THE AUGUST INTEREST PROVIDED FOR.—The August Interest has been fully and seasonably provided for. Payments were made at Harrisburgh yesterday, and will be promptly met when and wherever due. The time has passed for repudiation in the "Key Stone State," and we trust that now our State credit stands upon an immoveable foundation. The State, we are sure, can never fail to meet its obligations while our Government is in Whig hands.

The North American also informs us that the temporary loan recommended by the late State Treasurer, of $200,000, to meet a deficit in receipts, to pay the February interest, has also been liquidated, during the past six months.

The Quotas that have constituted to this result, have done the State some service, and so have the citizens. They have their reward, and it is one in which, we hope, the delinquents will be willing to share, before the next semi-annual payment of interest.

MR. CALHOUN'S LETTER against the "Wilmot Proviso," though a month old and more, we believe, is just attracting the attention of the Press of the West. We took occasion to send back at the time what we regarded as a proper response to such a challenge from the great Ajax Telamon of Slavery. We dislike exceedingly to participate in any controversy calculated to excite collision of feeling between different sections of the Union. but when Mr. Calhoun speaks, it is with a power given to but few men in the country. In South Carolina, he is magic in his name, and under such a leader a thousand swords might leap from their scabbards in defence of the institution of Slavery. For himself, his State, and the South, he has raised the standard of resistance against a great principle of public liberty. It becomes free men and free States to meet the challenge firmly. We hope every Whig in every free State has come fast to the resolution that no more territory shall be added to the Union, or if necessity requires the addition,—and we do not believe it does or can,—that that whatever territory is annexed, shall be free. The day has passed for compromise upon this question of Slavery, and ought to have passed with the occasion necessary for the establishment of a more perfect Union." Slavery in the South or it is, we are not responsible for, and seek not to control, but wherever the General Government is called upon to interpose for its protection, we will be called upon to interpose for its protection, we say, hands off. The North was cheated in regard to Texas,—where Slavery is to endure as long as the Institution exists,—and this was the fault of others. If we are cheated again it will be our own fault.

SICKNESS IN SUMMER.—A physician in New York, in a letter to the New York Herald, adds the following to the prevailing causes of sickness in the city of New York. They may be as true of a different locality:

One cause of disease is doubtless that to which you have alluded, impure and adulterated milk. There are, however, two others which care and attention may guard against. The first is, that of neglect of the surface of the body to the night air, by open windows, when the excretory ducts of the skin have been pouring out perspirable matter during the day, under a heat of 90 or 92 degrees. The pores are fully opened; the cool air of the night acting on the exposed surface, sends the blood into the large internal secreting organs, as the liver, &c., and irritation, congestion and death are the consequences. In many fatal cases of cholera infantum, which have occurred in the neighborhood, I have traced the origin of the disease to this cause alone.

☞ The WHEAT CROPS in Cumberland county, Pa. are represented as excellent in quality. The Carlisle Volunteer says:

The quality is very superior, the grain being plump and full. There has not been quite an average yield of wheat and rye this year, but the quality of the grain is far superior to that of any previous year for a long time. We are assured by several that their wheat of this year is the best they ever raised. The oats, generally speaking, look remarkably well, and if accepted the yield will be unusually large.

The paragraph confirms so well with the state of fact in many parts of the State, that we give it as a general result, and not only of Pennsylvania, but of the Union.

IMPROVEMENTS IN MANUFACTURES.—The Scientific American announces a revolution in calico printing as at hand; house peas is to be driven out of steam that blocking must be done away. Instead of two or three weeks now required to engrave a copper roller of the highest finish, the inventor, with a few diamond point gravers and acids, gets one in as many hours. He has also invented a machine for shearing cloth, which shears five or six hundred pieces in a day, and does the work better than it is now done by the old process.

SHERIFF SALE OF LAND, AND OF REAL AND PERSONAL ESTATE.—A sale of 39,000 acres of land, on the Cumberland River, Tennessee, with a Rolling Mill, machines, forges, dwelling houses, and all necessary personal property, are advertised by the Sheriff of Nashville to-day, and will no doubt be sold at a bargain.

NEW PATENT SAW.—A patent saw mill is advertised for sale in our columns to-day, and its plan of operation is described as follows:

[illegible] saw is set [illegible] saw cut. It is an improvement [illegible] saw mill now [illegible] it to be the only practical [illegible] saw mills have been [illegible] Gazette.

[illegible] Summer at the Isle of Wight and Ryde, [illegible] where the [illegible] of the Queen's childhood. Another event of great interest is thus estimated in a late London letter to the N. Y. Journal of Commerce.

"The anniversary of the Queen's birth day, the 24th ultimo, was kept with great state. Victoria has now entered upon her 29th year, and her family consists of — sons and — daughters. Another little addition is shadowed forth and announced for August next."

The King of Prussia arrived at Potsdam on the 29th ultimo on his return from Silesia. The object of his excursion was to attend the inauguration of the statute of Frederick at Breslau. The Emperor of Russia has resolved to place at Potsdam a very considerable sum of money; some accounts say 11,000,000 and others 15,000 silver roubles. A personal loan of the King is not a new thing; when the extraordinary expenses occasioned by the state of Europe in 1830 exhausted the Treasury, the King personally contracted a loan of 10,000,000 thalers.

The King and Queen of the Belgians are at Paris. Louis Philippe and family are at Dreux commemorating the death of the Duke of Orleans. The King is again reported as of failing health. Much we fear the consequences of his death upon France and Europe. We are struck with anticipating such an event, which at the present age of the King cannot be far removed, with the following reflections of the French Courrier at New York, setting forth some of eccentricities of the French. The sentiments of the Courrier in regard to the French people are borrowed from the King of the French himself.

The genius of the French is the very antipodes of that of the Americans. They have the exhilaration of Southern races and the Latin blood, they neither love nor hate in moderation. One-half of their history is dedicated to raising statutes, which the other half is devoted to overthrowing. Their impulsive force is not in the head, but in the heart. But the heart is a blind agency, which feels but does not reason. This agency needs a reign to direct it and prevent its errors. The law must be stronger in France than the people, or vice versa, the people will shake off the yoke of the law.

These processions of political parties, these meetings where 20,000 gather together and parade about peaceably, would these be possible in France? No. Let them be allowed for a month and let Paris, unarmed be given up to them; and during that month the Government at the Tuileries would be changed a dozen times. Society in France must of necessity be constantly armed—first against itself, and then against jealous rivals from without. But wherever the necessity exists of a permanent armed force, will be perceived sooner or later the necessity of a monarchy.

In France, there had been a judicial development of official corruption in the matter of MM. Teste and Pellafix, members of the Government. The evidences adduced fastened guilt upon M. Teste beyond cavil or doubt, and tended strongly to inculpate others.

At the close of the sitting on the 22d ult. M. Teste, having returned to his prison in the Luxembourg, attempted suicide by firing two pistols, one into his mouth, which missed fire, and another aimed at his breast, but the ball did not penetrate his body. He remains under strict guard.

IRELAND.

RETRIBUTION.—There are men every where with souls small enough to be compressed within the eye of a cambric needle, but we did not think while children were crying for bread and hunger and starvation were staring men in the face, that one living in the midst of this misery could be so lost to mercy and decency as to speculate upon wretchedness.

The Council of Ministers assembled at Rome on the 8th of July for the first time, at Cardinal Gizzi's. Besides the ordinary members, the Roman princes were also convocated. The Progressists have sent deputies into the provinces to collect signatures for the petitions they intend to present the Pope. Several individuals passed through the streets singing the hymn of Pius IX, uttering at the same time threats and maledictions against the gendarmes. The police had taken energetic measures against all perturbators.

We add to our budget the following of the British Empire in India which will give the reader some idea of both the cost and reward of that English boast that "the sun never sets upon the British Dominions."

The British, or British and East India compass's armies in India numbered on the 1st of Jan. 1847, considerably above 350,000 men, and the yearly amount of military charges for their support is stated to exceed $70,000,000 a year, or more than half the whole public revenue. The public debt of India (which is over and above the national debt, Canada debt, &c.) is four hundred millions of dollars, one fourth of which has been incurred within the last ten years. The gross annual public income of India, is estimated at $125,000,000, and the expenditure at $125,000,000.—Before the Affghan war, the British armies in India numbered 168,477, exclusive of about 35,000 troops from Britain—British regiments. There are thousands of European officers, and their appointments is a source of effective patronage to man in power in England. In a few years 110,000 men, have been added to the East India Company's army, being about as many as the whole British army could spare elsewhere. Seven hundred British officers have been appointed to native regiments since 1837. The Bombay Times considers that the forces in India are courageous and well disciplined, but its facts do not intimate that India is well governed. It is asserted that the reason why India does not supply England with cotton are, the distance, the want of carriage and its expense, the want of roads for carts, and the want of a great artery like a railway. The growers are too poor to send their cotton to a distance.

The Dublin and provincial journals continue to express their astonishment at the declaration of Lord Russel respecting the Irish potato crop, and deny its correctness. The young potatoes which have appeared in the market are of good flavor, mealy and sound.

It is stated in a private letter from Clonmel, in Ireland, that the merchants of that town who have realized such immense profits by hoarding up their stocks of meal, &c. are now obliged to destroy great quantities of it through its becoming heated in their stores. The river Suir now receives on its placid bosom what would have sustained many who have gone off this stage forever.

IMPORTANT FROM BRAZIL.

BRAZIL AND AMERICAN WHALING SHIPS.—Letters have been received at Washington, D. C. dated Rio de Janeiro, 2d June. Our Whaling interest have been attacked by the Brazilian government, in a manner calculated to provoke retaliation. Two vessels have been seized for entering small ports on the coast, and trading in oil for supplies of wood and water, a customary practice, and one within the knowledge of the government for the last thirty years.

A letter published in the New York Gazette and Times, from the same place, confirms the information, and attributes the act to some officious fellow in Brazil. The writer says great trouble and expense will result to Americans from these seizures, as all Whalers out, not warned of the facts, will call for supplies at the same places, and be seized by the authorities.

Another New York paper confirms the above, and states that the U. S. brig Dolphinbigs sailed on the 16th for the vicinity of the Rio Grande, to warn Whalers of the danger of putting into that port. Since the Brazilian difficulties first commenced, the above brig has been actively engaged, and is said to have rendered much service to our commerce.

Mr. Tod, our new Minister to Brazil, sailed in the Ohio, some time since, and it is to be hoped an amicable adjustment of the difficulties can be affected on his arrival at Rio.

The Brandywine will sail for this station as soon as the complement of her crew can be obtained.

SPARK CONDUCTOR.—Dr. Pegg, of Boston, has invented and patented an apparatus for relieving passengers by railroad of the great nuisance occasioned by the sparks from locomotives. The plan is, to attach to the chimney of the locomotive a funnel, which shall connect with tubes attached to the several cars, and thus conduct the steam of smoke and sparks to the rear of the train. Several engineers and others interested in this invention, have, we learn, examined the plan, and pronounced in favor of its usefulness.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP

HIBERNIA.

SLIGHT FALL IN BREADSTUFFS.

BOSTON, August 2d—10 A. M.

The steamer Hibernia, Capt. Eyre, was telegraphed at quarter to 6 o'clock this morning below the harbor. She arrived soon after nine, with dates to the 20th—five days later than has been received by the Washington at New York.

The Cotton market had not changed between the 15th and 20th of July.

Breadstuffs have receded again. Flour was selling at Liverpool at 34s35s per quarter.

The prices in wheat have gone back to what they were at the commencement of July, and under the continued promise of crops, can hardly rally again unless some unforeseen calamity appears.

Thirteen buildings had been destroyed at Greenwich by lightning. No lives lost.

PHILADELPHIA MARKET.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 2, 2 P. M.

CORN—Prime Yellow, selling at 75c per bu.

PROVISIONS—No change in former prices; market remains quiet.

GROCERIES—Market quiet, and but little doing.

COTTON—Very little change has taken place in this article, and little business doing.

The prices are but feebly supported in our market to-day, owing to the news brought by the Hibernia.

Flour—Sales of Genesee at $5,75 per bbl, of Western at $5,50 per bbl. More sellers than buyers.

Grain—The grain market is at a stand.

The steamer's news having unsettled the market.

Exclusive Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette

BALTIMORE MARKET.

Baltimore, Aug. 2, 9 P M.

The news by the steamer has unsettled the markets in breadstuffs to-day. All is quiet.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET.

July 24.

Cotton—The receipts at this port since the 1st September, (exclusive of the arrivals from Mobile and Florida) are 701,143 bales, against 1,033,737 bales at same date last year; showing a decrease of 332,595 bales; and the falling off in the receipts at all the ports, up to the latest dates, as compared with last year, is 383,337 bales. Prices unchanged.

Sugar—Louisiana—The market has continued without animation during the past week; the sales being still confined to mere retail parcels, mostly from second hands, at the following range for quotations—say for inferior and Ordinary 5½c52—Common 6a6¾. Fair 6¾a7¼. Prime 7¼a7¾—Choice 7¾a8c per lb. The receipts are light, and come forward in very limited parcels. We may mention, as the beginning of a new era in the Sugar trade of our city, the arrival of 20 hhds from Texas, the produce of that country. It was of very low quality, however, and 14 hhds of them bought at 4¾ and 6 bbls very inferior 4½c per lb. Arrived during the past week 289 hhds.

Havana Sugars—Brown 5¼a6¾. Yellow 6¾a7. White 7¾a10c per lb.

Molasses—32a32½c per gall, according to quality, condition of barrels, &c., most of the sales being at 32½c per gall. Some few on Sandy Creek in Mercer county; some on Oil Creek, Crawford county; some on Scrubgrass, Venango county; some on Tionnesti and Clarion rivers, in Elk, Venango, Jefferson and Clarion counties, and some in the adjoining counties of the State of New York. The products of Indiana, Butler and Westmoreland are also in a measure borne to us on the bosom of the Allegheny.

In the Spring and Autumn the trade of the section of country drained by the Allegheny, is of immense value, and the above is but a small fraction of the value of the trade then.

RESUSCITATION OF THE DROWNED.—We are frequently called upon to record the death of individuals from drowning, in the vicinity of our city. Not less than four cases of the kind have occurred within the last month. Any information, therefore, which can be relied upon as a means of restoring suspended animation in cases of strangulation by water, will, no doubt, be of service to the community. Life, in some instances, remains an incredible time in the body, after strangulation takes place, and animation is apparently suspended, and only needs the proper restoratives to put it in motion again.

Dr. Holt, of the American Shipwreck Society, says that as soon as the body is removed from the water, the chest should be pressed suddenly and forcibly downward and backward, with an instant discontinuance of the pressure; this should be repeated until spair of land bellows can be procured; after which the natural bellows be placed back upon the face of the tongue—the mouth closed with a towel or handkerchief—pressed firmly upon the projecting part of the neck, and the bellows actively used. Then, press upon the chest to expel the air from the lungs, and imitate as far as possible the natural breathing. Continue this for an hour, or until signs of breathing are evinced, when the body should be enveloped in blankets, placed near the fire, and every thing done to impart natural artificial heat, if possible. Inflating the lungs is the primary object; all else secondary. Avoid friction until respiration is established.

DROWNED.—On Saturday last, in the Monongahela river, a lad named Charles Foster fell from a canal boat and was drowned. His body was recovered on Monday and taken aboard the boat.

GABRIAL KELLY, who was bound over to appear before the Mayor for a further hearing, on a charge of homicide, was on Monday fully committed to answer at the next Court of Oyer and Terminer to the above charge. A writ of habeas corpus has been issued out for the purpose of bringing him before a judge, and giving bail for his appearance at the next Court.

The guilt or innocence of Kelly, so far as a legal investigation is concerned, will turn upon the fact whether the blow which prostrated Benjamin Wilson, the deceased, was necessary to effect his arrest.

FIRST OF AUGUST.—The anniversary of the Emancipation of the Blacks in the West Indies, was remembered yesterday by the Free Blacks in all the Free States. It is a proper occasion for public rejoicing, and we could wish that many years might not roll over us, before, by the common consent of the Nation, the same event might be heralded in the United States.

The colored citizens of Pittsburgh had their celebration on the Minersville road, in the grove of Mr. Thompson. There was an admission fee of five and ten cents, for the benefit of the Mystery," and a large number, we believe, were present.

ARREST.—Two persons were arrested and brought before the Mayor on Monday, charged with having stolen linen from the steamboat Danube, but sufficient evidence not having been elicited to warrant their commitment, they were discharged.

ELIOTT CRESSON, the distinguished friend of African Colonization, and the Central Rail Road, both noble enterprises, is spending a few days in the city.

Senator YULEE and lady of Florida, have passed through the city on their way to Kentucky.

Mr. HOWE's circus company is on its way to town.

New Publications.

From Moses's we have received the following New Publications:

Russell, a tale of Charles II, which we have before noticed and which we find highly commended by all who have read it.

The Duke and the Cousin, a story of Mrs. Gray, and well suited to those who love to pursue the dangers and vicissitudes of life, from the bright sunshine of early wealth and pleasure to the sober reality of ruin and retribution.

Lectures on the Philosophy of Mesmerism, by Rev John Bovee Dods. The lectures are a converts defence of the mystic art. And will, no doubt, be read with much interest at the present time.

Temperance as founded on Physiology and Physiology, by O. S. Fowler. The argument is an able one and founded upon the wise maxim of Cicero, "while mens in corpore sano."

Also the Phrenological and Philological Almanac for 1848, by L. N. Fowler, a very agreeable book in its way.

PHONETIC PERIODICITY.—Number two of this interesting work is out. It is a chaste and beautiful production, and well worthy the study of all attached to the art of drawing and painting. It may be had at CALDWELL'S, Post Office building.

The Dikes and the Cousin is the title of an interesting novel, from the pen of Mrs. Gray. It may be had at M. A. MYERS.

NEW FURNACE.—We understand that the Messrs Powers, of Martha Furnace, and Mr. Crawford, of the New Castle Rolling Mills, are about constructing a new Furnace at New Wilmington, Mercer county, Pa., to be called the Hermitage. The proprietors are enterprising and industrious men, and well acquainted with every branch of the iron business. We wish them success.

☞ We are now prepared to execute in superior style, Printing, Binding, &c. of every description, such as Bills, Bill Heads, Ladies' Letter Sheet Circulars, Handbills, Cards, &c. &c.

BOOK AND PAMPHLET PRINTING.

Every description executed in the best manner, and all kinds of Printing done with accuracy and at the lowest rates.

☞ Important to Advertisers.—The advertisements which appear in the Daily Morning Gazette also appear in the Tri-Weekly; thus receiving the benefit of the circulation of all, without any additional charge. This is an advantage to our advertisers, without any extra expense. Advertisements are also inserted in the country paper upon reasonable terms.

☞ Salter's Ginseng Panacea.—MEDICAL TESTIMONY.—We, the undersigned, call public attention to the following, from Dr. Wm. Dean, of Williamsville Clermont Co., and one of the very first practitioners in the county in which he resides, and late Senator in the State Legislature. It is cheering thus to see the leading men of the professions, bursting the bonds of professional prejudice, and giving merit its due:

"SIR: I have in my practice been using some of your Ginseng Panacea, and, so far, am well pleased in its effects in Catarrhal and Bronchial Complaints. Please send me half a dozen bottles—just as low as you can; as I expect if it continues to render as general satisfaction as it has heretofore, to keep it constantly on hand. Respectfully, &c. WM. DEAN, M. D.

SINGULAR CIRCUMSTANCE.—It is a remarkable fact that notwithstanding the efforts of many of the most celebrated Physicians, to invent a Remedy for the Piles, their skill has proved of no avail. Within a few years an American Physician, Dr. Upham, by a happy combination of ingredients, has produced a Vegetable Specific, which taken internally, most effectually conquers the distressing affection.

☞ Sold Wholesale and Retail, by WYATT & KETCHAM, 121 Fulton street, New York; WM. THOMPSON, Market street, and F. R. SAWYER, Smithfield street, Pittsburgh, Pa. Price 1 person. jy21d1w

☞ We invite the attention of our readers to the extraordinary Cures of Scrofula performed by Dr. Colleby's Indian Vegetable Panacea, which they will find recorded in another column of to-day's paper. They are without doubt the most wonderful on record, and have so been pronounced by many of our most respectable physicians. The afflicted and others interested, are requested to visit them at their several places of abode, and learn from their own lips the wonderful effects of the medicine. The first one named is Mr Isaac Brooks, who may be seen daily, between the hours of 9 A. M. and 4 P. M. at the office of Rowand & Watson, No 97 Market st, Philada. ao28

A NEW INVENTION.

Now's the time and now's the minute,
Here's the Vice, a fortune in it;
Call and see, and you will find
Virtue with the Vice combined.

Mechanics and all those who have a spare hour to spend in contriving improvements, are invited to call at the Mansion in Liberty street, where will be seen for a few days only, a Parallel Jaw Vice, a decided improvement, lately patented by W. H. Taylor & A. T. Norton—A certain chance for making money, and serving a public good, is here offered to such as may be induced to purchase rights, and enter into the manufacture of the article.

Come one come all, and examine for yourselves.

OWEN & JAMES,
Proprietors.

The following is one of a large number of recommendations:

ROCHESTER, Dec. 4 1846.

I have been using Messrs. Taylor & Norton's Patent for the last ten months, and take the greatest of pleasure in recommending it to mechanics in general, as work performed with much greater despatch and precision with this Vice than any other, and does not bear the wear like common Vices. WM REMUS.
