It is gratifying to see the rapid extension of the country. Here is room for reform, and it is one which may be tangibly reached, and which will excite the sympathies and awaken the alumbring judgment of the country. The "twenty-one years" of probation is a chimerical ides, but the Convention here have added that terrible, forever and forever, to the twenty-one years and the wenty-five dollars.

We have not room nor time to say all we could wish upon this subject, but literings to a part of the debates yesterday,—and they were certainly warder the debates yesterday,—and they were certainly warder the debates yesterday,—and they were certainly warder that the Whig party had made no movement clare that the Whig party had made no movement within a year after being completed.
