Deserters Flocking to Gen. Meade's Lines.

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller, with the Army of the Potomac, writes;

Within the last three days some twenty deserters have come within our lines at this place, including an orderly-sergeant from a Louisiana regiment, who says he resides within forty miles of New Orleans and is desirous of returning to his home. He reports that large numbers of Louisianians are watching for a favorable opportunity to desert, being anxious to return to their homes. My informant also says that the news of the fall of Vicksburg and Port Hudson, and the opening of the Mississippi, has greatly disheartened the Mississippi and Louisiana troops.

This feeling of discontent and despondency, he asserts, is not confined to particular State regiments, but all save the Texans are discouraged at the present aspect of affairs in the so-called Confederacy. Quite a number have been placed under arrest and confined in the guard house for uttering language prejudical to the interest and safety of the South. The remainder of the deserters who have been brought within our lines are conscripts from this State. One man informed me that he was a native of Virginia, and at the breaking out of the rebellion he strongly opposed it, but his neighbors began to suspect him of infidelity and he was called a traitor. His two sons were conscripted, and both were slain at Gettysburg.

He has been a member of Stuart's cavalry, and says he has purchased three horses out of his own private funds, all of which have been shot while in the rebel service; yet the government refuses to recompense him. The prisoner bitterly remarked, 'he had got farmishing horses for Jeff. Davis, and when they got any more service out of him or any more of his blood his hairs would be white.'"

The Slaves of Rebels Returned from Indiana.

The Evansville (Ind.) Journal, of the 8th inst., has the following:

Two negroes were arrested in Spencer county and brought to this city, where they went through the form of an examination before Commissioner Embree yesterday. They were claimed by a man named Elliot, who resides somewhere in the Green River country.

We did not hear the evidence, but learned that there was ample proof as to the identity of the claimant, and of his title to the "chattels." We are told that one man, when asked if Little was loyal, answered that he was too loyal—that war what ailed him. One of the negroes claimed that he had been the property of a man in West Virginia, who is now in the rebel army.

The other negro says that he formerly belonged to Robert Snowden, of Oldham county, Ky., who is also in the rebel army, and is probably now a prisoner in Indianapolis or Camp Chase. He says that after "this mess" went into the rebel army he was brought to Louisville and put into a slave pen, from which he was taken to the Green river country by the claimant Little.

This negro, whose name is Paris, tells a straight story, knows all the men in the neighborhood, and is doubtless entitled to his freedom under the confiscation act. They were, of course, awarded to the claimant, and went up Green river last night on the R. K. Dunkerson, consigned by Commissioner Stinson to perpetual bondage, for which he gets the handsome little fee of $10.

The Value of Slaves in Southern Kentucky.

The Nashville Union says:

We have conversed recently with several large slaveholders from Southern Kentucky. They say that the decline in the price of slaves is from thirty to fifty per cent., the average decline being nearer the latter figure. The price of cotton and staple hangs like a cloud over the land. And while this is done south of the Tallahatchie, Chalmers is beginning the work of destruction north of that stream, and between it and Coldwater creek.

Orders have been issued to burn all, and his forces are out in every direction carrying them into execution. They swear not a bale shall be left for Federal confiscation, and we believe that in less than thirty days Mississippi—proud and once prosperous Mississippi will be a desolate waste, a vast plain of smouldering ruins.

The Results of the Draft.

It is alleged in some quarters that, owing to exemptions, &c., the draft is not likely after all to add materially to the strength of the army. The facts in the case do not sustain this allegation. Large detachments of men from Pennsylvania and other States have already gone forward; and a body of one thousand from the Massachusetts rendezvous was ready to leave on Saturday.—Were the draft immediately enforced in all the States, fully one hundred thousand men would be added to our armies before the first of September.

The State of Sonora and Mexico.

There is no doubt felt as to the status of Sonora in the event of Mexico becoming a French province. The people of Sonora are strongly attached to California, and will never consent to leave her to follow the downward fortunes of the Mexican Republic. There is also a disposition among Californians to resist the Mexicans or French in any encroachments upon the rights of Sonora, which, it is thought, will soon become a neutral Republic, or become attached to the American Union.

A Large Cornfield.—An officer of one of the Illinois regiments in the Army of the West says: "In our expedition along the Yazoo river bottoms we passed through a cornfield thirty miles in extent. The corn exceeded anything I have ever seen in Illinois."

Cotton Arriving at New Orleans.—Six hundred bales of cotton arrived at New Orleans during the week ending on the 31st ult.

From the Army of the Cumberland.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of yesterday, says:

We had the pleasure of meeting, last evening, Col. Moore, of the 69th Ohio, and Major Grosvenor, of the 18th Ohio. They left Decherd, Tenn., on Friday evening, and bring the latest advices from General Rosecrans' headquarters. The health of the army was extraordinarily good. The weather was more comfortable than it is here. The railroad was running to Bridgeport, and supplies were therefore regular and abundant. Movements were in preparation which indicate important work as close at hand in that department. What the plan is of course is not made public; but that there is a very extensive plan which is to be speedily executed, we are permitted to know. For the rest people can very well afford to wait.

Advices as to Bragg's army, deemed reliable, placed his available forces at 28,000. His headquarters were at Chattanooga.

Another State Coming.

Another new State will soon stand at the door of the Union claiming admission into the family circle. On the second of September the people of Nevada territory will elect delegates to a constitutional convention, by which the machinery for a State government will be put in motion. This territory was organized in March, 1861, and has a population of some sixty thousand. It lies west of 115 degrees of longitude, and north of about 38 degrees of latitude, having Utah on the east, Oregon on the north and California on the west.

The whole territory is rich in mineral wealth, seven of its nine organized counties having mines of either gold or silver, while its agricultural resources adapt it to populous settlement and guaranty staple prosperity. The general election for territorial and county officers is held annually on the first Wednesday of September. It is not improbable that Nevada will be regularly admitted as a State at the next session of Congress, adding another commonwealth to the galaxy of free States.

This war of the rebellion has been sanguinary enough to fill the whole land with mourning, and yet there have been wars far more destructive of life. It appears from the best historical testimony, that of one million two hundred thousand men enrolled in the armies of France in 1813, only one hundred thousand were alive in 1814, and that the loss of the Allied Powers in the wars with Napoleon was, according to the London Times, not less than "five millions of men in the prime of life." France, in the same period, lost about six millions.

Retaliation.—The President is determined to carry into effect his recent order relative to the retaliation upon prisoners of war. He has ordered that three prisoners from South Carolina shall be held in close confinement as hostages for three negro seamen captured on the gunboat Isaac Smith, and who are now in prison at Charleston. All other prisoners, whether white or black, treated by the enemy in a manner not applicable to prisoners of war, will be equally represented by southern men.

Resignation of Mr. Craig.—Mr. D. H. Craig, for many years the telegraphic agent for the New York Associated Press, has withdrawn from that position, and is succeeded by Mr. Bradford, a gentleman who is well known not only for his experience, but for his uniform courtesy and his desire to do equal and exact justice to all the persons concerned in the receipt of authentic intelligence.

It is understood in the Army of the Potomac that Lee has been reinforced by Bishop-Gen. Polk's entire division; but at the same time Lee has sent a division to help Beauregard, at Charleston. None of Lee's infantry are north of the Rapidan.

An inquiring clerk in the dead letter office is said to have found that out of six thousand eight hundred and fifty letters written by females, only three hundred and twenty-five were without postscripts. Some of the letters contained three.

Push.—The Unionists of Ohio say that George E. Pugh, the Copperhead candidate for the Lieutenant-Governorship on the Vallandigham ticket, is opposed to the prosecution of the war not from principle but from Pughilistianimity.

TEETH EXTRACTED WITHOUT PAIN.—We take this method of informing our friends and the public generally that we are now prepared to EXTRACT TEETH WITHOUT PAIN by the practice of Dentistry. Those who have been deterred from having their teeth operated on by any other dentist, on account of the severe pain usually attending the operation, may now lay aside their fears and give us a call, as the apparatus we have in use has been thoroughly tested during the past four years, fully establishing the safe and painless character of the operation. No Drugs or Chemicals or Galvanic Battery used. In all cases requiring the services of a good set of reliable teeth we will do well to call and consult with
