MISCELLANY.

EVENING HYMN FOR A GOOD BOY.

How sweet to lay my weary head
Upon my quiet little bed,
And feel assured that all day long
I have not knowingly done wrong.

How sweet to hear my mother say,
"You have been very good to-day!"
How sweet to see my father's joy,
When he can say, "My dear good boy!"

How sweet it is my thoughts to send
To many a dear beloved friend;
And think if they my heart could see,
How very happy they would be.

How sweet to think that He who loves
Made all the shining worlds above;
My pure and happy heart can see,
He loves a little boy like me.

PRESERVING OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

A great deal has been written, as well as said, on the subject of preserving fruits, vegetables, etc., fresh for winter and spring use; and many articles of the kind are purchased as luxuries, at a high price, which I have ascertained a very little amount of labor and expense will enable any housekeeper to provide cheaply, and at little trouble, for himself. Last winter, an acquaintance of mine, who is a judge as well as a provider of good things, sent me a can of tomatoes, one out of a lot he had put up for his own use. The most acute palate could detect no difference from the taste the article bore in the season of its freshness. He told me that he had eaten peaches out up and thus prepared to be eaten as fresh peaches, in milk or cream, which tasted as well as in August or September. For the benefit of my readers I have obtained his recipe.

It is the season now for putting up these things, and those who desire to profit by these hints will act accordingly.

TOMATOES.

Scald the fruit, taking the skins off; put the tomatoes in a preserving kettle; when they are brought to a boil, put them into a cannister and solder them up while boiling hot.

GREEN CORN.

Cut the corn from ears in the same milky state as used for the table, and stew as for table; put in cannisters as in the case of the tomatoes.

FOR PRESERVING FRUIT OR VEGETABLES WITHOUT COOKING.

Prepare the vegetable as for use—say peas, beans, sliced peaches, &c.; fill the cannisters as full as possible; solder the tops while cold; then set the cannisters in a shallow but large tin or iron vessel with water, which must be placed on a stove and the water brought to the boiling point, and kept at it during the process. When the steam inside swells the cannisters, puncture a small hole with an awl or gimlet—the steam will then escape. Drop a lump of solder on the opening, securing it perfectly tight. Any kind of fruit or vegetables can be thus put up, and keep a long time per fectly fresh; but in all cases the cannisters must be perfectly tight, and kept in a cool place.

Two things must never be lost sight of in these operations. The cannisters are to be closed perfectly air-tight and when the lid of the cannister is punctured to permit the steam to escape, the solder is to be dropped instantly on the aperture before air from without can penetrate. Also, care must be taken, by shaking or pounding the cannister on some hard substance, to settle the contents, it being of great importance that the cannister, at the time of soldering, should be as full as possible.

The philosophy of these processes is to expel the air from the cannisters, and to exclude it after being expelled. That this is accomplished is evident by the readiness of the cannisters to collapse upon slight pressure externally

These are cheap luxuries. A dozen such cannisters can be bought at R Moorhead's, on Columbia st., Cincinnati, for a dollar. Mr. M. not only furnishes the covers, but will send a hand to any reasonable distance, who will solder them to the cannisters.—Cist

AN EXAMPLE WORTHY OF IMITATION.—The article which follows we cull from the "New Orleans Protestant. We commend it to the special attention of our ministerial brethren, as presenting an example well worthy of their imitation. The Monday sermons spoken of strike us as something excellent; and no one knows the amount of good they may be the means of effecting. We should be glad to furnish our brethren the opportunity of preaching frequently in this way.—Weekly Mess.

"It is the constant practice of one of the best and most laborious ministers of the present generation to write a short article for some religious periodical, every Monday. This he does with little fatigue or trouble, the labors of the Sabbath suggesting some thought, or bringing to light some fact worthy of record. In the course of a long life many volumes might thus be written, and much good be done which would be otherwise lost. Is it not a practice which should become universal? We heartily recommend it to our brethren in the ministry. You preach on the Sabbath perhaps to some hundreds, you may preach on More day to thousands. Your sermons are preached in a small neighborhood, and a few perhaps will remember them for a little while, the paragraph of ten or twenty lines may travel to the ends of the earth, and do good till the end of time. We wish there were more Monday preachers."

CHRISTIAN UNION.—The General Association of Orthodox Congregationalists in Maine, appointed last year a committee to visit the ecclesiastical bodies of the Methodist, Baptist, and Free Will Baptist churches, in that place, for the purpose of proposing some more fraternal terms of intercourse among them.—At the late meeting of the Association the committee reported as follows:

Your Committee, having consulted the Committee of the Methodist Episcopal Conference, and influential individuals of the Baptist and Free Will Baptists, and they having expressed a disposition to favor the proposed correspondence, therefore,

Resolved, That this Conference appoint delegates to represent them in the general meetings of the Baptists, Methodists, and Free Will Baptists; and respectfully request them to appoint delegates to us for the same purpose.

The report was adopted. We are gratified at this step towards Christian harmony, and hope it will proceed further. —Zion's Herald.

SAGO CREAM.—This article, so grateful to the sick, is prepared in the following manner: Take a dessert spoonful of good sago, and boil it in pure water till it is reduced to a jelly. Add a cup of sweet cream, and boil again. Beat up a fresh egg very light, and pour the sago on while hot. Sweeten and spice, with sugar and nutmeg, to your taste.

There are seventy thousand kernels of corn in a bushel.

MEDICAL.

TO THE SICK AND AFFLICTED.
DR. SWAYNE'S
GREAT DISCOVERY.
The great Remedy for Consumption, Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Liver Complaint, Spitting Blood, Difficulty of Breathing, Pain in the Side and Breast, Palpitation of the Heart, Influenza, Croup, Broken Constitution, Sore Throat, Nervous Debility, and all diseases of the Throat, Breast and Lungs; the most effectual and speedy cure ever known for any of above diseases; is DR SWAYNE'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

ANOTHER LIVING WITNESS.—Read with astonishment the wonderful cure performed by Doctor Swayne's Compound Syrup of WILD CHERRY.

PHILADELPHIA, January 23, 1847.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: In justice to yourself and a dety I owe to suffering humanity, I cheerfully give my testimony, and declare to the world the most astonishing effects, and the great cure your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry performed on me, under the most unfavorable circumstances. I was taken with a Violent Cough, Spitting of Blood, severe Pains in the Side and Breast, which seemed to break down and enfeeble my constuction, so that my physician thought my case beyond the power of medicine, and my friends all gave me up to die; but thanks to you and the effects of your great discovery, I now feel myself a well man, and raised from a mere skeleton to as fleshy and healthy a man as I have been for years, and shall be pleased to give any information respecting my case, by calling at my residence, Mechanic street, third door below George street, Northern Liberties. JACOB PAINTER.

Testimony is now received from all quarters o the Globe.

The following letters are presented with a view of more fully showing the opinions of Physicians in relation to the Medical value of Dr. SWAYNE'S COMPOUND SYRUP OF WILD CHERRY.

Dr. Swayne—Dear Sir: Having used your Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry extensively in my practice, I was requested by your Agent, Doctor Crutcher, to express my opinion in writing of the properties as a remedial agent, I most cheerfully comply, as I feel by so doing, I will discharge a debt I owe the community at large, and Physicians in particular. As much as I detest Quack Medicine and Patent Nostrums, I was induced from a failure of the most potent expectorants, recommended in our materia medica in some cases of Diseased Lungs, to try your preparation of Prunus Virginia or Wild Cherry. It is evidence to all that I was so much pleased with the result of that and subsequent trials, that I now prescribe it in preference to all other Remedies where an expectorant is indicated. In the much dreaded Pneumonia or Disease of the Lungs, in the interior of Kentucky, as it appears in Kentucky, I regard it as an invaluable Remedy in the treatment of that disease. To all who know me I have said enough, but as this may be seen by persons out of the vicinity of Philadelphia I will briefly add, that I have been engaged in an active practice of my profession of 12 years, and am a Regular Graduate of Transylvania, and this is the first Patent Medicine I ever thought exongh of to express an opinion in writing.

H. ELLISON, M. D.

JANUARY 7th, 1847. Franklin County, Ky.

FRANKFORT, Ky., Jan'y 7th, 1847.

The above certificate is from one of our Physicians living a few miles from here, is a gentleman of very good practice, and is considered a good Physician, and stands fair; he is, as he says, a regular graduate.

Testimonials will never cease.

From the Temperance Pledge.

Now that Winter is upon us with its attendan train of Pulmonic and Bronchial affections, Coughs, Colds, &c., we would advise those afflicted in this way to make immediate trial of Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. It will never fail to perform a permanent cure. The reputation of this medicine has caused many spurious articles to be put forth under its name; but the preparation of Dr. Swayne, besides being the first ever offered to the public, is the only one that can be relied on. The other mixtures sold for Wild Cherry Syrup, Balsams, &c., are all spurious and worthless, and contain none of the virtues of the original preparation. Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry.

From the Springfield Express.

Of the thousands of purported curative nostrums now before the public, but very few are found to possess the healing virtues for which they are recommended. Among the latter we are pleased to learn some stand a better test than Dr. Swayne's Compound Syrup of Wild Cherry. The afflicted in this vicinity are beginning to use it, and to their joy they find in its use their hopes based upon its recommendations more than realized. The afflicted need not despair. While there is life, there now is hope.

A CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

☞Since the introduction of my article to the public, there have a number of unprincipled individuals got up nostrums which they call Wild Cherry, some we called "Balsams," "Bitters," and even Syrup of Wild Cherry, but mine is the original and only genuine preparation ever introduced to the public, which can be proven by the public Records of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. The only safeguard against imposition is to see that my signature is on each bottle.

The following letter from the highly eminent Physician who have been attached to the Mount Pleasant State Prison for many years, is the best evidence of the virtue of this celebrated Liniment.

SING SING, December 26, 1845.

My Dear Sir—I received your note of yesterday, asking my opinion in relation to Hunt's Liniment, as prepared by Mr George E Stanton. Knowing its composition, and having frequently used it, I can recommend it to you as a safe External Remedy, and in my opinion, the best Liniment now in use. Very truly and respectfully yours,

YORKTOWN, Jan. 14, 1845.

Sir—In reply to your letter, I would say that I have used your External Remedy, called Hunt's Liniment, in my practice since you made me acquainted with its composition, and unhesitatingly say that I believe it to be the best External Remedy now in use for the complaints for which you recommend it. Yours respectfully, ☞Among the mass of worthless articles and humbugs that are poured forth at the present day upon the country, it is really refreshing to see something of real practical utility, something simple, speedy and effectual in its operation, and at the same time free from those injurious effects which generally attend powerful remedies. Hunt's Liniment, prepared by Geo. E Stanton, of Sing Sing, though it has been but a short time before the public, has already obtained the confidence, not only of our most wealthy and influential citizens, but our most eminent physicians. All acknowledge it to be a sovereign balm for many of the ills that flesh is heir to, soothing the aching limb, and by its genuine stimulating influence, banishing disease from the system.

Mr. "Stanton-Sir—Seeing your advertisement of Hunt's Liniment, I was induced to try its effects on my son, who had been crippled with a lame knee from infancy, and to my great gratitude I bear testimony to its wonderful healing properties. My child, who is now five years of age, is now in a fair way of recovery, Yours, &c.

N. B. I would also state that I have been for a number of years subject to frequent attacks of the Rheumatism, which in many instances prevented my attending to my business. Two or three applications of the Liniment invariably remove all affections of the kind. In cases of bruises, sprains and sores, too numerous to mention, it has in this vicinity proved a certain remedy. Its value can only be estimated by those who have given it a fair trial.

This Liniment is sold at 25 and 50 cents per bottle, by all the Principal Druggists and Merchants throughout the country.

DR. TOWNSEND'S
SARSAPARILLA.
Most extraordinary Medicine in the World.

This extract is put up in Quart bottles: it is six times cheaper, pleasanter, and warranted superior to any sold. It cures disease without vomiting, purging, sickness or confinement.

GREAT SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINE!

The great beauty and superiority of this Sarsaparilla over all other Medicines is, whilst it Eradicates Disease it invigorates the Body. It is one of the very best SPRING AND SUMMER MEDICINES ever known, it not only purifies the whole system and strengthens the person, but it Creates New, Pure and Rich Blood; a power possessed by no other Medicine. And in this lies the great secret of its wonderful success. It has performed within the past two years, more than 25,000 cures of Severe Cases of Disease; at least 5,000 of these were considered incurable. More than

2,000 cases of Rheumatism;
2,000 cases of Dyspepsia;
500 cases of General Debility and Want of Energy;
7,000 cases of different Female Complaints;
1,000 cases of Scrofula;
1,500 cases of the Liver Complaint;
9,500 cases of Diseases of the Kidneys and Dropsy;
3,000 cases of Consumption.

And Thousands of cases of Disease of the Blood, viz: Ulcers, Erysipelas, Salt Rheum, Pimples on the Face, &c., &c. Together with numerous cases of Sick Headache, Pain in the Side, Chest, Spinal Affection, &c., &c.

This, we are aware, must appear incredible, but we have letters from physicians and our agents from all parts of the United States, informing us of extraordinary cures. B. Van Buskirk, Esq., one of the most respectable druggists in Newark, N. J., informs us that he can refer to more than 150 cases in that place alone. There are thousands of cases in the City of New York, which we will refer to with pleasure, and to men of character. It is the best medicine for the Prevention of disease known. It undoubtedly saved the lives of more than 5,000 CHILDREN THE PAST SEASON!

As it removed the cause of disease, and prepared them fo the Summer season.

CAPTAIN'S CABIN, UNITED STATES OPTICER.

CAPT. G. W. MCCLEAN, of the United States Navy, and a member of the New Jersey legislature, has kindly sent us the following certificate of the virtues of

SARSAPARILLA.

A year since I was taken with the influenza, and my whole system fell in a debilitated state. I was induced to try Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and after taking two or three bottles, I was restored to perfect health. I have frequently used it in my family since, and have found it a most excellent medicine for a debilitated system.

G. W. MCLEAN, late U. S. N.

SCHOOLS CORNER.

This certificate conclusively proves that this Sarsaparilla has perfect control over the most inveterate diseases of the blood. Three persons cured in one house is unprecedented.

THREE CHILDREN.

DR. TOWNSEND—Dear Sir: I have the pleasure to inform you that three of my children have been cured of the Scrofula by the use of your Sarsaparilla. They were afflicted very severely with bad sores; have used five bottles; it took them away, for which I feel myself under many obligations. Yours respectfully,

ISAAC W. CRANE, 105 Wooster st.

GREAT FEMALE MEDICINE.

Dr. Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for incipient Consumption, Female Weakness, Whites, obstructed or difficult Menstruation, Incontinence of Urine, or involuntary discharge thereof, and for the general prostration of the system, so frequent in females, and of inherent cause or causes, produced by irregularity, illness or accident.

Nothing can be more surprising than its invigorating effects on the human frame. Persons, all weakness and lassitude, from taking it, at once experience relief, and full vigor under its influence. It immediately counteracts the nervousness of the female frame, which is the great cause of bad temper.

It will not be expected of us, in case of so delicate a nature, to exhibit names, places, and certificates; but we can assure the afflicted, that hundreds of cases have been reported to us. Several cases where families have been without children, after using a few bottles, have been made happy. Being grateful for the benefit she received, I take pleasure in thus publishing it, and recommending it to the public. M. D. MOORE.

Albany, Aug. 17, 1846. Cor. of Grand and Lydius sts.

COTTAGE, Sept. 29, 1845.

I do certify that my wife used one bottle of your Sarsaparilla with great benefit. She was much alarmed and delicate circumstances, being troubled with the dropsy, falling of the feet, nervous affections, and very much debilitated; with one bottle of your Sarsaparilla she was relieved, and who had used it, she was induced to try it, with little or no faith in it; but to my surprise, the medicine had the happy and desired effect, not only in the dropsy, but in every other case, and the expiration of one week of its use, the dropsy and nervous affections left her. She is now in a blooming state, and her health is now better than it had been for a long time previous.

If this will be of any service to you or any one who doubts the success of the medicine, you are entirely welcome to it.

I subscribe myself your most obedient and obliged friend.

S S JADWIN.

TO MOTHERS AND MARRIED LADIES.

The Extract of Sarsaparilla has been expressly prepared in reference to the peculiar delicacy of females, and there is no to suppose she is approaching that critical period, "The change of life," without the aid of this medicine in the preparative for any of the numerous and fatal diseases to which females are subject at this time of life. This period may be delayed, and by many unavoidably is, for years, it is less valuable to those who are approaching womanhood, as it is calculated to assist nature by quickening the blood and giving energy to the whole system. Those who have used it know its value, and to those who have been afflicted it is unnecessary to say more than that it is for sale by

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

Read the following, and doubt if you can, that consumption cannot be cured. This is only one of the several hundred cures of Consumption effected by this medicine.

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir: I was taken, a little over a year ago, with a severe cough and pain in my side. It increased from bad to worse, until I was pronounced by my physician to have the consumption. I raised large quantities of bad matter, had night sweats, and was very feeble; my doctor said he could do nothing for me. I was taken to the hospital in hopes of being benefitted, but was pronounced there incurable. I was then induced to try Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla, and before I had taken one bottle I found myself much relieved; I soon became convalesced, and expected to die; was raised up to my bed, and was privileged to have my meals; indeed I cannot give you any[illegible] that would do justice to my case. I was supported by my friends for two months in bed. I had tried a great many remedies, and all seemed to be to no purpose. I read of some remarkable cures performed by your medicine, and to tell the truth, I had but little faith in it, but was induced to try it; but I was induced to try it, I did so, and am very thankful that I did. I cannot but feel, in its entirely evil, but can so far recovered as to be about my business, and my health is now as well as a few weeks. My cough and pain in the side, and spitting of blood have left me, and I am now in good health, and am gaining my usual strength. I felt it a duty to give you a statement of my case, to publish if you please.

Yours respectfully, JOHN SOUTH, Brooklyn.

A pretty thing appeared in the streets yesterday. It was a little girl, about three years old, with a face like a rose. The whole thing it got up in good taste: some of the ornamental landscape gardening was beautiful, which, together with the scroll work, it took a good deal of time to do, and was rarely equalled in Broadway. We take this opportunity to say we have frequently used Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla deserves the very great popularity it has acquired.

Nervous Debility.

NEW YORK, March 27, 1847

Dr. Townsend:—I have been afflicted more or less for 2 years, with a dreadful sinking at the pit of the stomach, the head, loss of appetite, pain in the limbs, and general debility. The only medicine I could find relief from, was that which I am subject to in my business as a dyer. I have taken other medicines, but found by experience, but with little or no relief. I was induced to purchase a paper to try the benefit of your Sarsaparilla, from which I found great relief. I have taken several bottles, and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured. I have ever taken which has given my chest is gone, and I feel quite a different man altogether since I have taken your Sarsaparilla. I will now say a few words more for the benefit of others that may be afflicted as I have been. I would recommend it as a family medicine for all complaints of the blood, and as a preventative of consumption, for I believe that it will do away with the seeds of consumption, and thereby prevent many from falling victims to that fatal disease, which is the case of most medicines taken for female weakness and diseases.

No fluid or medicine has ever been discovered which so speedily removes pain below the stomach, improves the food and strengthening the organs of digestion, as this preparation of Sarsaparilla.

BANK DEPARTMENT, Albany, May 10, 1845.

Dr Townsend—Sir—I have been afflicted for several years with dyspepsia, during which time I visited with sour eyes of stomach, loss of appetite, extreme heartburning, and a great aversion to all kinds of food, and for weeks (what I could eat) it was distressing to vomit it up, and pain in my stomach. I tried the usual remedies, but they had no effect, but rather increasing my complaint. I was induced, about two months since, to try your Extract of Sarsaparilla, and I must say with little confidence, but after using two bottles I found relief, and now, after using six bottles, my heartburn entirely removed; and I would earnestly recommend the use of it to those who have been afflicted as I have been. DYSPEPSIA.

No fluid or medicine has ever been discovered which so speedily removes pain below the stomach, improves the food and strengthening the organs of digestion, as this preparation of Sarsaparilla.

BANK DEPARTMENT, Albany, May 10, 1845.

Dr Townsend—Sir—I have been afflicted for several years with dyspepsia, during which time I visited with sour eyes of stomach, loss of appetite, extreme heartburning, and a great aversion to all kinds of food, and for weeks (what I could eat) it was distressing to vomit it up, and pain in my stomach. I tried the usual remedies, but they had no effect, but rather increasing my complaint. I was induced, about two months since, to try your Extract of Sarsaparilla, and I must say with little confidence, but after using two bottles I found relief, and now, after using six bottles, my heartburn entirely removed; and I would earnestly recommend the use of it to those who have been afflicted as I have been. Yours, &c. W. V. VAN ALSTYNE,

ALMOST A MIRACLE.

Read the following, and doubt if you can, that consumption cannot be cured. This is only one of the several hundred cures of Consumption effected by this medicine.

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir: I was taken, a little over a year ago, with a severe cough and pain in my side. It increased from bad to worse, until I was pronounced by my physician to have the consumption. I raised large quantities of bad matter, had night sweats, and was very feeble; my doctor said he could do nothing for me. I was taken to the hospital in hopes of being benefitted, but was pronounced there incurable. I was then induced to try Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla, before I had taken one bottle I found myself much relieved; I soon became convalesced, and expected to die; was raised up to my bed, and was privileged to have my meals; indeed I cannot give you any[illegible] that would do justice to my case. I was supported by my friends for two months in bed. I had tried a great many remedies, and all seemed to be to no purpose. I read of some remarkable extraordinary cures performed by your medicine, and to tell the truth, I had but little faith in it, but was induced to try it; but I was induced to try it, I did so, and am very thankful that I did. I cannot but feel, in its entirely evil, but can so far recovered as to be about my business, and my health is now as well as a few weeks. My cough and pain in the side, and spitting of blood have left me, and I am now in good health, and am gaining my usual strength. I felt it a duty to give you a statement of my case, to publish if you please.

Yours respectfully, JOHN SOUTH, Brooklyn.

A pretty thing appeared in the streets yesterday. It was a little girl, about three years old, with a face like a rose. The whole thing it got up in good taste: some of the ornamental landscape gardening was beautiful, which, together with the scroll work, it took a good deal of time to do, and was rarely equalled in Broadway. We take this opportunity to say we have frequently used Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla deserves the very great popularity it has acquired.

Nervous Debility.

NEW YORK, March 27, 1847

Dr. Townsend:—I have been afflicted more or less for 2 years, with a dreadful sinking at the pit of the stomach, the head, loss of appetite, pain in the limbs, and general debility. The only medicine I could find relief from, was that which I am subject to in my business as a dyer. I have taken other medicines, but found by experience, but with little or no relief. I was induced to purchase a paper to try the benefit of your Sarsaparilla, from which I found great relief. I have taken several bottles, and am thankful to say that I am entirely cured. I have ever taken which has given my chest is gone, and I feel quite a different man altogether since I have taken your Sarsaparilla. I will now say a few words more for the benefit of others that may be afflicted as I have been. I would recommend it as a family medicine for all complaints of the blood, and as a preventative of consumption, for I believe that it will do away with the seeds of consumption, and thereby prevent many from falling victims to that fatal disease, which is the case of most medicines taken for female weakness and diseases.
