TUESDAY MORNING, AUG. 4. LOCAL INTELLIGENCE. From Yesterday's Evening Gazette. Sick and Wounded Boldiers. This morning, about one o'clock, a train of ears arrived in this ofly from Phinadelphia, containing three hundred and fifty sick and wounded Ohio troops, being transferred from the Philadelphia hospitals to Cincinnati. The Bublistence Committee had been duly notified of the time at which the train would arrive, and they had made ample preparations rive, and they had made ample preparations for attending to their wants. When the train arrived, the Committee found that the wanted of could not be removed to City Hall; owing to the abaraster of their wounds, and the food aptended for their north ment was neatly papered up and given them is the cars. Afterwards thay ware farnished with tea, coffe, lowater, etc. Many of these pour follows were no severely wounded that they had to be conveyed from the electric the western cars on litters. It was a pitiful sight to see so many of these bave man or inpled for life—many having lota her or an arm. They were all Histors. It was a pittini sight to see as many of these brave men orippied for life—many having lots a leg or an earn. They were all wounded in the battle of Gettyburg, and have recovered jumbiently to encode them to be removed to their native flats, where they will be so situated as to receive the visits and attentions of their friends. They were not desirated here more than half as hour, and we are pleased to learn that they were furnished with the best possible so-commodations on the cars from Philadelphia to this city. They had abundance of room, and those unable to ait up were furnished with beds placed over the backs of the seets. They came through on fait time, having followed immediately after the mail train. They were also furnished with excellent/accommodations for the batance of their journey.

Burglary on Wood Street.

This morning, between two o'clock and daylight, the hardware store of Mr. W. W.
Young, corner of Wood street and Virgin alley, was entered—or rather one of the shutters on the alley window was shored from its pesition, a large pane-of glass broken, and a fine double-barrieled abot gun stolen. The this, fair breaking the glass, had enly to insert his hand and take-out the gun, as the gun-case is blaced immediately against the window. The gun was valued at $45.

On the previous Saturday morning, two gans ware stolen from this store in the same way, but they were only valued at $45.

The thief evidently desired a better artiele, and hence his second visit. Mr. Young was on, watch Sunday night, and left at two o'clock. It is a pity that he did not remain a while longer, as he might have got a shot at the thief.

The regular watchmen are not new on day, having "struck" for higher wages. A private watchman, homews, had been employed along Wood'street; but he did not happen to be "just there" when the robbery was perpetrated. This had been the case with our watchmen generally for a long time past—they are always "gomewhere eles."

The Most Universal Classic.—One to the agricultural papers has, in a recens number, an article, the object of which if to show that for real educational power, the Bible will be a better book of study for any person in this country than any other eingle book. Apart from its religious end and the greatest power in forming and educations in the greatest power and power and power and power and power and powe Ford at nine o'clock yesterday moraing. Our the agricultural papers has, in a recens time the tokens were issued, the community were very badly off for small charge, and merchants were at a loss for the wast of it; that parties intuing tokens without understanding they were guilty of a violation of the law antil after they had issued a thousand of them, as soon as they found qui it was in about half a mile above the railroad station.

The Judge read that part of the act of Congress of July 11, 1863, which clearly declared the issuing of tokens inlegal. He said that he cause before the Court he would couly impose a nominal fine, and inform the gentlemen that they must recall their issue of tokens from circulation.

The Court adjourned until ten o'clock Tuesday morning.

During a winit to Camp Gopeland.

During a winit to Camp Gopeland, at Braddock's Fields, we were surprised to issue of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the court had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the men there that they had been sent to the of the men there that they had been sent to the men there that they had been sent to the men there that they had been sent to the men there that they had been sent to the men there the them the country that the following regiments: The 8th New York, $th U.S., the Bible will be a better book of study for the pennsylvania, 5th U.S., the Bible will be a better book of study for the bested that the sent they had it to the sent the sent that they had been sent to the other than the product of the pennsylvania, 5th U.S., the Bible will be a better book of study for the the sent of the sent where the exemy fell back en their infantry supports.

We ware then obliged to retire, after a brisk fight with both their infantry and cavalry, the rebels outnumbering us two to one after they had fallen back to a point where their infantry supports same to their assistance.

Our loss in the fight near Culespeper, which was most important, was a few killed and 66 wounded. The latter arrived here and are in the Douglass Hospital.

There is more in this idea than would at first appear. The forming spirits of the institutions of this country were men whose minds were themselves formed by a very close study of the Bible. To the tame cold, calculating Western intellect, the images of that volume gave an oriental fire and energy that formed a new combination of character, a new type of thinking, and of speaking, and of seating, which renders for cooking rations, had they been farnished.

There are no cooking attorish in the ground, and notther coal now would. The laster arrived here and are in consequence, was, that, during. Saturday and Sunday, this colditors who were short of provincing the state of t tion, how much more is it necessary in or-der to enable us to grasp the truths which they, beyond all previous ages, then wrought out. Justice in civil government and liberty, with all the great principles and liberty, with all the great principles of self-government and equal rights, were learned by them from the Bible and from the Church government, which they at thought they saw there. When in 1646, they formed at Cambridge their platform for the free government and intercourse of the Churches of that Coleny, they without knowing it, formed that which gave birth to the free republic into which the whole colonies formed thamselves when the tie snapped which bound them to the parent country.

The educated men of those days were all educated on a Scriptural basis to a much greater degree than now, probably. So that it becomes impossible to understand the origin of forming ideas on which those men were sating, except by understanding the Scriptures on which they built their laws, their customs, their social intercourse—every thing in fact.

Still further within the last fifty years lible Societies have so diffused that book in every kouse, that it has become the fountain whence, above all other books, the millions have and will draw all their deepest thoughts and most striking feares.
