Col. Benton. said: "I admit the power of the Court to punish, but they must first hear."

Col. Benton continued his remarks, according to his recollection of the Judge Advocate as follows:
"When Gen. Kearny fixed his eyes on Col. Fremont, I determined if he should antempt again to look down a prisoner. I would look at him. I did this days and the look of to-day was the consequence of the looks in this Court before. I did today look at Gen. Kearney when he looked at him till his eyes fell—till they fell upon the floor.
"As to this Court, I disclaim any intention to disturb in order, entertaining as I do the highest rospect for this Court.
