THE COMMITTELS OF CONGRESS. Washington, Dec. 14, 1847.

The appointment of the Standing Comm -always an event in Congross,-has been an oo of unusual interest, at the opening of the present Congress. The change are not many in the Senate, and these not of much interest, ercopt in the fact that there is much less ability tions now than at the last session. Calhom and Benton, the two great men of the Addecline all Committee labor, and Atherion of N. H., hardly equal to mediocrity, is sheed at the head of the Committee on Finance.
