"THE BRITISH TARIPP."

The Tatiff of 1846, fram Walker and the Agents of the British Importing Houses, who passed one or two winters in Wash-ington, and backed by a Report from the American Secretary of the Treasury, who received spe-cial honor in a Baitish House of Lords, received about an equal amount of commandation in England and the United States. The Administra are its friends here and the British Manufacturen in Great Britain. Much more has the present law to common expectatio been a subject of congratulation upon the other side of the Atlantic than upon this, and much more good will it confer upon British interest than our own. We find in the last received num ber of the London Economist, a noted B free trade paper, a passage exulting, in the very tone of the Union, over the vast extension British shipments to America:

"To the United States alone, (says the Econo-mist.) the increase in the amount of our shipment in the present year will exceed anything on re-cord. On a few of the leading strides the com-parison for the first six months is as follows:
