RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

THE Rev. Rev. Dr. Muhlenberg, of New York, delivered a lecture lately, on "Congregational Singing in Churches," in St. Luke's Episcopal Church of that city. The large edifice was filled with a highly respectable audience, including a large representation of clergy—Bishop Potter occupying a seat in the chancel. Dr. Muhlenburg is represented as having attained great proficiency in the science of music, and has been more successful than any other clergymen in carrying out the system of congregational singing. The object of the lecture was to promote congregational singing, in contradistinction to the almost universal practice of leaving this part of the worship to the choir. He ridiculed the latter system in pointed terms. A correspondent of the Episcopal Recorder gives quite a lengthy account of this interesting lecture, from which we make a brief synopsis. He stated if there was melody in the heart, it ought to melodise the tongue. The whole Bible is pervaded with the idea of melodious worship. The chief ides which the Bible gives of the services of heaven, is that of perpetual chorus. Would there be so much reference to music, he inquired, if there were any organic difficulty in the way of it with the masses? The faculty, like all others, required culture. He then referred to the fact that if one lifted up his voice above a whisper, he was stared at by all around him, as if to teach him better manners. They did not want to sing themselves, but to be edified by their Sunday Prima Donnas. He was not for dispensing with choirs, when they were rightly disposed and willing to be directed by the minister. What he protested against was the choir taking the place of the congregation, or the congregation allowing the choir to displace them. At the close of the lecture, a hymn was sung by the entire congregation. The benediction was pronounced by Bishop Potter.

——At the anniversary of the Church of England Missionary Society, the Rev. J. Gritian, a returned missionary, from the district of Tinnevelly, India, stated that two thousand every year for five years past have been won from heathenism in Tinnevelly, and been gathered within the fold of Christ. Among the 35,000 converts, there are 21,800 persons who have not only come over from heathenism, but been baptised into the Church of Christ. The work goes on continuously, and the prospects of the mission encouraging.

——According to recent statistics, the United Methodist Free Churches in England, formed a few years since by a union of various Methodist societies who had withdrawn from the Wesleyan Methodists, have numerically increased during the past year 4,528 members. The entire statistics of the connection are as follows: Preachers, 211; local preachers, 2,871; leaders, 3,716; members, 60,880; on trial, 4,972; chapels, 975; preaching rooms, 394; Sabbath Schools, 948; Sabbath scholars, 123,820; teachers, 10,044; day schools, 26.

——The distinguished American missionary in Turkey, the Rev. Dr. Goodell, after many years' labor, has just completed the translation of the Scriptures into Armeno-Turkish, and is now ready for publication. He has been more than forty years in the missionary work.

——At the one hundred and fifty-fourth annual meeting of the General Congregational Association of Connecticut, Dr. E. L. Clenland, of New Haven, stated that in the year of revival, 1858, 34 churches received not a single member by profession, and in 1859, 1860 and 1861, 110,186, and 146 churches, with 14,184, 19,328, and 19,685 members received none. The seven cities of the State in three years gained 385 by profession, and lost 868 by death!

——A New York religious weekly, in a brief summary of foreign religious intelligence, alludes to the progress of the High Church Party in the Church of England, who are gaining strength among the clergy and endeavoring to get control of the Established Church. They give already indications as to how they would use their influence. One Bishop has suspended a clergyman for occupying himself with agriculture, another declares his opposition to the clergy wearing beards. A Bishop of the Episcopal Church of Scotland, who advocates the doctrine of the real presence, has been appointed by the Government Bishop of Gibraltar. One clergyman has made an attempt to introduce the Benedictine order into a parish of the Church of England. Notwithstanding these severe charges, we have much hope in the ultimate success of the evangelical party in the Church.

——The last report issued by the celebrated George Muller, states that he has received for his orphan establishment, at Bristol, England, as the result of prayer, since he began the work, the sum of £158,782, and that he has been given for other objects £648,731, making a sum total of more than a million of dollars.

——Rev. Henry Ward Beecher has the credit of saying during his speech before the American Congregational Union, that he was "heartily afraid of them (the clergy) with their venerable wigs, with their immense gold-headed canes, with their ponderous corporosity, (for they had the fulfillment of the promise of the life which now is, in those days,) and with that intolerable inquisitiveness which they had about the Cotechism, asking me those vile questions which I never could answer."

——During the rebel raid into Frederick, Md., two or three Sabbaths ago, it is said the Rev. Dr. Zacharias, pastor of the German Reformed Church, of that city, prayed for "the President of the United States, and all others in authority," while the rebels were riding and racing through the streets.

——The General Synod of the Reformed Dutch Church, during its recent session, gave a favorable expression of its opinion respecting the propriety of resting the creed aloud by the body of communicants at the Lord's table.

——A Vicksburg correspondent of a secular paper says the 24th, Iowa is called a Methodist regiment, from the fact that the colonel and the majority of the officers and soldiers are members of the Methodist Church. Referring to an assault, he says they went into battle full of enthusiasm, and not one of them flinched during the engagement. The casualty list of the Methodists is very large. On retiring from the battle-field in the evening, they held a religious meeting, at which the exercises were very impressive. He closes: "As I write they are filling the woods with 'Old Hundred.'"

——The Christian Era, a Baptist paper, published in Boston, awards the Unitarians with being first in order to close their houses of worship in the cities for a month or two in mid-summer. Their course after a while was followed by other denominations. It says sometimes it has been really difficult to find city pastors enough at home during the month of August to attend upon the sick and dying.

——Bishop Simpson was favored with a farewell banquet by the Methodists in Chicago on the 19th of June. Addresses appropriate to the occasion were delivered by prominent ministers and laymen. The Bishop will move to Philadelphia in August, and occupy a beautiful residence in that city, the gift of personal friends.

——The official vote on lay representation in the Methodist Episcopal Church, ordered to be taken by the last General Conference, has been reported to the proper authorities as follows: Majority of the total vote opposed to lay representation is, ministers, 1,752; laymen, 19,612.

——The total amount of the receipts of the principal religious societies for the past year, as reported at their annual meetings, held last month in London is, £931,092, equal to about $4,665,460. The highest amount was received by the Church Missionary Society, £151,218; next comes the Wesleyan Missionary Society, £141,638. Of this aggregate sum nearly one-half was for the support of foreign missions.

Important to Drafted Men.

The following extract from paragraph 80 of the "Regulations for the government of the Bureau of the Provost Marshal General of the United States," is worthy the attention of such of our fellow-citizens as may have been, or may yet be, drafted, and who may not be inclined to serve:

"A discharge from one draft furnishes no exemption from any subsequent draft, except when the person drafted has furnished an acceptable substitute, and has received a certificate of discharge from a preceding draft. He shall be held exempt from military duty during the time for which he had been drafted, and for which such substitute was furnished."

From this it will be perceived that the simple payment of $300 only exempts the person for that particular draft, and leaves him liable to be drawn again, should a larger number of men be needed; whereas, if he procures an acceptable substitute, he is exempt for the full term of service which such substitute is bound to render.

The Draft in the 23d District.

The work of drafting in the 23d District, will commence at the office of the Board of Enrollment, No. 55, Federal street, Allegheny, on Monday next, and will proceed in the following order: Monday, July 13th—Allegheny city; July 14th—Manchester, McClure, Ross, Ohio, Sawickley (borough and township), Franklin, McCandless, Pine, Richland, Hampton, Shaler, Reserve, and Duquesne borough; July 15th—Sharpsburg and Kenrenius boroughs, and Indiana, West and East Deer, Fawn and Harrison townships.

Butler county will be taken up on the afternoon of Wednesday, July 15th, and will be completed on the evening of the 16th.

Armstrong county will be commenced on the morning of Friday, July 17th, and will be completed on the evening of the 18th.

The drawings will all take place at the office in Allegheny.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—William H. Hush, lately proprietor of a tavern on Penn street, but now residing in Pitt township, between the Ninth ward and Lawrenceville, met with a serious (and it is feared fatal) accident on Thursday. He had gone to his farm, on the New Brighton road, a few miles below Allegheny, and accidentally fell from a sheaf, was receiving injuries which it is feared will terminate fatally. He was attended by Dr. Walter, after which he was conveyed to his residence. He had been, but recently married to Mrs. White, widow, of Lawrenceville.

Letter from Maj. J. P. Speer.

The following is an extract of a letter from Major J. P. Speer, now on the Staff of Gen. Crawford, and recently appointed A A Inspector General of the Division, including the old Pennsylvania Reserve Corps:

NEAR GETTYSBURG, July 5, 1863.

We had had fighting on the 2d and 3d. The Reserves behaved nobly. Our brigade with the 11th regiment in the lead, went in while the regulars were being driven from that position, and drove the rebels back, and held the ground for two days. On the evening of the 2d, our brigade made another charge and drove a large force of rebels from a woods in our front and captured about 100 prisoners, 3,000 small arms, 1 cannon, a caisson, and 3 limbers. I was in the thickest of the fight in both battles; and was not touched, except by a bullet which passed through my left coat sleeve, near the shoulder.

Yours, &c.,
JAMES P. SPEER

The Pennsylvania Troops in the Battle at Gettysburg.

Pennsylvania had a large share in the late battle at Gettysburg, and the blood of her sons was freely shed in her defence. The three senior generals were Pennsylvanians, and the melancholy list of casualties shows that at least twenty-five Pennsylvania regiments were in the fight. The 9th and 11th Reserves, the 23d, 62d, 83d, 68th, 75th, 82d, 83d, 91st, 93d, 98th, 99th, 105th, 106th, 114th, 115th, 139th, 141st, 142d, 143d, 148th, 149th, 155th, besides Knap's, Hampton's, Thompson's and many other batteries. Other regiments from the State no doubt participated in the battle, which was won by steady valor and discipline on the part of the men, and skill and generalship in the disposition and manoeuvreing of the troops by the General-in-chief.

BEING NOTIFIED.—The drafted men of the First, Second, Third and Fourth Wards of Pittsburgh are being notified to report at the Provost Marshal's office on Saturday, the 18th inst. Those in the other wards of the city will be notified to report at the same place on the 23d, and those from the boroughs and townships at a later date.

EXCELSIOR VARNISH WORKS.—Persons using or dealing in copal, shillac, asphaltum or black varnishes, walnut stain, or the different kinds of japans, can be supplied with a good article from the above works, in this city. Send for circulars and card of prices. Address Chas. Coare, 76 Wood street, Pittsburgh, or New Brighton, Pa.

HORTICULTURAL.—Mr. KNOX will exhibit tomorrow, (Saturday,) in his window, No. 39 Fifth street, some fine raspberries, including the new French varieties: Hornet, Pilate, Imperial, Souchette and Jonet. Also some rare green-house plants.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

(FROM OUR EVENING EDITION.)

Latest from Meade's Army.

Position of the Opposing Forces.

LEE'S HEADQUARTERS STILL AT HAGERSTOWN.

Exciting Events Soon Anticipated.

GENERAL LEE INTRENCHING HIS FRONT.

Preparations for Another Battle

THE TWO ARMIES TEN MILES APART.

The Cavalry Fight near Hagerstown.

OVER 600 REBEL WAGONS DESTROYED.

Operations of General Dix's Command.

&c., &c., &c.

SHIPPENSBURG, Pa., July 9.—The armies of Gens. Meade and Couch are rapidly concentrating in front of the enemy.

The headquarters of Gen. Couch are here to-night.

The news to-day from Boonsboro shows that a portion of Lee's army is only three miles from the forces of Gen. Smith.

The enemy's cavalry paid a flying visit to-day to Greencastle, probably for the purpose of learning the movements of our forces.

Lee's headquarters are still believed to be at Hagerstown.

Exciting events are likely to take place during the next two days.

BOONSBORO, Md., July 9.—No active operations in our front to-day.

After the cavalry fight yesterday the enemy drew in their forces towards Hagerstown, and formed in line on elevated ground from Funkstown, on the right bend of the river below Williamsport, on the left, thus uncovering the Sheppardstown crossing.

Scouts and reconnoitering parties report Lee intrenching his front, drawing ammunition from his train on the Virginia side, and making general preparations for another battle.

The two armies, at last account, were not more than ten miles apart—Gen. Lee's stringling from Hagerstown to Williamsport, and Meade's being upon the march from Boonsboro on two roads toward the Potomac.

Our telegraph is already four miles beyond Boonsboro, our advance being at that point.

A special to the Tribune, dated from the field July 9th, says intelligence has just been received concerning the cavalry fight of yesterday near Hagerstown, with a part of Stuart's forces supported by infantry, which took up a strong position in the roads South of the town. After a determined resistance on their part, the arrival of Gen. Buford towards night resulted in a gallant charge by our men, and the rebels fell back. The 5th Michigan distinguished itself particularly upon the ground occupied by the rebel infantry, driving them from the woods.

Our forces occupied the ground first chosen by the rebels.

We lost from fifty to one hundred killed, and the enemy lost equally as many. We took about fifty prisoners.

General Kilpatrick, erroneously reported killed, charged the enemy in person, and drove them at least three miles.

One thousand prisoners passed through here to-day on their way to Baltimore. Among them are several officers.

The news from the Upper Potomac is more encouraging. It is almost certain that Lee will be brought to battle on this side of the river, and to his disadvantage. It has been ascertained that he has only managed to cross his wounded and part of his Pennsylvania spoils.

NEW YORK, July 10.—A special dispatch to the Times says:

The number of wagons destroyed by our cavalry is over five hundred. Buford destroyed two hundred on Monday, and Dahlgren one hundred and seventy the same day. Saturday and Sunday between two and three hundred were destroyed—a damage to them of fully twice what they were able to carry out of Pennsylvania.

WASHINGTON, July 9.—The operations of General Dix's command at White House, and on the Peninsula, are successful, having cut off all direct communication from Richmond with General Lee's army, and detained a large number of troops in and about Richmond which would otherwise have gone to reinforce Lee.

It is contradicted to-night that we have a force in Lee's line of retreat in Virginia. It is not likely that a general battle will be had to-morrow.

BOONSBORO, July 9.—The Times' special says: The rebels were drawn up in line of battle, three and a half miles from here, this morning, on the road to Hagerstown. From there they extended towards the Potomac, in the vicinity of Bakersville. They are throwing up rifle pits near Fairplay, and will probably await an attack. Our forces are to-day that a collision may occur any hour.

Gen. Naglee at Harper's Ferry.

FREDERICK, July 9.—Gen. Naglee, with troops from Foster's North Carolina command, has been assigned to a command at Harper's Ferry.

THE CAPTURES AT VICKSBURG

One Lieutenant General, Four Major Generals, between Fifteen and Twenty Brigadiers, and Twenty Thousand Men.

REBELS OPERATING ON THE RIVER BETWEEN CINCINNATI AND LOUISVILLE.

CINCINNATI, July 10.—It is reported this morning that rebel forces are operating on the river, between here and Louisville, with the intention of capturing passing boats.

The Gazette's Vicksburg correspondent says: The officers captured are one Lieut. General, four Major Generals, and between fifteen and twenty Brigadier Generals. The garrison comprised 20,000 men.

Meeting at St. Louis—The Late State Convention.

ST. LOUIS, July 10.—A large and enthusiastic meeting was held at the Court House last night, which was participated in by those opposed to the action of the late State Convention in adopting the present scheme of emancipation, in declaring exemption for slave property from taxation, in denying the people the privilege of voting to abolish their own rulers, and refusing the people the privilege of voting on an ordinance of emancipation. Mayor Filley presided. Speeches were made by Chas. D. Drake, Henry T. Blow, C. P. Johnson, B. Gratz Brown, and others.

Resolutions were adopted setting forth that the action of the Convention, in its last session, was arbitrary, tyrannical, and in opposition to the plainest principles of a republican government, and prayed the body from which it emanated to be unworthy the respect and confidence of a free people; that although it desired, in its title, an "ordinance for the emancipation of slaves, we can regard the Convention enactment in no other light than a covert attempt to strengthen and perpetuate slavery in Missouri under cover of their disguise at the professed purpose to accomplish freedom, that an attempt is to favor the owners of slaves by a body of men, a large majority of whom are slaveholders, at the expense of others, by exempting slave property from all taxes, exhibits a spirit so narrow and mercenary, and at the same time so unfair, as to equally merit and condemnation and contempt; that we hold the people of Missouri as citizens of a State occupying a place in a Republican Government, and are entitled to the principles of popular sovereignty, and the right to choose their own rulers.

New York Markets.

NEW YORK, July 10.—Sterling dull and irregular; Gold, 32¾; U. S. 6s, 81; Cotton and Groceries inactive; Flour quiet and steady at $5,40@. Extra, $6,80@8,90; Wheat, 1c. better; sales at $1,43.

COMMERCIAL RECORD.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

ON FILE AT THE PITTSBURGH DAILY GAZETTE, FRIDAY, July 10, 1863.

The rates of Coin are unsettled and consequently fluctuating. In New York to-day, Gold was quoted at 125¼, which is a slight advance, while here, our bankers are buying at 125@128 for Gold and Demand Notes, and 115@118 for Silver. Eastern Exchange is steady at par buying, and ¾ per cent prem selling.

GRAIN—The market has been very quiet to-day, as we were unable to hear of a single transaction of any importance. So far, however, as quotations are concerned, there has been no change.

FLOUR—Continues very quiet, the transactions being light, and altogether of a local character. We note small sales from store at $5,50@5,60 for Extra, $5,75 to $6,50 for Extra Family, and $6,75 for fancy brands. Rye flour may be quoted at $4,75@5,00.

BACON—Is neglected and dull but unchanged. We note a small sale at 6¾@6¾c for Shoulders; 6¾@7¼c for Sides; 8¼@8¾c for Plain Hams, and 11@11½c for Sugar Cured.

GROCERIES—dull but unchanged. Sugar is firm with a fair jobbing demand at from 12 to 13c for fair to prime. Coffee is dull and a shade easier, ranging from 33 to 33c. There is no change in Molasses.

CHEESE—Is in regular demand with sales of 65 bxs W R at 10 to 10½c—the latter figure for prime.

New York Petroleum Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, July 10—There is an active demand for Crude at an advance of ¾c per gallon—ranging at from 29 to 29½c on the spot. Refined in bond, is firm and a shade higher at 47@48c on the spot; 63½c offered, and 65c asked for August delivery, and 66c offered, and 68c asked for September. Naptha is nominal at 25@27½c for deodorized.

Pittsburgh Oil Market.

JULY 10—The market for both Crude and Refined is firmer, and with an improved demand; prices manifest an upward tendency. The stock of both kinds is very light, and the demand is evidently in excess of the supply. Crude may be quoted firm at 18½c, packages returned, and some sales were reported at 19c, though not well authenticated. It is but proper to remark, however, that holders, generally, are asking the outside figure. We note a sale of 65 bbls Refined, delivered at $7,60 per bbl, and 100 bbls do at $7,55. There is some inquiry for Bedded; but the market is unsettled and irregular, there being a difference of at least from 4 to 5 cents between buyers and sellers. For good standard brands of bonded, 40 to 41c is offered, and 44 to 45c asked. We know of an order for 500 bbls bonded, and we also know that none of our refiners would fill for less than 45c. Benzine is quiet, and, in the absence of sales, may be quoted at 22@23c for prime deodorized. We note a sale of 125 new oil barrels at from $3,70 to $4,75 each.

Philadelphia Market.

JULY 10.—There is very little demand for Breadstuffs, the market being dull and drooping. Sales of Flour are mostly limited to the wants of the trade, who buy sparingly, at $5,75 to $6,87½ per barrel for superfine, $6,90 to $7,25 for extra, $7,50 to $8 for extra family, $7,50 to $8 for fancy brands—according to quality. There is little or no demand for export and holders generally are free sellers at these rates. The only sale reported is 1000 barrels round hoop Ohio extra at $6 per barrel. Rye Flour is in request with small receipts and dull at $5,25 per barrel. Corn Meal is quiet but nominal at $4 for Penna, and $4,25 for Brandywine.

There is not much Wheat offering and the demand is limited, with prices unsettled and lower. Small sales of Penna Red at $1,42 and Southern White at $1,58 in store, at which rates there are more sellers than buyers. Rye is quiet; we quote Penna nominal at $1,03. Corn comes in slowly and prime yellow is held at 87 c, but with small sales. Oats are not much inquired after at the late advance; we quote them at 76@77c weight.

In Provisions there is a firmer feeling for Beef and green meats, which are wanted at fully former rates.

There is very little demand for Whisky, and it is nominal at 37½@38c. for barrels—the latter for Ohio and grudge at 40c.

Cleveland Market.
