Up to the 15th day of May, 1863, there had been sunk immediately along of the past. Up to the 15th day of May, 1862, there had been such immediately along the Valley of Oil Greek, from Oil City to the Sharman well, 495 wells. Of these only 75 were flowing wells,—many of them small ones. It is but reaconable to suppose that the Valley of Oil Greek at Carlo C The il be found, for the pres were flowing wells,—many of them small ones. HEADQUARTERS ARMY OF THE POTOMAC, 2 June 28, 1863. [3]
By direction of the President of the United States, I hereby assume command of the Army of the Potomac as a soldier. In obeying this order, an order totally unexpected and unsolicited, I have no promises or piedges o make. The country looks to the army to relieve it rom the devastation and disgrace of a hostil invasion.

Whatever sacrifices we are called upon to undergo, let us have in view constantly the magnitude of the interest involved, and let such man determine to do his duty, leaving to an all-controlling Providence the direction of the contest.

It is with great diffidence that I relieve in command of this army an emicent and accomplished soldier, whose name must ever appear conspicuous in the history of its achievements; conspignous in the history or its schievements; but I rely upon the hearty support of my comrades in arms to assist me in the discharge of the duties of the important trust which has en confided to me. GEO. G. MEADE, Maj. Gen. Com'd'g.
