Buchanan Released by a Wounded Soldier.

Ex-President Buchanan and suite, en route, from Bedford Springs to Wheatland, passed through Harrisburg on Saturday last. After Mr. Buchanan had changed cars, and a few minutes before the train started, a crowd was collected in front of the car he occupied, gazing with quite curiosity at the infirm old man, whose eminency took occasion from object to object, as it is believed, to mean the guard of citizens and the soldiers present upon the occasion. Just then a soldier who had lost an arm, began to shake the stump in the direction of ex-President, exclaiming loudly: "I've defended your flag for this! (points to his disabled arm) and the Devil will blow me to hell when I die for you!" At this point the whistle of the locomotive announced the signal of departure, and Buchanan with the rebuke of the wounded soldier thundering in his already pale and sunken cheek, was soon lost to the distance with the train.

Tarentum Camp Meeting.

The camp meeting, arranged to be held on the old camp grounds near Tarentum, commences to-day. Quite a number of ministers, [illegible] to-day, to take part in the opening services.

The trains will leave on the Allegheny Valley Railroad as follows: 7 A. M.; 2:40 and 4:45 P. M. There open air meetings have been held annually, for a period of ten years past, with the exception of 1861 & '62, the services were dispensed with on account of the disturbed state of the country. The grounds are owned by the Methodist church, and embrace about fifteen acres, which are admirably suited for the purpose. Ample accommodations are provided for all who choose to attend. The present meeting will continue for one week.

Residences Avenue Property.—We call the beautifully situated lots hereinafter described to be sold on the premises next Saturday afternoon, will certainly attract those who desire a choice and convenient location for suburban residence. The view of the whole of Oakland and East Liberty valley is commanded by the easy and natural inclination of the lots; spreading out the lovely panorama of cultivated fields, gardens and elegant homes which literally line the scene. This has always been the favorite direction for improvement from our city; and there are no sites more desirable on Pennsylvania Avenue than those advertised by Darragh, McIlvaine, auctioneers. Call for a plan, and visit the lots before sale.

Re-opening of the Theater.—Manager Hewson will re-open the theatre on Saturday evening next with a well selected and [illegible] Having just returned from the interior of the building, we can say that it is now very comfortable.
