THURSDAY MORNING, JULY 30.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

From Yesterday's Evening Gazette.

The Night Police.

It seems that the night police have become indignant at the action of Councils in refusing to increase their salary to one dollar and a half per night, and that they have actually thrown down their maces and refused to serve any longer. We do not question their right to resign, but they certainly exhibit very little regard for the interests of the city in quitting thus suddenly. They might at least have served out the month; but their object seems to be to force a compliance with their demands. As we have before stated, the members of Councils are not opposed to paying the augment, provided good men are employed, but some of the members are decidedly of the opinion that many of the watchmen now employed are paid much more than they are worth. A majority of your citizens, we think, entertain precisely the same opinion. And now, since they have all quit, we hope that none will be reappointed who is not fully qualified for the position. Let the aged and the infirm, the lame and the disabled, be set aside. Better have ten good, active, vigilant men, than the whole four men from a strike. The Police Committee should have entire control of this matter, and it would not be long until a marked change for the better would be visible. In the meantime, we think there is no occasion for alarm. Some arrangement will no doubt be made, whereby the city can be properly guarded until such time as Councils can take the necessary action.

Morgan's Personal Appearance.

A correspondent, who had an interview with the rebel chief, John H. Morgan, after his capture, gives the following: "We have been asked a thousand and one times what kind of a man Morgan is, and how he looks. We would say for the relief of all concerned, he has neither horns nor hoofs, but he is a man. He informed me that his age is thirty-three years, though his present appearance would indicate forty. I presume he told me the truth. His care-worn countenance at this time is not a proper index of his age. His stature is six feet; weight about 190 pounds; shoulders square and broad; body straight and erect; head common size; small foot for a man of his size; small grayish eyes, with deep and numerous wrinkles at the corner of each in the skin, with an expression of mirthfulness. Whiskers and mustache black; soft, dark auburn hair, slightly curled at the end; fair complected; red face; good looking; soft, pleasant, musical voice; agreeable manners, &c. In short, a ladies man. He was dressed when captured with black, soft, slouch, broad brimmed hat, grey round about, grey pants, fine slip-skin boots, pants inside his boot legs. He was not dressed different from private soldiers."

Pennsylvanians under Gen. Grant.

A Pittsburgher, writing to us from Jackson, Miss., gives the following list of Pennsylvania Regiments now in that department. The 45th, Col. Curtin; the 50th, Col. Crist, now commanding Second Brigade, Second Division; 51st, Lieut. Col. Bell commanding; and the 109th (Roundhead) Col. Leasure. The State is well represented in these brave troops.

Our correspondent says:

"A very bad state of feeling has existed among the Western troops toward our corps. Their jealousy led them to say and do very many unmanly acts toward us. This feeling, I am sorry to say, extended to officers as well as men. So far we have cared very little for the insults heaped upon us, knowing full well the history of the 9th corps is as bright as any in the service, and that here, as elsewhere, they will do their whole duty to their country."

Shocking Casualty—A Whole Family Drowned.

A shocking catastrophe occurred on Sunday last, in Black River township, Lorain county, Ohio. Mr. Herwig, a Protestant German, with his wife and five children, set out about eight o'clock in the morning, in their wagon, to attend church at Amherst. About an hour afterwards, as some men were crossing the bridge at Beaver Creek, they saw two horses struggling in the water. The neighbors were alarmed, and the horses extricated. When the carriage was drawn out, the bodies of Mr. Herwig, his wife, and the five children, comprising the entire family, were found in it, quite dead. It is supposed that in crossing the bridge the horses became frightened and backed off into the river, or ferry, becoming entangled in the carriage, all the seven were drowned. The oldest of the children was a girl about fourteen years of age.

The Case of Charles Rogers.

On Monday, Charles Rogers, arrested here some days ago for robbing Major Baldridge, at the McLure House, Wheeling, of $250, had a hearing before Alderman Duffy of Wheeling. The evidence was not sufficient to justify the charge. None of the witnesses recognised Rogers as the man who was seen coming out of Major Baldridge's room. Mr. Williamson, clerk of the McLure House, said he had seen Rogers about the house within the last three week, and regarded him as a suspicious person. To this Rogers replied that the witness was swearing a lie and knew it—that he had not been in the McLure House for four years. Rogers was discharged by the Alderman, when he was immediately arrested by Capt. Thorpe as a deserter from the 8th Missouri regiment.

An Unpleasant Situation.

One of Morgan's men was captured on Friday last, not far from Mount Pleasant, Ohio, by Capt. Milhouse, who placed him in charge of a half intoxicated fellow who undertook to guard him. Before leaving the intoxicated fellow alone with the prisoner, Capt. M. gave him a pistol in order to deter the rebel from attempting to make his escape. The Captain had scarcely got out of sight before the befuddled militiaman drew the pistol, aimed it at the prisoner's breast, saying that he had a notion to shoot him, and as the rebel supposed that his guard was just about drunk enough to do what he threatened, he was of course much alarmed. The guard kept his prisoner under this horrible suspense for about an hour, when Captain Milhouse returned and put an end to it.

Buchanan Defaced.

The editor of the Scranton Republican says:

"We saw a curious embellishment the other day, a five dollar bill on the Pottsville Bank, which contains in one corner a vignette of James Buchanan. Some loyal person had hanged his wife with red ink, drawn a gallows above his head from which a rope was suspended, and went, round his neck, and then branded his forehead with the word "Traitor." This is but one of hundreds. The Bank has had to call in all its issues with this portrait on it, as unmistakable are the manifestations of popular indignation against the man who might, had he had the will or the pluck, have nipped this rebellion in the bud, as Jackson did before him."

PITTSBURGH TROOPS RETURNING.—A number of the men connected with the 126th regiment, which has been stationed in North Carolina, and also a number belonging to the 139th, which has been in the Peninsula, arrived in this city last night. More are expected to arrive this afternoon.

NEW BOOK-KEEPER.—Gault's Combination Rubber Eraser and Eraser Sharpener, can be had at J. W. Pittock's news depot, opposite the Postoffice.

The City Councils and the Allegheny Arsenal.

The thanks of every loyal man in this community are due to our City Councils for their action in relation to the commandant of the Allegheny Arsenal, in employing persons holding disloyal sentiments towards our Government.

The loyal people of Lawrenceville, for two years past, have been trying to purge the Arsenal of men whose daily conversation has been an insult to the loyal employees—who have been compelled to listen to continued expressions of shameful disloyalty, or leave their situations. A short time since, several persons were dismissed upon testimony taken and placed in the hands of the commandant, and after their dismissal, it appears that John B. Butler, the Military Storekeeper at the Arsenal, came forward as their friend and champion, and has induced Major Whiteley to overrule his former action and restore the men he had a few days before dismissed. Had Butler more influence than both of our Congressmen and the loyal people of Lawrenceville, who asked the dismissal of those men upon the testimony taken?

There were a dozen witnesses against Thos. K. Lacey, who swore not only to disloyal expressions, but that he retarded the Government work, and yet we find Maj. Whiteley with all that testimony in his hands, giving Lacey a strong letter of recommendation for loyalty and good conduct, which was published a few days since in the Pittsburgh Post. If those persons who were suspended for disloyal sentiment, have been restored to their former employment in the Allegheny Arsenal, a loyal community should stand by the City Councils, and aid them in setting the matter right. John B. Butler and Maj. Whiteley will undoubtedly be better suited, and find more congenial friends in some other latitude.

LATE TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

[FROM OUR EVENING EDITION.]

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

The Situation in Virginia.

NEW YORK, July 28.—The Herald has the following: A Union force now occupies the north bank of the Rappahannock river, near the Station.

The fortifications erected by Gen. Pope serve to screen our pickets from the enemy's observation. Their pickets, mounted and dismounted, are in plain view, and cavalry patrol their beat within short carbine range.

The river at this point is not fordable for a large force, although it would be possible for a small body of cavalry to cross.

It is stated by rebel prisoners that Stuart is no longer in command of the rebel cavalry, but has been assigned to an infantry corps, and has been succeeded in cavalry by Fitz-Hugh Lee.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Washington dispatches to the Herald say it is stated by secession sympathisers in this city usually well informed in regard to rebel movements, that Gen. Lee's army is to reconvey its former position south of the Rappahannock at Fredericksburg. There is reason to believe that the Government anticipated such a movement of the rebel forces. The destruction of what remained of the wharves and buildings at Aquia creek, three days ago by the rebels, is another evidence of this determination, as it was evidently to embarrass as much as possible the re-establishment of the base of supplies at that place.

THE REBEL INVASION OF KENTUCKY.

The Capture of Morgan.

CINCINNATI, July 29.—The following information was received at headquarters last night:

Col. Pegram, with between fifteen hundred and two thousand men, crossed the Cumberland river, a day or two since, and moved north toward Richmond. He was in the vicinity of that place at last accounts.

The prevailing opinion here, in military circles, is that when Pegram started he wasn't aware of the capture of Morgan, and contemplated assisting him to escape.

The disposal of our forces, in Kentucky is such as will be impossible for him to either advance much further or escape.

Columbus specials say the question whether Capt. Burbeck had authority to accept the surrender of Morgan, will be speedily determined. Burbeck was not a regularly elected militia Captain, nor had he any command at the time of Morgan's surrender. Burbeck and his few companions, was acting as guides for Morgan, when the latter discovering our forces closing in upon him, offered to surrender to him, in order that he might secure terms to suit himself.

Burbeck at once granted the terms which Morgan proposed. Gen. Shackelford came up and took charge of the gang, refusing to recognize the terms of surrender.

Morgan will doubtless be sent back to Columbus and lodged in the penitentiary.

The draft takes place in this State in a few days.

POSSIBLE FOREIGN WAR

The Fitting Out of Vessels of War in British Ports.

DISPATCH TO EARL RUSSELL.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Herald's Washington dispatch says:

Earl Russell has ere this been informed that the United States will not permit the fitting out of vessels-of-war in British ports to prey upon our commerce, and that, if it is allowed to proceed, we shall not hesitate to go into British ports to capture such vessels. If this be war, England must make the most of it.

In a little while all the principal Southern ports, from Virginia to Texas, will be garrisoned with Union troops, and our whole navy, except what may be required to keep open the navigation of the Mississippi, will be liberated for operations against a foreign foe. There are indications that the British government will take a sensible view of the course, and avoid any collision with us. But if it should not, we shall unquestionably have a foreign war upon our hands without delay.

THE LATE ATTACK ON FORT WAGNER.

The Charleston Mercury's Account.

EXPECTED ATTACK ON ATLANTA BY GENERAL ROSECRANS.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The Charleston Mercury's account of the late attack on Fort Wagner, admits that our forces held a portion of the fort over an hour under a most galling fire. The rebels captured over 200 prisoners, including a few negro troops, and buried over 600 of our dead.

The rebel loss is estimated at one hundred. The rebels state that the bombardment was terrible, but their men were amply protected by bomb proofs.

The Atlanta Confederacy, of the 23d, states that the city is preparing to defend itself from an anticipated attack by Rosecrans.

Rebel Dispatches from Grant's Department—Pemberton's Corps Reorganized.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Rebel dispatches dated Morton, July 21, state no change in affairs to-day. The enemy are busily engaged in tearing up the track between Brandon and Jackson. They burned the depot at the latter place last night.

Grant is preparing to fall back, as there is no water in his front.

Our army has gone into permanent camp. Gen. Grant is reported shipping troops down the Mississippi river, for the purpose of attacking Mobile.

Lieut. Gen. Hardee has arrived and taken command under Johnston.

Pemberton's corps will be organized immediately and placed in the field.

The Draft in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 29.—The draft in the 5th ward was completed to-day. Among those drawn were Morris Harding, of the Philadelphia Inquirer, and five telegraphers of the American and National lines.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH DAILY GAZETTE, }
WEDNESDAY, July 29, 1863 }

The money market presented no new feature worthy of notice. The rates of Gold and Silver were the same as on the previous day. Eastern Exchange is nominally noted, viz., buying at par, and selling at ¼ per cent.

FLOUR—The market yesterday presented no new feature either as regards prices or demand as the latter is altogether for local purposes from store to meet the wants of the trade. The stock in first hands is not large, whilst the receipts were principally by wagon, occasionally a few parcels arrives by rail. We never witnessed a less disposition to operate than at the present time. We note sales of 110 bbls Extra from store at $5,35, $5,50@5,60 per bbl; 150 bbls Extra Family at $6,00@6,50. Other small lots were disposed of at about the same range of prices. Wagon lots were disposed of at from 25@50c ₱ bbl lower, as to quality.

HAY—The receipts yesterday exhibited a falling off. The sales were limited at new $10@25; old $25 @30 ₱ ton.

WHISKY—was in fair demand; with further sales of City Rectified at 44@45c per gallon.

FISH—The demand has fallen off of prices, however, have undergone no change, we omit quotations.

CHEESE—The supply in first hands is rapidly disappearing. Prices tend upward; sales of 75 bbls No 1 at $2,50 p-r bbl, the late advance being fully sustained.

GROCERIES—Market firm, with a steady demand; sales of 10 bbls Old crop 56c—12 bbls do new at 60c—Syrups are selling at different prices.

BACON—We have no new features to notice, buyers have to submit, holders at present having a decided advantage. The opening of the Mississippi is beginning to be felt already in regard to provisions—We note sales as follows: 12,000 lbs Plain Hams 9c@ 9¼—Canvassed do 10¼@10¾—Shoulders 6¾—Sides 6¾@7c. 2,000 lbs S C Hams 12¼@13¼—Sales of country meat were made at lower figures.

APPLES—The new crop is beginning to arrive slowly. The rates however are too unsettled to give anything like a correct quotation, a few bbls were disposed of at $3 per barrel.

BUTTER—The weather being unfavorable transactions were limited—Among the sales we note one of 1,500 bbls Roll at 14c@16 per lb as per quantity.

EGGS—The demand was only moderate—Sales of 8 bbls at 11c a large lot would not demand them figure.

GRAIN—The market is about as dull as it could well be—In the absence of sales we omit quotations. Prices however were unchanged.

Pittsburgh Petroleum Market.

JULY 29—The market for Crude Oil is quiet but fear of one sale, viz., 100 bbls at 23¾c.

Refined is more active, and is generally held firm at 45c in bond, immediate delivery, and 50c, tax paid. A sale of 500 bbls city brand is reported at 44c in bond, on board cars, immediate delivery. For September and October delivery, there is considerable inquiry; sales are reported of 500 bbls Fatrons brand, October delivery, at 46c, and 500 bbls Keirs brand, October delivery, at 49c, all in bond on board cars. In Benzine there is nothing doing.

New York Petroleum Market.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

NEW YORK, July 29—The market for Crude is steady with a fair demand at 31¼@32c. Refined, in bond, is in moderate demand, and prices are a shade lower; sales at 47@49c. For August delivery, sales at 50c; for September 53@54c; for October and November 59c. Naptha is nominal at 23@24c. G.

Philadelphia Cattle Market.

JULY 27—The arrivals and sales of Beef Cattle are large this week, reaching about 1,900 head. The early part of July, the warm weather unfavorably affected the cattle, and prices declined fully 1c. On the business, and prices have rallied fully that amount. Fully one-half the Pennsylvania and Western cattle are selling at 11@10¾c; 7¾@10c for extra; 6@7c for common, according to quality.

There was little doing at the close to-day than we noticed for some time past, and holders offered to sell at lower prices than the above.

The receipts and sales of Sheep at Phillips' Sheep—The arrivals and sales of Sheep at Phillips' Avenue Drove Yard are moderate this week, reaching about 4,000 head. There is a good demand, and prices of good sheep are rather better—ranging at from 5@5½ ₱ lb gross. Lambs are selling at from $3@5 ₱ head, according to quality.

Hogs—The arrivals and sales of Hogs at the Union and Avenue Drove Yards reach about 2,700 head this week. The market is very dull, but prices are without change, ranging at from $7@8,25 ₱ 100 lbs net.

Cows and Calves at the Avenue Drove Yard by John Gibbs, at from $7@8 ₱ 100 lbs net.

Grease & Co. at from $7@8 ₱ 100 lbs net.
