Sketches from Arkansas.

Continuation of Visit to the Hot Springs —Volcanic remains—Funeral—Music —Specimen of Arkansas impromptu poetry—Negro Ball—and Sequel.

After luxuriating in all the felicity of a vapor bath, and enjoying the soft and delightful immersion in the warm water afterwards, which, pouring in from above, is agreeably tempered in the fuller rambe the better prepared for and wonderble around this sequel is the throng to working valley, the summer season—this place of the lame, the halt, and the and the and one specimens of crippled diseased humanity pour in from all quarters. The celebrity of the Springs has, as might be expected, given rise to various and contending claims for the ownership to the place. Repeated applications have been made to Congress to confirm the title to one or more of these claimants, but without success.—The consequence has been, that sundry fearful and bloody encounters have taken place to gain or to keep possession, and blood, always the price of contention now-a-days, has flowed in profusion in these disputes.

As I before remarked, volcanic agency must have very active here. Indeed, to the most casual observer, it is apparent that some terrible convulsion of nature must have burst over the whole valley. The abrupt and precipitous appearance of the knobs, immense masses of rock rent in many a fissure, the fragments of other and different kinds firmly glued together, and withal the high temperature of the water itself, palpably indicates intense combustion at a distance not very remote from the surface.

I have purposely avoided stratifying, that is to say, I have not paused for an instant to give you the mystic name of this rock or that pebble, which the horrible nomenclature of modern geology might term something else. My observations are made en passant, and without any particular predilection to the theories of either Hutton or Werner

Let us now stroll down the street, as it may be termed, which, with one or two exceptions, is lined on either side with those smoky wooden huts, with ricketty doors and slab-sided chimneys, so often seen in these new and unimproved regions. As we pass along, a curse upon the preachers is howled out from one of these repulsive looking hovels. It is a grocery—one of those low, wicked and detested places where, without disguise or shame, the devil himself is publicly worshipped, and men's damnation openly purchased for a dime.

We were next called upon to attend a funeral, and my companion ex-officio must perform the services. O Man! Man! thou inconsistent creature. But a moment before a vicious curse is breathed out upon the head of him who now, with solemnity and interest, stands between the living and the dead. Now some of the same men follow to the grave and weep, as the widow wails and the orphans cry. Behold a palpable demonstration of the truth, "Man that is born of woman is of few days and full of trouble."

O death, death, thou art indeed a mysterious and dread power. The young, the old, smiling infancy and hoary age, are alike thy victims Thou mockest at human distinctions. What is wealth, what is grandeur, what is fame to thee? Thrones and principalities and powers stop not thy march. Onward is thy stern course, and youth, and love, and hope, and passion, are scattered with one blast of thy cold breath. Sad, solemn, unutterable power, the Christian only is thy conqueror. He alone can truly say, "O death where is thy sting, O grave where is thy victory."

Once more at Cypress Cottage, the hours sped happily away. Though it boasts no superior embellishments or decorations, yet it is the habitation of peace, joy, beauty, love and refinement. The host—a fine specimen of manhood—pious, liberal and intelligent. The hostess quite as fine a picture of womanhood as can anywhere be found. One only daughter (the wife of Major B, now a prisoner in the hands of the Mexicans) and a lovely infant son, complete the usual number of this interesting family.

Lively converse, mingled with the strains of the light guitar, passed off the evening hours, and a slight incident which occurred afforded us all no small amusement. It was the more keenly enjoyed because it was unexpected, and perhaps had a relish and an aroma about it more highly felt, by those present, than it could possibly be by those who only hear of it, and that at a far off distance. It is, too, a specimen of Arkansas literature, and poetry impromptu upon a very unpoetical and uninspiring subject.

Whilst the lady above mentioned was performing one of her most attractive pieces on the guitar, a tick scampering, over her neck distracted her attention from the music, a gentleman of the party was seen to be engaged, a few moments after, in writing with his pencil. We discovered he was in consultation with the muses, and having prevailed on him for a copy, I give them as a specimen of what an Arkansas poet can do impromptu, on a very barren theme.

IMPROMPTU LINES ON SEEING A TICK ON A LADY'S NECK, WHILST SHE WAS PLAYING THE GUITAR.

A lovely lady sat and played,
In strains all rich and rare;
And music of the softest kind
Flowed from her sweet guitar.

Who has not felt the thrilling power
Of such enchanting grace?
O who could tear himself away
From this delightful place?

But suddenly the strains have ceased;
Is the fair songstress sick?
Ah no! my muse must tell the truth,
It is a wanton tick

Has taunted on the snow-white neck
Of that lady young and fair;
What can the daring little imp
Be contemplating there?

Shade of illustrious Burns arise,
Reprove the naughty trick;
Again attune thy sweetest harp—
Immortalise a TICK.

Whilst thus the evening hours wore happily with us, there was a time of high revelry in a small hut exactly opposite our cottage. There a party of colored people were taking a farewell dance in real old-fashioned style, by the blazing light of a pine-knot fire. The various circumgyrations, evolutions and manœuvres were plainly perceivable by the red and glaring light. Happening to awake at a late hour of the night, the dance was over, but what was my astonishment to hear a real camp-meeting tune, to the words "O revive us," &c., from the same uproarious set.

Next day being the Sabbath, brought with it all those thoughts and feelings peculiar to that day of sanctified rest—At eleven o'clock our friend Mr. M. threw open his doors for the proclamation of the glad tidings of the Gospel. The minister was a Methodist—a young man of a highly intellectual appearance. As he delivered with fearlessness and sincerity the whole truth from these words, "Seek first the kingdom of God," my mind was irresistibly carried back to those early days of Methodism, when by such men the banner of the cross was first unfurled in the waste places of sin and wickedness, when no other sect so boldly defied and so often routed the "prince of darkness," as did the pioneers of Methodism. MEDICAL.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.
DR. SWAYNE'S
GREAT DISCOVERY.
For the Asthma Bronchitis; Liver Complaint, Spitting Blood, Difficulty of Breathing, Consumption, Coughs, Cold, Pain in the Side, Croup, Broken Constitution.
Heart Throat, Nervous Debility, and all Diseases of the Throat Breast and Lungs, the most effectual and speedy cure ever known for any of above diseases, is DR. SWAYNE'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.
ANOTHER LIVING WITNESS.—Read with astonishment the wonderful cure performed by Doctor Swayne's Compound Syrup of WILD CHERRY
PHILADELPHIA, January 23, 1847.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: In justice to yourself and a duty I owe to suffering humanity, I cheerfully give my testimony, and declare to the world the same: astonishing effects, and the great cure your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry performed on me, under the most unfavorable circumstances. I was taken with a violent Cough, Spitting of Blood, severe Pains in the Side and Breast, which seemed to break down and enfeeble my constitution, so that my physician thought my case beyond the power of medicine, and my friends all gave me up to die; but thanks to you and the effects of your great discovery, I now feel myself a well man, and raised from a mere skeleton to as fleshy and healthy a man as I have been for years, and shall be pleased to give any information respecting my case, by calling at my residence, Mechanic street third door below George street, Northern Liberties. JACOB PAIVTER.
Testimony is now received from all quarters of the Globe.

The following letters are presented with a view of more fully showing the opinions of Physicians in relation to the Medical value of Dr. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: Having used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry extensively in my practice, I was requested by your Agent, Doctor Crutcher to express my opinion in writing of its properties as a remedial agent, I most cheerfully comply, as I feel by so doing, I will discharge a debt I owe the community at large, and Physicians in particular. As much as I detest Quack Remedies and Patent Nostrums, I was induced from a failure of the most potent expectorants, recommended in our materia medica in some cases of diseased Lungs, to try your preparation of Prunus Virginia or Wild Cherry. It is sufficient to say that I was so much pleased with the result of that and subsequent trials, that I now prescribe it in preference to all other Remedies where an expectorant is indicated. In the much dreaded Pneumonia or Disease of the Lungs, in the alarming form in which it appears in Kentucky, I regard it as an invaluable Remedy in the treatment of that disease. To all who know me I have said enough, but as the may be seen by persons out of the vicinity of Frankfort, I will briefly add, that I have been engaged in an active practice of my profession of 12 years and am a Regular Graduate of Transylvania, and this is the first Patent Medicine I ever thought enough of to express an opinion in writing.

J. H. ELLISON, M. D.
January 7th, 1847 Franklin County, Ky.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan'y 7th, 1847.

The above certificate is from one of our Physicians residing a few miles from here, he is doing a very good practice, and is considered a good Physician, and stands fair, he is, as he says, a regular graduate.

DR. W. L. CRUTCHER,
Druggist and Apothecary.
Testimonials will never cease.

From the Temperance Pledge.

Now that Winter is upon us with its attendant train of Pulmonic and Bronchial affections, Coughs Colds, &c. &c., we would advise those afflicted in this way to make immediate trial of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. It will never fail to prove a permanent cure. The reputation of this medicine has caused many spurious articles to be put forth under the name, but the genuine is of Dr. Swayne, besides being the first ever offered to the public, is the only one that can be relied on. The other articles called Wild Cherry Syrup, Balsams, &c., are all spurious and worthless, and contain none of the virtues of the original preparation, Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry.

From the Springfield Express.

Of the thousands of purported curative nostrums now before the public, but very few are found to possess the healing virtues for which they are recommended. Among the latter we are pleased to learn none stand a higher test than Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. The afflicted in this vicinity are beginning to use it, and to their joy, they find in its use their hopes based upon its recommendations more than realized. The afflicted need not despair. While there is life, there now is hope

A CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

[☞Since the introduction of my article to the public, there have a number of unprincipled individuals got up nostrums which they assert contain Wild Cherry, some are called "Balsams," "Elixirs," and even Syrup of Wild Cherry, but mine is the original and only genuine preparation ever introduced to the public. which can be proven by the public Records of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. To only safeguard against imposition as to see that my signature is on each bottle.

The THOUSAND SUCCESSES since this has attended the application of this most WONDERFUL MEDICINE in curing the most severe cases of the different Diseases above named, exceeds the HIGH ENCOMIUMS that have been bestowed upon it, wherever it has been introduced, gives me the right to call on the AFFLICTED to resort at once to the ONLY REMEDY THAT CAN BE RELIED ON.

☞The faculty unite in recommending the celebrated External Remedy, Hunt's Liniment.

The following letter from the highly eminent Physicians who have been attached to the Mount Pleasant Native Farm for many years, will be the best evidence of the value of this celebrated Liniment.

SING SING, December 25, 1845.

My Dear Sir—I received your note of yesterday, asking my opinion in relation to Hunt's Liniment, as prepared by Mr George E Stanton. Knowing its composition, and having frequently used it, I can recommend it to you as a safe External Remedy, and in my opinion, the best Liniment now in use. Very truly and respectfully yours.

Sir—In reply to your letter, I would say that I have used your External Remedy, called Hunt's Liniment, in my practice since your name was connected with its composition, and unhesitatingly say that I believe it to be the best External Remedy now in use for the complaints for which you recommend it Yours respectfully,

☞Among the mass of worthless articles and humbugs that are poured forth at the present day upon the country, it is really refreshing to find something of real practical utility, deserving of notice, speedy and effectual in its operation, and at the same time free from those injurious effects which generally accompany such remedies. Hunt's Liniment, prepared by Geo. E Stanton, of Sing Sing, though it has been but a short time before the public, has already obtained the confidence, not only of our most wealthy and influential citizens, but our most eminent physicians. All acknowledge it to be a sovereign balm for many of the ills that flesh is heir to, soothing the aching limb, and by its genuine stimulating influence, banishing disease from the system.

Mr. Stanton—Sir—Seeing your advertisement of Hunt's Liniment, I was induced to try its effects on my son, who had been crippled with a lame back from an infant; and it is with gratitude I bear testimony to its wonderful inhaling properties. My child, who is now five years of age, is now in a fair way of recovery, Yours, &c.,

N. B. I would also state that I have been for a number of years subject to frequent attacks of the Rheumatism, which in many instances prevented my attending to my business. Two or three applications of the Liniment invariably remove all affections of the kind. In cases of bruises, sprains and sores, too numerous to mention, it has in this vicinity proved a certain remedy. Its value can only be estimated by those who have given it a fair trial.

This Liniment is sold at 25 and 50 cents per bottle, by all the Principal Druggists and Merchants throughout the country.

STANTON'S EXTERNAL REMEDY, CALLED HUNT'S LINIMENT,

Is now universally acknowledged to be the UNFALLIBLE REMEDY for Rheumatism, Spasmodic Affections, Contractions of the Muscles, Sore Throat and Quinsy, Issues, Old Ulcers, Fistulas, Attacks and Chronic Ague in the Breast and Face Tooth Ache, Sprains, Bruises, Salt Rheum, Burns, Croup, Frosted Feet and all Nervous Diseases.

The THOUSAND SUCCESSES since this has attended the application of this most WONDERFUL MEDICINE in curing the most severe cases of the different Diseases above named, exceeds the HIGH ENCOMIUMS that have been bestowed upon it, wherever it has been introduced, gives me the right to call on the AFFLICTED to resort at once to the ONLY REMEDY THAT CAN BE RELIED ON.

☞The faculty unite in recommending the celebrated External Remedy, Hunt's Liniment.

The following letter from the highly eminent Physicians who have been attached to the Mount Pleasant Native Farm for many years, will be the best evidence of the value of this celebrated Liniment.

SING SING, December 25, 1845.

My Dear Sir—I received your note of yesterday, asking my opinion in relation to Hunt's Liniment, as prepared by Mr George E Stanton. Knowing its composition, and having frequently used it, I can recommend it to you as a safe External Remedy, and in my opinion, the best Liniment now in use. Very truly and respectfully yours.

J. KEYLL, M. D.

Col Pierre Van Cortlandt, Croton Manor.

I fully concur in the above opinion.

YORKTOWN, Jan. 14, 1846.

Sir—In reply to your letter, I would say that I have used your External Remedy, called Hunt's Liniment, in my practice since your name was connected with its composition, and unhesitatingly say that I believe it to be the best External Remedy now in use for the complaints for which you recommend it Yours respectfully,

BENJ D MILLER, M. D.

Geo E Stanton, Esq.

From the N Y Sun.

☞Among the mass of worthless articles and humbugs that are poured forth at the present day upon the country, it is really refreshing to find something of real practical utility, deserving of notice, speedy and effectual in its operation, and at the same time free from those injurious effects which generally accompany such remedies. Hunt's Liniment, prepared by Geo. E Stanton, of Sing Sing, though it has been but a short time before the public, has already obtained the confidence, not only of our most wealthy and influential citizens, but our most eminent physicians. All acknowledge it to be a sovereign balm for many of the ills that flesh is heir to, soothing the aching limb, and by its genuine stimulating influence, banishing disease from the system.

Mr. Stanton—Sir—Seeing your advertisement of Hunt's Liniment, I was induced to try its effects on my son, who had been crippled with a lame back from an infant; and it is with gratitude I bear testimony to its wonderful inhaling properties. My child, who is now five years of age, is now in a fair way of recovery, Yours, &c.,

DEMMON C NICKERSON.
PORT OFFICE, TOWNSHIP, Putnam Co.

I certify that I am personally acquainted with the above named child, and think the father would be safe in saying that his son is almost well.

N. B. I would also state that I have been for a number of years subject to frequent attacks of the Rheumatism, which in many instances prevented my attending to my business. Two or three applications of the Liniment invariably remove all affections of the kind. In cases of bruises, sprains and sores, too numerous to mention, it has in this vicinity proved a certain remedy. Its value can only be estimated by those who have given it a fair trial.

This Liniment is sold at 25 and 50 cents per bottle, by all the Principal Druggists and Merchants throughout the country.

JAYNE'S EXPECTORANT—We invite attention to this admirable remedy for Pulmonary affections.—The principle there announced of the morbid character of obstructions—its tendency to originate inflammation of the Bronchiæ, and consequent visitation of the internal lesions—is, beyond dispute, the truth itself. The only practicable mode of removing such obstruction, is by means of expectoration, a result which we are convinced can always be obtained by a judicious exhibition of the remedy of Dr. Jayne.—[Phila. Ladies, ladies, I'm astonished,
When you know that you are promised
A natural, life-like, snowy white,
That you will still use common chalk,
And look a deadly yellow sight,
Toe theme of laughter and of talk.

If you would use a box of JONES'S Lilly-white, it would give your skin an alabaster yet natural white, and at the same time, clear and improve it. Sold at JACKSON'S, 89 Liberty st Price 25 cents per box. my9
