Some of the Whig members asked for the peace with the existing government of Mexico.

Jefferson Davis rose to make an explanation SATURDAY PACKET. JOHN D DAVIS, Auet agistition, no new constitution can be established in any State without the authority of the existing government.

This cannot help the gendeman's argument much because his own case falls within the same range. He has proved, be thinks, that there was an existing government a paper government at least a rightful government as be alleges. Suppose three fourths of the people of Rhode Island to have been engaged in it, and already to austain it. What then? How is it to be done without the consent of the existing government. Because if that government holds on, and will not surrender till displaced by force, and if it is threatenly force, then the case of the constitution arises, and the United States, must aid the gevernment that is in, because an attempt to displace a government by force is "domestic violence." It is the case provided for by the constitution. If the existing government by force is "domestic violence." It is the case provided for by the constitution. If the existing government by force is "domestic violence." It is the case provided for by the constitution. If the existing government by force is "domestic violence." It is the case provided for by the constitution. If the existing government is of the State fave adopted the new constitution—is it not evident enough that an exigency arises in which the constitutional power here must go to the aid of the existing government? Look at the law of 25th February, 1785—1701. In other states, as he may judge sufficiant to suppress such insurrection. Insurrection against the existing government.

Now it is proper to look into this record and see what the questions are, that are presented by it, and constitution and consider.

Now this is the view I take of what I have called the American system. These are the methods of bringing about changes in government.
