Casualties in the 139th Regiment.

The following is a list of the casualties in Col. Collier's regiment:

Company A—Joseph A. Ferguson, slightly; Samuel S. Greenlee, slightly.

Company B—Lieut. Orum, left thigh; Levi Shawe, right shoulder, severely.

Company C—Orderly Sergeant James B. Parks, severely; Valentine Kerr, slightly; Alexander Scott, slightly; Robert Long, slightly.

Company E—Capt. J. M. Sample, severely; David Ford, Robert S. Hutchinson, slightly; James A. Boyd, slightly.

Company G—Wm. H. Brooks, Michael Davis, John J. Smith, Corp. J. Biggard.

Company H—George Anderson, sun-stroke; J. Holesinger, sun-stroke; Wm. Holesinger, sun-stroke; R. Q. Richards, sun-stroke.

Company K—Sergeant Martin, sun-stroke W. Ruber, slightly.

The regiment, after marching thirty miles, went into the fight on the evening of the 2d, Col. Collier and Lieut.-Col. Moody cheering on their men. On the morning of the 3d, Col. Collier, while examining his platol, just before going into the battle, shot himself, accidentally, in the foot, and required the attention of the surgeon. He was anxious to mount again after his wound was dressed, but the surgeon would not permit him to do so.

Gallantry of Schoonmaker's Cavalry.

We have some additional details of the late affair at Beverly, Va., from which it appears that the 14th Pennsylvania cavalry, a regiment recruited here by Col. Schoonmaker, took a conspicuous part in the engagement, and saved our forces from disaster. On Thursday, July 2d, a force of rebels under Gen. William Jackson attacked our troops at Beverly. The 10th Va., under Col. Harris, had forty pickets captured and his regiment almost surrounded. The 14th Pa., cavalry, Col. Schoonmaker, now in Gen. Averill's brigade, was ordered to make a forced march from Philippi. They drove the enemy back to Mr Warner, a distance of forty miles, keeping up a running fight, destroyed two of the enemy's guns, and recaptured the pickets with important rebel mail matter. One man of company C, while carrying dispatches, was shot dead on the spot.

The Hempfield Railroad.

A bill is now before the Legislature of West Virginia, having for its object the grant of power to sell the Hempfield Railroad to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, with a view to having it completed to Greensburg, and thus made a feeder to the great Pennsylvania Central. The bill has already passed the House of Delegates, but it is objected to in the Senate upon constitutional grounds, it being alleged that, under the constitution of the new State of West Virginia, no additional corporate privileges can be granted until due notice shall have been given under regulations to be established by law, and no legal provision has yet been made for giving such notice. The road, in a business point of view, is doing worse than nothing, and it is desirable that the sale should take place.

Casualties in the "Friend Rifles."

The "Friend Rifles," which left here some two years ago with some ninety men, may be said to have ceased to exist. Badly cut up at Williamsburg, and having suffered severely in several other battles, they went into Thursday's battle with but twenty-two men, and of these all but eight were either killed or wounded. A letter from the battle-field, written on the 6th, announcing the death of Mr. Mathew McGrath, a member of the company, gives the following list of casualties: Orderly Sergeant Saul Orait, Corporal Mathew McGrath and James Montgomery were killed. John W. Lanahan was wounded in the left side; John Burk, badly, in the thigh, O. P. Moody, flesh wound in the thigh; John Dalglish, in the ankle; Benjamin Hall, slightly; W. O. Wiley, leg, taken off; Charles Franks, wounded in shoulder; Thornton Jones, leg broken; J. P. Galston, twice in the leg, and Daniel Tomkins, in the arm.

Wounded at Baltimore.

The following from this vicinity, wounded in the battle of Gettysburg on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, have reported at the United States Army General Hospital, West's Building, Baltimore, Md. Most of the wounded have been, or will be, sent to the Philadelphia hospitals. Their wounds are usually slight, the severely wounded not yet having arrived from Gettysburg:

Peter Quinn, D, 139th; P. Dennar, L, 62d; Ira Nevill, F, 10th Reserve; J. J. Long, I, 10th Reserve; Joseph Cain, A, 63d; H. B. Temple, K, 11th; T. A. Work, B, 62d; M. B. Hocks, B, 139th; Rees Encaugh, L, 62d; George Bradley, L, 62d; Frederick Smith, H, 63d; Wm. Linton, B, 4th Cavalry; Wm. Singer, B, 4th Cavalry; J. F. Cargo, C, 155th; James McCoy, K, 63d.

TELEGRAM FROM GEO. H. STUART.—The following dispatch was received by the Army Committee last night:

Philadelphia, July 8.—The Christian Commission delegates, with their stores for the relief of the wounded, were among the first on the field at Gettysburg. Over two hundred of them are now at work, and more are on the way. Stores in large amounts are daily purchased. We have been sending from two to three hundred boxes every day. Over one thousand rebel wounded, besides our own, are in our hands, in need of everything. Rumors of another great battle on the Potomac were telegraphed this morning. This, if true, opens another great field, and makes another call for relief.

Boston responds nobly by sending fourteen thousand dollars. The Philadelphia churches and citizens are coming up nobly. Stir up your good people, that they may have their share in the work. If all do their duty, the sufferers shall not want relief.

GEORGE H. STUART.

These are stirring words. Let all who are moved by them send the money to the Treasurer of the Christian Commission, Joseph Allison, Wood street, and their contributions of hospital stores to W. P. Weyman, at the store room, 79 Smithfield street.

LONG TRAIN OF HUMAN FREIGHT.—The longest and heaviest trains that ever passed over the various roads in this Commonwealth, are now being pushed forward, loaded with militia, and will be, until the State is cleared of rebels. On Tuesday evening a train of cars half a mile in length, loaded with soldiers, crossed the river at Harrisburg. The train must have contained nearly two thousand souls. The troops came from the eastern districts of the State, and are chiefly militia or three months' men.

STRUCK BY LIGHTNING.—On Monday afternoon, during a heavy thunder-storm, the residence of Mrs. Dram, in Indiana borough, was struck by lightning. The lightning entered the north-east corner of one of the upper rooms, passing out at the south-west corner. No serious damage was done to the building. Mrs. Cannon and daughter, who reside in the upper end of the building, were considerably injured, but are now improving.

SOLDIER DROWNED.—A returned soldier named Wieber was drowned in the Youghiogheny river on Wednesday, at the coal works of M. J. Feary, Dunseath had five sons in the army, and had himself participated in several battles, in all of which he behaved like a brave and gallant soldier.

LIBERTY TO KNIT.—John Campbell has been committed to jail by Alderman Donaldson, to answer a charge of assault and battery with intent to kill, preferred by Peter Leonard.

Excitement at Hollidaysburg.

Early on Thursday morning last, the citizens of Hollidaysburg were freightened out of their propriety by the report that a body of rebels were moving on the town. Preparations were made for their arrival—valuables were secreted; the county records and other valuable documents belonging to the county were hastily packed by the officials; horses and cattle were sent to the mountains; terrified clothing dealers removed their stock to places of safety; recruiting officers suddenly appeared in citizen's dress, and consternation reigned supreme. The report which had been received by messengers from McKee's Gap, were eight miles on the other side of Martinsburg. Mounted scouts from town were sent out in different directions, who returned in the evening and reported that the excitement had been caused by—nothing.

DIED:

SCHRINER—On Wednesday evening, at 5 o'clock, GEORGE SCHRINER, at his residence in Lawrenceville, aged 73 years.

THE LATEST NEWS
BY TELEGRAPH.
OUR SPECIAL DISPATCHES.
FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.
WASHINGTON, July 9, 1863.

POSITION OF THE ARMIES IN MARYLAND—A BATTLE LOOKED FOR SOON.

The news from South Mountain is to speak of active operations by both armies. General Lee is undoubtedly strongly intrenching on the old battle-field of Antietam. He has lost but little artillery and about 20,000 men in the late battle. He is in position to make a stout defence, though short of ammunition, small supplies of which he can obtain across the Potomac. If unable to pass the river with his whole army, he will fight where he is. The battle will occur when Gen. Meade gets into proper position, which will not be over one or two days. No fears are entertained as to the result.

REBEL WOUNDED.

Three or four thousand rebel wounded are to be sent to David's Island, New York harbor. The Surgeon General left for Frederick to oversee the removal personally.

A GRAVE CHARGE.

Mrs. General Milroy was in Indiana at the time she was charged with appropriating the Winchester ladies' dresses.

GETTYSBURG TROPHIES.

Thirty-one rebel battle-flags and the sword of General Barksdale were among the trophies brought here from Gettysburg by Col. Shriver last night.

NUMBER OF REBEL PRISONERS.

The rebel prisoners number about 11,000, including the wounded.

MILROY'S GENERALSHIP.

Paroled prisoners belonging to General Milroy's command declare that his conduct at Winchester was utterly inexcusable; that the whole of his force might have been saved had he taken his artillery with him, instead of leaving it behind, field pieces, as well as heavy guns, for fear the rebels should learn of his departure, of which it soon appeared they were well advised.

BOUNTY FOR TWO YEAR'S MEN.

War Department has determined that men belonging to two year's regiments who enlisted after the regiment was mustered into service, and were mustered out with the regiment, add have, therefore, not served fully two years, may prefer a claim for one hundred dollars bounty; each case to be settled upon its merits.

A BATTLE IMMINENT.

It is ascertained that Lee's army is between Williamsport and Hagerstown. Only the wounded and a part of the Pennsylvania plunder being crossed the river. A battle is probable within three days—victory next to certain.

STEVENS' MISSION.

Col. Ludlow thinks Stephens' mission covered a proposition for an armistice—in best of spirits, and confident of Lee's and Pamberton's successes. Stephens had six month's baggage.

GRANTS OFFICIAL DISPATCHERS.

Grants dispatches about the surrender of Vicksburg, were sent from Memphis by mail.

MARITIME AFFAIRS.

The Spanish minister having some time since requested that the Marine League, within which distance from neutral shores belligerent operations are forbidden by the laws of nations, be extended to three leagues, on the plea that the spirit of the rule since the invention of rifled guns requires the extension.

Secretary Seward was disposed to grant the concession, but Secretary Welles was inflexible. The French minister having proposed that tobacco owned by the French Government be shipped direct from Richmond. Secretary Seward was willing, but Secretary Welles was inflexible, answering Mr. Mercier that he could ship his cotton by Alexandria or Beaufort, which were open ports, and that our Government would promise not to molest it en route.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette
PHILADELPHIA, July 9.

The battle of Boonsboro has ended gloriously.

Generals Buford and Kilpatrick fought the enemy all day, and drove him four miles, to Mill Point, taking forty prisoners.

We lost one captain killed.

The enemy attacked, Stuart leading.

No confirmation of the rumored death of Gen. Kilpatrick has been received.

We hold the South Mountain passes, and the great battle will probably come off on Saturday.

From Fortress Monroe—Gens. Magruder and Taylor Marching on New Orleans.

FORTRESS MONROE, July 8.—The Richmond Enquirer of July 8th is received, but contains no important news from any source.

The Enquirer says that unofficial information, by telegraph from Jackson, Miss., this morning, states that Gen. Magruder and Dick Taylor had crossed the Mississippi at Kenaan, ten miles above New Orleans, and were marching on that city. Possibly the Confederate flag waves over New Orleans.

The following has been received from the Associated Press' correspondent at Newbern, dated July 6th:

Lieut.-Col. Lewis, of the 3d New York cavalry, is in command of the cavalry force now penetrating the interior of this State, which is part of the expedition that left here on the morning of the 4th inst. Gen. Heckman is in command of the other portion of the expedition.

Newbern, N. C., July 5.—A picket force of infantry, artillery and cavalry moved inland from this point, on the night of the 3d inst., led by Gen. Foster in person, who is confident of accomplishing all he has undertaken. If the enemy attempts to obstruct his advance an impoptant engagement will take place to-day or to-morrow.

Latest Southern News.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The Richmond Dispatch has been received. It has the following from Tennessee:

Atlanta, July 3.—There has been no raid on the Railroad in East Tennessee.

It is considered certain that Morgan has played sad havoc with the rear of Rosecrans.

An important movement has taken place in Gen. Bragg's army, but it is not prudent to mention the particulars.

Gen. Bragg has had quarters at Bridgeport.

The Tennessee river will be the future line of defence.

It is supposed that Huntsville and the Memphis Railroad will be abandoned.

The Richmond Dispatch, of July 6th, states that Jeff. Davis had a severe attack of illness, but that he will in a few days enjoy his usual good health.

The same paper says that Vice President Stephens, it is said, has gone to Fortress Monroe on the flag of truce boat. One story is that his business is to see about the exchange of prisoners. Another, that it is to inform the Federal Government that if private property is not respected in the Confederate States, and the rules of civilized warfare are not strictly complied with, our forces in the North will receive instruction to retaliate in kind.

The Attack on Helena Abandoned—Further from Vicksburg.

CAIRO, July 9.—The rebels have retired from Helena,

Maj.-Gen. Oglesby, just arrived from Memphis, says that the terms of the capitulation of Vicksburg were: The enlisted men were to be paroled, while the commissioned officers were to be retained as prisoners.

Pemberton gives the number of men fit for duty at 13,000, and 6,000 in the hospitals; but it is thought that the actual number will exceed this 5,000 or 6,000.

SHARP CAVALRY FIGHT WITH THE REBELS.

General Kilpatrick Reported Killed.

&c., &c., &c.

BALTIMORE, July 9.—The American has the following special dispatch, dated Frederick, Md., July 8 A. M.:

Our cavalry had a sharp fight with the rebels between Funkstown and Boonsboro, about six miles this side of Hagerstown, and the rebels were in heavy force. Our cavalry was compelled to fall back to Boonsboro, with some loss.

Gen. Kilpatrick is reported killed, though some accounts say he is only wounded. We learn Gen. Kilpatrick's command was completely surrounded, and compelled to cut its way out.

The rebels are still on this side of the river, massed near Hagerstown, endeavoring to get wagons and plunder across the river.

Scouts this afternoon bring the report that the advance of the rebel column was crossing the river at Williamsport. If this be true, we need look for no fight in Maryland.

It is reported at Boonsboro, that the rebel pickets are being thrown out nearly to that point, enclosing within their lines, the Antietam battle field and Shepherdstown crossing. The main force, however, is considerably west of this, and cross the three roads that meet at Williamsport.

The movements of our army are such as will to-day uncover fully the enemy's position.

The whole number of prisoners reported at headquarters, up to this morning, is 12,000.

Further information places our losses in killed and wounded in the three days' fight at 15,000.

The Rebel loss in killed and wounded will exceed ours at least 5,000.

Reports received at Hagerstown state that the rebel dead have been buried by our burying parties, and only two-thirds of the field has been explored. The whole of their killed left on the field will exceed 5,000. The usual proportion of wounded to killed, six to one, would make their wounded amount to 15,000. Without over-straining the estimate, their total loss in killed, wounded and prisoners may be put down at 30,000.

A Successful Cavalry Raid in North Carolina.

NEWBERN, N. C., July 7, 1863.

Major-General Halleck, Washington:

I have the honor to report that the cavalry sent from here July 3d, under Col. Lewis, of the 20th New York cavalry, has safely returned, having successfully accomplished its mission, and without loss. They destroyed, by tearing rails, &c., according to General Haupt's plan, two miles of the rail at Warsaw. They also destroyed for five miles more all the culverts, as well as the telegraph. At Kenansville an armory was destroyed, and large quantities of small arms and commissary and quartermaster's stores burnt. About one hundred and fifty animals and some thirty prisoners were captured by them, and some one hundred men and three hundred women and children (negroes) followed them.

J. G. FOSTER,
Major General Commanding.

Indiana Invaded—Morgan with 6,000 to 8,000 Men Marching on Jeffersonville and New Albany—Preparations for Defense.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 9.—Morgan's forces of artillery, cavalry and infantry, numbering from six to eight thousand, have crossed into Indiana, and captured Corydon, our forces falling back.

The rebels, it is supposed, are marching on New Albany and Jeffersonville, where large quantities of supplies are stored.

Troops are being organized throughout the State and sent forward as rapidly as possible. Business is entirely suspended here to-day, and the citizens are forming companies for self-defense. One regiment has been raised since last night.

It is reported that two citizens were killed at Corydon when the enemy entered the town.

Morgan is still in the vicinity of Corydon. The greatest excitement prevails throughout the State. The militia is coming in rapidly under the call of the Governor for 50,000, and will be under arms and marching to the place of rendezvous in 24 hours.

One Michigan regiment arrived to-night. Another and a battery of artillery are expected to-morrow.

The determination is that Morgan shall not escape.

The border counties are under martial law.

LOUISVILLE, July 9.—Eleven rebel regiments, aggregating 4,800 men, with ten pieces of artillery, including two howitzers, crossed the Ohio at Brandenburg yesterday, and encamped last night near Corydon, Ind. They were under command of John Morgan and Basil Duke. Morgan stated to several that his destination was Indianapolis, but this is not credited.

There is considerable excitement at New Albany, fearing and believing that Morgan's forces are approaching that place.

On leaving Bradensburg Morgan burned the Alice Dean, but gave up the J. T. McCombs, which arrived here this afternoon. A fire is now visible in the direction of New Albany.

Nat. Wolf, candidate for Congress in this district, was arrested by officer Snell in Owen county, brought to this city and sent to Gen. Burnside at Cincinnati, on account of these words, used in a speech to the people of Owen: "This is a John Brown raid—a war against slavery—and I hope every true Kentuckian will rise up in arms in opposition to it. I am for secession, separation, or anything else against it."

The Draft in New York.

NEW YORK, July 9.—The draft commences here on Monday. The computed quota of the city is 13,500, and Brooklyn 4,000.

The Post says it is reported to-day on authority of dispatches from sources believed to be trustworthy, that Gen. Dix has sent 25,000 men to reinforce Gen. Meade.

A special from Washington to the Post says it is believed here that a battle is in progress on the Upper Potomac.

The Cavalry Fight—Gen. Kilpatrick not Killed.

MOUNTAIN HOUSE, near Boonsboro, July 9.—There has been no fighting this morning.

The fight yesterday was between Buford's and Kilpatrick's cavalry and the rebel infantry, principally in the bushwhacking style. Our troops fell back early in the day, but subsequently re-occupied the ground. Artillery was used on both sides.

There is no truth in the reported death of Gen. Kilpatrick.
