FRIDAY MORNING, JUNE 26. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE. From Yesterday's Evening Gazette. with the case. It would seem, however, that with the case. It would seem, however, that with the case. It would seem, however, that there is atill another sympathiser with treason left in the Arsenal—one who, although well known to the Combittee of Investigation, was spared on anothit of his say and many infursions the control of his say and many infursions the control of his say and many infursions. When the charge of disloyalty against Phoinas K. Lalley and others was preferred by one of the employees, (Mr. McFarland,) and spon his authority made public through our columns, Maj. Whiteley addressed a note to Mr. Riddle, desiring him to name a committee of fire, to act in conjunction with a similar committee to be named by the accused, who should investigate these charges. The committee was promptly designated by Mr. Riddle, but his part, but the accused, who at first expressed a willingness to have a full and fair heading of the tertimony, never responded—naver named their committee—but ahrunk from the investigation behind a criminal presention of the beditors of this paper for libel.

The prosecution for libel was instigated by the whits-headed "peniloner" above alfuded to, and he it was who managed and advised the case on behalf of the accused—with what success the public already know. The principal parties who charged us with libel fied from the city—abandoning their situations, and steading quelty away like thieves or pick-pockets. The consequence was that the grand larly ignored the bill, and put the costs to the account of Thomas K. Lalley, for whom a process is now in the hand of the officers. In the meantime the investigation went on, and the charge of disloyalty having been fully of "sympathisers with treason" was dismissed by Maj. Whiteley. When we announced this grantifying fact we thought we had done there is still another sympathiser with treason made out by sworn testimony, the whole party of "sympathisers with treason" was diminised by Maj. Whiteley. When we announced this gratifying fact we thought we had done with the "Arsenal a sr." But not so.

Boon after the diminisal of the parties, a sourrious anonymous handbill was issued, bearing all theeor markeof the superannuated dois who sought to screen those disloyal emplayees, and retain them as fitting company for himself." The handbill was full of abuse, they were discharged by order of the white property.

"May God help and defend the right! We have fallen upon times when men are not permitted to defend themselves!"

"Mr. Editor, I sincerely believe that the man who have thus been traduced and victimised to be good man, and true and loyal citimes as therefore do I interpose in their behalf."

Abuse for the committee, and special pleading for sympathy on behalf of the dismissed, constitute the subject matter of the communication. cation.

The gentlemen assailed are at present so occupied in camp and on the fortifications that they cannot now attend to this aged libeller occupied in what a stand to this aged income they cannot now attend to this aged income and the paper which renders itself liable for the publication, but in due time both shall re-the publication. We would also warm and that even his age, which has hereton protected him, may yet prove insuffici shield him from merited dismissal. Latest by Mail from Harrisburg.
