UPON THE REPORT O the Secretary of the Treasury. Washington, Dec. 11. Saturday evening.

It is no small labor to read with due reflec the documents accompanying the President's mes sage, and the Secretary of the Treasury, as well as the President, have done all they could by the length of their documents to frightan even the most patient readers from any attempt at canvas ing their opinions. In good old times, the Press dent delivered his message in person, and it was a brief, pointed, Government paper, embodying her suggrations to the People, than argum in favor of partizan opinions. The heads of Da-partments made their communications to the Executive, and never dreamed of filling up half of mammoth newspaper, either with exaggerates opinions of their own exploits or with false state ments of the doctrines of their oppouents. The were party men as men, but not as public officer nended their own measures, but neve misrepresented those of opposit creeds. They inggested what they estermed right but never dictated to those whose business it is t enact laws for the Executive and his associates, t put into execution. How different the Message of the President how widely different the Report of the Secretar of the Treasury. In this last important paper or hardly knows at which most to be an omitted truth or the stated error. It is shameful that public officers, owing their services to th whole country, should use their public places for n of mere party creeds, but st the propagati more discoutable is it that their time and the pol lic money, should be employed to give currency t to many practical falsehoods. The Executive of ends Mr. Walker's free trade enthus asm to the young men of the country. Rather would say, avoid all enthusiasm which blinds on to the realities of sober truth and sound judguin Many a man has been shipwrecked upon the rec enthusiasm. It is often but the ignis fatu of a dream and wholly unfitted for the administr tion of the practical business of Government. "I Mr. Walker's Report I concede great labor, re courch and intellectual ability, --very much more in all these particulars then is displayed in the Message of the President,-bnt it wants truth candor, fairness, frankness,-all that makes it mood man great and the great man good. In so ribed a space as the columns of a new paper there is hardly roam to review it,-but aiming as it does a deadly blow to the manufacturic interests of the country, and to Renneylvania particular, it is impossible to pass over it in lence., It is odd enough that Mr. Walker has special word for Pennsylvania in order to acduce ber from her wise, ancient and uniform a tachment to the Protective policy, but there is a

Walker, nor Mr. Polk, would have dared to recommond a tax upon tes and coffee, and the lat ter was just the man to denounce the tea tax is to people. Behold the difference now-ne would either of them have dared to recom the increase of a butthensome National Debt, for the purpose of presecuting a war of conquestbut with a dobt of $45,659,659 already existin Congress is asked to increase it at least $18,500, 000 the next calendar year and $39,000,000, be fore the close of the next fiscal year. If from the four lation of the Government it has been ou pood for units pay off a debt of $483,800,498 mirety it is to good reason for accumulating an sary debt even for a much smaller amou The marked features of the Report are a defence of Free Trade, or a hostility to Home Man nfactures, and a defence of the Sub-Treasure System, passed during the last Congress. It i disgusting to see the personal vanity which rura through the narration of both the operation of the riff of 1846 and the SubsTressure Act of the Shut up in his little box in th Treasury Department, Mr. Walker appears to have shut out all the world besides. His world has bee the Treasury building .- his throng the strong box for their own benefit is trumpeted forth as a great liberal concession, in order to decoy us into ite imitation. There is, also, an excessive boasting over the ut the Secretary does not fell you he has violated this law over and over again. He only asks you to legalize what he has done by amending the act. He tells you that specie has rolled in as the waves bearing it off to a distant seat of war. Ho make but mys not one word of that riflux of tide which is carrying it back whence it came, and also mising war, too, upon Paper Money, but is damb as a stuffed mummy of the fact that recounts the operations from availof Treasury Notes and Loans' to the amount of $25,679,199. He is armed at all points sgains Bank paper, which makes np the necessary cur rency of the people, but you hear not one word es below par at the Commercia Matrorolis of the Union, and that, too, when by law they are received for all sorts of public date and Bank notes are not. The Secretary, tepresenting an Administration living by credit, proecuting a foreign war by monne of credit, itsel the organ of a great paper money manufactory. and borrowing money from day to day, talks of cash and specie, gold and glory, as a man might who commanded the coin and credit of the world, -but what presumption it is.

Th soum is composed of the follow: C.vit list, fore an intermume and m Army proper, volunteers and military scat Ind an Department Naval establ shme the Department over which he had control. Even England is called upon to render homage to his porson, because a British House of Lords, in or def to promote the interests of their own people, gave currence to his free trade reports the Con-freesure to the United States. British Free Trade indeed, throughout the Reports is idelized, but with gave currency to his tree traus transfer to the linked States. Bitish Free Trade, king, of course, the re indeed, throughout the Report is idolized, but with then goes on to say: indeed, throughout the Report is idolized, but with what propriety lot the world judge as they read and remember the frightful commercial diseasers which have of late been borne to us upon every brees for the obstate England for her adoption, as he would have it, of Ais system of Froo Trade. But, careful to onit the furth, or the instructions, multic some act, thing as this.— 5. thereby doubly protective, while the American Tariff of 1840, does no such thing as this.— 5. of Chang, of France, Russia, Austria, and the smaller powers of Europe. Nothing is said of their restrictions, while some act of legislation their restrictions, while some act of legislation ures may be simple and unform throughout the for their own benefit is trammeted for the and world. It is a fact not to be disputed, that our constitotion is the most liberal to foreign nations, that operations of the Sab-Treasury law, and of a specie Currency, and of the imports of Specie, between a specie of the specie of th prove a mile of our rivers. The President sees with alarm the attempt to regulate the "Commerce between the States," yet here is his pet Secretary now make the currency of the world. ity of the fabric imported. Mr: Walker, too, is studiously careful to omit tended, but of much interest. The number i divate and public interests. He tells us tau. told that the Navy is crippled for want of men-s in great demand,—butrays not one world of the quantities of Coal brought from England, and ro cently in large quantities from Nove Scotia. He is careful to omit all mention of the influx of a class of almost worthless British goods, which hav atmost driven our own from the market. It is in these respects that the report of Mr. Walker is most faulty. Wedded to his theories, he maker most faulty. Wedded to his theories, he maker of the fact which might change the result. Free rade and foreign trade against Protection and Home trade, are idolized, and all the world has peace go short handed, and that reamen cannot een ransacked, and Mr. Waiker made physically the name will be made physically ill to sustain opinions and creeds which strike at the vital interests of the Republic. We are even told that "use reguine no Protection." What all follows. In the Mediternacean, the frigate U.S a cs for iden own seet, and which deal intelligent nations, led by the lights of experience, have adhered to ice ages, this Mr. Walker would abandon at once, placing us at the
