Well, the teachings of the World, an Hereld, and Daily News are beginning vield their legitimate fruit in the works of their spi disciples of the Five Points. Murdetter of the King of comm to Admider and rapine are let loose in the hanns der and rapine are let loose in the haunts of treason, and the millionaires of the Fifth ayenue—the speculators in gold, and stocks, and merchandise—who trembled at the viotories of Gettysburg and Vicksburg, as their card-palaces began to tumble to pieces under the concussions of our guns, and hoped to effect a diversion in favor of Jury. Davis by a resistance to the draft, have been visited in their brown stone mansions by the wild beast which they have been petting and pampering for other purposes. We thought it would come to this. When the Fifth avenue and Five Points, the opposite extremes of New York society, locked hands, verifying the old apophthegm, that extremes ayenue—the speculators in gold, and stocks, ing the old apophthegm, that extremes to sometimes meet, it just occurred to us that the association might lead to a rather uncomfortable familiarity hereafter. The Patricians of the avenue have fed the Danmark of the past." He then declares himself for "the complete annihilation of the past." tons, and the Murats, and the Bobespierres of Siavery." the press with the blood which they have ignorant and depraved populace like that ilized. of New York-the mere soum, and sweepfind to their confusion—these very pursespecter of persons or of property, and but a publication. hungry undiscriminating fiend, who has a taste for nick-nacks and bijouteris as well as them, and licks his chope with inceffable delight, as he measures their own carcassessiand speculates how they will cut up into reasts, and how they will "tallow in the kidneys." Poor, rich men! who buy libraries that you never read, and know no Bible or Constitution but your stock ledgers, history is but repeating itself in you, but will not the events of the last few days stir you into unwonted thought, and admonish you of the volcano upon which you have been steeping in fancied security, and the dangerous character of the tools which you have been scerilessly handling? A little more of the scenes you bare the periphoral security, and the sunger property of the scenes you be the property of the scenes is a solid, and the sunger which you have been scerilessly handling? And SERMOUR, too, the speetle of liberty, who stood so bravely pledged to protect the people of New York against the tyranny of the General Government, how feeble and tremulous is he in the presence of his ewn bounds as they bay open-mouthed around him, and with uncomfortable visions, no doubt, of the unhappy fate of Actson flitting over his disordered brain! "Good friends! Sweet friends! Let me assure you that I am your friend. You have been my friends. To prove my friendship, I have sent my Adjutant to Washington to have the draft stopped. When he returns you shall be satisfied. Separate, now, and you can assemble again whenever you please."

The people are well disposed everywhere to submit to the exigencies of the times. If the time of commerce. He denies this emphatically, and states that Federal cruisers have no commerce that the times with which submit to the exigencies of the times. If our rulers should prove se weak as to give an inch under the menace of a New York mob, it may prove the signal for a general revolt. The people will aid the Government, if necessary, in enforcing the law in that city. Paris gave law to France in the arm of her great revolution, because Paris see France. New York, thank God, is not America, and cannot be allowed to give the law of the remunerative temptations to a law of this great's country.
