This is a favorite theory of the Secretary of the Treasury, but it is demolished by Mr. Stewart.—We cannot well condense this part of his speech, and therefore give it at length:

The next thing the learned Secretary attempts to prove is; that under low duties more revenue is always obtained than under high duties. To show this he selects ten years income under a high tariff and ten years under a low one. He selects ten years, from 1832 to 1812, under the compromise bill, for his low tariff, and ten years from 1821 and 1823, with two years under the tariff of 1821, as the high tariff period. Now, I assert that, in the very years on which he relies, and which he has selected for the comparison, his own figures prove, not that he got less revenue under the him. The steamer

SEMATE—Mr. Streeter, for the incorporation of the Brooklyn and Lenox Turnpike Co.

Mr. Darsie, on leave, presented a memorial from the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., for an alteration in the Pennsylvania Railroad Co., for an alteration in the Charles. s $2.02.03.65—$2.92.05.65 per year; and yet the Secretary and the President say that all experience proves that low tariffs gives the most revenue. Whether such statements proceeded from ignormance or design he would not say, but it was one or the other. I refer (said Mr. 8) to-day, to dair, book, and page. Let them look at it. I want Mr. Walker himself to look at it.

And now for his positions on the subject of exports, the secretary afterns that the balance of trade is always in our favor under a low tariff; that our exports exceed our imperis, and that the exports of breadstuffs and previsions are especially increased. Now I say that, deducting the imports during the ten years of low lardis, selected by the Secretary for comparison, from the imports during the ten years of low tariffs, and it would appear that the balance against the country under the low tariff was $401.076.076—qual to $40.197,607 a year; and, deducing during each period the goods re-exported, the balance against the country would be increased to the sum of $423.455.724. And how had it been paid! By two hundred millions of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly an equal simulation of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly an equal simulation of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly an equal simulation of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly an equal simulation of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly an equal simulation of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly an equal simulation of State bonds, sent to Europe to pay for goods; a mercantile debt of nearly the tendent and Secretary that the debt against the exports from the imports during the sent of foreigners is $176,163.

But this is not all. Take the exports from the imports during these ten years of foreigners is $176,163.

Again: the Secretary asserts that low duties and twi by which Sentia Anna was admitted into Mexico to give forceto a people that otherwise could have made no head against us.

WASHLOTON, Jan. 12, 1945.

To the House of Representatives of the United States JOHN D DAVIS, Auct'r. her beasted freedom, will have planted the edious Institution of Stavery upon the francial of Mexico.—
The whole civilized world condemns the despotisms of Europe for just one-half such an offence as this,—but we are taking a leap even beyond despotism.

The President, in his Message, says he wishes "indemnity for the Past, and Security for the Furture," which, being interpreted by an ingenious man, means that to get indemnity we are to stead one half of Mexico, and to obtain security, all that is left. Adjourned.

House of Representatives.—Mr. Fernon leave, presented a petition, signed by 3,500 citis of Philadelphia, for the passage of an act to abor the bours of labor in this commonwealth to hours per day, and to prohibit children under a tain age from working. Washington, Jan. 12, 1545.

To the House of Representatives of the United States:

I have carefully considered the resolution of the House of Representatives of the 4th instant, requesting the President to communicate to that House any instructions which may have been given to any of the officers of the army or navy of the United States, or other persons, in regard to the return of President General Lopez de Santa Anna, or any other Mexican, to the Republic of Mexico prior or subsequent to the order of the President General Lopez de Santa Anna, or any other Mexican, to the Republic of Mexico prior or subsequent to the Republic of Mexico prior or subsequent to the Isometers, and correspondence to set furth, to the Isometers, and correspondence to set furth, to which with the instructions and orders issued to Mexico and the Isometers, and correspondence to be set furth, to which with the instructions and orders issued to Mexico and the Isometers, and correspondence of the Government of the United States to that Republic," and requesting the President also to "communicate all the orders and correspondence of the Government in relation to the return of Gen. Paredes."

I transmit herewith reports from the Secretary off State, the Secretary of Way, and the Secretary off Navy, with the 'documents, accompanying the same, which contain all the information in the possession of the Executive which it is deemed compatible with the public interests to communicate.

For further information relating to the return of Santa Anna to Mexico, I refer you to my annual message of December 1th, 154d. JOEL MOHLER of jan Wino and Toay.—These maines are said to have been first used as party appellations in the time of Charles II. The party that opposed the government was called Whig. The word means a sorr whay. It was first applied to the Scotch Covenanters. The word Tory is from the Irish, and means a savage. It was applied by the Whigs to, their oppressors, as a retort courteous. Mr. Blair's resolution offered several days since, was an inpeted as follows: year 92, nays 2. But I wish to sak him—and I put the same question to Southern gentlemen in this House—if this reduction of duties is the thing which has produced so large an export, of breadstuffs, pray why had it not in this same degree increased the exports of cotton and tobacco? What did this? What produced this falling off under this beautiful free-trade policy? Was that too, the fruit of the famili of 1840? Why has there been no increased export of cotton? Southern gentlemen, cotton growers, how so this? And you, ye tobacco growers, how comes it that, under Mr. Walker's patent mashine to increase exports, the export of tobacco has falten of a million and a hal? What say you to that? Was this the happy effect of the tarif of 1856? The Secretary tells us that the starvation is Europe had little or nothing to do with the consumption there of our breadstuffs, nothing wherever. Well, the starvation has ceased, breadstuffs are down, and now the redoubtable Mr. Secretary Valker is like to be caught in his own trap? I have read the explanation of our Representative, Hon, Mosen Hampton in your paper of this morning,—and yam surprised that a sane man, should write a took a thing and call it an explanation, or wish his constituents to consider; it as such as if he had said, "I intend to vote against all amendments whatsoever, and in carrying out this my resolution, I must vote "that the war was necessarily and constitutionally commenced," in other words, I will vote in favor of what I know to be a hashood in order to be consistent with a previously formed resolution. For my part, I would let "the resolution" go under such excursionatances, either at thome, or abroad, in Pittsburgh or undertheeye of power and patronage at Washington.

I feel that I have been in common with my Whig fellow citizens' of this district wounded very deeply by Mr. Hampton's vote, and that wound has been opened afresh'by his letter to your Mr. Brooks,—you will allow me to say further that Mr. Hampton's design as Resolutions are as repugnant to my feelings as the above vote, and I think I speak the proof of Mr. Stewart's position.

Mr. Stewart: The gentlemen shall have it I will give it to him.

In four years, from 1835 to 1839, under low duties, we imported from Great Britain $253,000,000 wirth of goods, equal to $50,000,000 a year, and she took from us during this period of low duties $34,629 worth of breadstuffs, equal to $23,657 per year! Well, now for the high tartiff of 1825, which lasted four years, from 1825 to 1833. During this time we took from Great Britain $142,000,000 worth of goods, equal to $35,000,000 a year, and she took from use, under this enormously high tartiff, $25,04,241 worth of our breadstuffs, equal $2,376,000 per year. We, under the high tartiff, taking about half as much of her goods, and she taking one handred times as much of our breadstuffs.
