The people of these cities have done better. We are aiready pretty strongly fortified, and the work is still progressing on a gigantic scale—14,000 men being at work to-day; and thouse 14,000 men, with 14,000 more to back them, can lay down their picks and shovels, and take up muskets and rifiés, or man the batteries. But let us not be contented with the mere defense of these cities.

The whole country between here and Camberland must be protected. To arms, there mere defense of these cities.

According to the latest advices from Mexico, it appears that the Mexicans are prepariting to make a desperate defence of their Capital. French residents have been obliged to leave the City of Mexico, all the available Mexican troops are being drawn to that point, and it is resolved that should it prove necessary, the Valley of Mexico will be deoded. This is a desperate and rulnous remedy, but it may be adopted.

It is stated that Gen. Juarer has taken command of the Mexican troops. Jares, by virtue of his office as President, is Gommand of the Mexican troops. The San Francisco dispatch is but two days later than the news we received some days ago win Vera Cruz, and at that time nothing had been seen or heard of the thousands of Mexican prisoners, with their officers, and to have been exputred by Furey at the fall of Paebla. On the contrary, Judge Low, our Consul at Vera Cruz, who came by the last sprival, coafirms the barrean nature of the French victory at Puebla, and positively denies the French reports of extensive captures, and the easy progress of the French toward the Mexican Capital.

An Important Haiload Connection in Rebeidom.

Our forces in North Carolina have so frequently threatened the rebel communications between Richmond and the Southers States of the "Confederacy," by approaching the railroad connection at Geldsboro, that they have at length begun in earnest, it appears, to provide a more interiorline, in case of mishap to the eastern one. They are, therefore, bury, according to the latest accounts, building the railroad from Danville, Virginia, to Greensboro, North Carolina, by which they will have another line of connection between Richmond and the South.

If they can only transport the haul of railroad iron and material they have lately seixed on the Baltimore and Ohio line, they may be able to go forward with the work.
