have been knike in the tranches, then, and only then, will I sell Vicksburg." But even auch brave words will not go far repulsed and driven back with great loss in their attack on that place. They may have surprised our troops, and driven them toward the river at first, but whether by the aid of the gunbests or not, certain it is that our men, both white and black, were victorious in the end, and drove the assailants away.
