PECIE TO EUROPE.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 29, 1848.
There is much speculation among business men able bearing of certain financial measures upon its business princeprity. The House of Representatives at this early period of the seasion, and to meet the exigencies of the Departments, have passed a law to meet two drafts, of half a million cach, drawn in Maxico upon the Government at Washington. These transactions, in mercantile phrate, are done" through the Agencies of European houses in Mexico. Instead of exporting their specie direct, and thus paying the export duty enacted by the Government, and incurring the many risks of transportation through Mexico, they sell their spe-tic for Government Bills on the United States.— The moment these Bills are presented here, Specie is exacted for them, and this Specie is at once sent to Europe. The effect is to carry the precious metals from our midst, and to drain the country of them to meet the daily expenses of the war. The longer the war is protracted, the greater will be the amount of Specie exported in consequence of its existence. Much has been taken off already for commercial purposes, and much will leave us through the channels I have named. The amount Capitol told me to day, that he should be delighted and satisfied if the Government came out of this war with a National Debt not exceeding one hun-dred and fifty of two hundred millions of dollars. It will take no more time than the remaining months allotted to this Administration, to fill up a debt o in this department of the public service. I, hear boday of a new claim of four hundred thousand collers, drawn upon the State Department, and protested for non-payment. Licutenant Colonel Franch draw for quarter a million or more of the money, and this amount, which was for transportation, is but as a sand to the sea shore.

ESTIMATES OF EXPENDITURE.

I have spoken already of the little reliance to placed upon the public estimates particularly of the annual estimates from the Treasury Depar upon their subordinates. The Secretary of War-is frightened at the necessary cost for the rations of a Standing Army of this magnitude, and says make it 37,000 men. The Chief of the Department conprovided for anon. In the meantime, the annual estimates are made, and thousands of extra copies printed -but no sooner is Congress fairly at wo minet,—but he sconer is congress unity at work than the Ways land Means are plied by letters to them, not to Congress, for additional sums of mo noy. The public rarely know anything of this—
So in regard to the cost of Rations. They are estimated, fifty thousand at a time, at fifteen cents amend, my analysis and men, a surest of the such, sand energy ration occurs and in the city of fur-ice, has can the Government thirty-five cents each.— The Department knowing this fact, renews its esti-mates for the next fiscal year at twenty-seven cents. tice of seeking Appropriations covertly Committees, instead of at broad day thro Commindees, instead of at order day through con-grees, is sandished by long precedent. If it be so, it is a custom much more honored in the breach than the observance." Many things which were good at the outer, have become corrupted by use. There are few things, indeed in which the forms of have not deteriorated.

STAVERY IN THE DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA. A memorial, numerously and respectably signed by chizens of Indiana, was presented to the House of Representatives to-day by Caleb B. Smith. The frighten a majority of members whenever named frough if was not many years ago, that a memorial the was not many years ago, that a memorial the was not many years ago, that a memoria the most respectable sities of the them ten miles square." It was respectfully received and treated, whereas now it is difficult to obtain a score of memory as a similar memoria, and Congress refuses even to refer a like prayer from abroad to one of fas Committees. If you ask what has done this, they used in a seally answered. It is the ultra Abolitionism of the country, fed by the insane fastefas of the more altira Pro-Slavery party of the South. Anti-Slavery memorials were elways heard before, and a member of Congress would have ventured sconer to treat his own parent with disrespect, as a solema, earnest prayer, against the large stantion of Slavery. Even a good old Quaker memorial, expressing a uniform, and commission of the Slaver ystem, and commission of the Slaver ystem, and condistant condemnation of the Slaver ystem, and condistant condemnation of the Slaver ystem, and condistant condemnation of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the sacret years against the large stantions of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the Slaver ystem, and condistant condemnation of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the sacret years against the large stantion of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the Slaver ystem and couched in the second of the Slaver ystem, and couched in the second of the Slaver ystem and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system, and couched in the second of the Slaver system and couched in the second of the second of the second of the second of t throws these Pethions into the faces of those who single to be should be artiss, single the player, as it did or many years, but it took a lady of rank in France, to distress them with that cold contempt which insults the pethioner, or with that timid spirit which fears to look danger in the face. Ell the memorials thus the presented, have been laid upon the table. The time is coming, and soon will be seen, when these Petitions will be received, referred, reported upon, and the people at least told why Congress cannot or if it can, why it will not truch the Institution of Shavery as the District of Columbia.

There is a deep regret felt here at the reported differenties between General Scott and Worth and Fillow. There is but hithe sespect for Fillow any where stoops for his courage, but the name of Worth has been second only to that of Taylor and Goott if sublic seimstion, and every citizen, or severy party, would grieve to see any cause of of severy party, would grieve to see any cause of of severy party, would grieve to see any cause of of severy party, would grieve to see any cause of of severy party. every party, would grieve to see any cause of of fence gives by such an officer towards his superior. There is, indeed, magic in such a speech, and as one listens, he exclaims it is wonderful, all. I can compare Mr. Choate's rictoric to nothing else than a brilliant suroric, or the shooting stars that fell as rain drops from the sky a dozen years since—
Whatever he looks upon no matter how dark, he illumines, and every flash of his genins is like a meteoric blaze. There are men of more powerful intellects, but not one more pleasing in more enclashings.

BEW YEAR'S ADDRESS THE GIRLS IN THE EAGLE COTTON FACTORY,

January 1, 1848. Dear Girls, as time knows no dela Another year has past away

Its joys and sorrows too;
And if the muse will condescend, Our humble effort to befriend, Our rhymes we'll send to you.

The Spring, with its refreshing showers, Its robe of green and bloom Has such into decay:

And Summer days, whose sultry hear,

To cooling shades inclined retreat,

Have pass'd like dreams away.

Those little birds, to whom belong The sweet and cheerful notes of song, We now no more must hear; But chilling winds, and snowy storm,

Our earth and sunny skies deform, But think not that we now complain Of Natures change and winter's reign, Which Samuer scenes destroy;

For minds disposed to comprehend The good these useful changes send. Each season may enjoy. While all without is cold and bare, And naked boughs are vaying where A verdant landscape lay; Secure and warm, with cheerful mind We each perform our work assigned.

And pass the happy day, The Spindle, Reel, and every part rtaining to our useful art, Employ our daily care;

We envy not the proud and gay. Whose joys so often pass away, And leave but sorrow there. But when our daily task is o'er, How silent all where late before

The busy hum arose;
Our "Eagle," motionless and still,
How lone and drear the good old Mill Looks, when our labors close. But then the joys of home, how sweet, When all each other kindly greet, Around the cheerful fire

With tales of love, and laugh and jest, Not rudely, but in mirth exprest, Our evining bours expire. And though another year has run, With many a change since it begun, Still let us not repine; While active life and health remain,

And now, with feelings most We wish you all a joyous ye A year of peace and love;
And when this changeful life is o'er, a
Chi may we meet to part he more,
