from being all the Public Pomain. The whole quantity is immensely beyond the capacities of this Government to people beyond any past or probable ratio of the increase of population for centuries to come. And yet there are men who seem to feel crowded, notwithstanding the millions of acres of waste lands within our borders.

BEXICAN TREATIES.

The President sent a Message to the Senate to-lay, in relation to the rejected treaty proposed etween Mr. Triat and the Mexican Commissionbetween Mr. Fru and the meta-tac every called for by the Senate, and the President precedes their introduction by his disapproval in the following Mes-

Harrisburg, Feb. 2, 1838.
HHouse—Mr. Baker offered a resolution that bereater the House sit until halfpast one o'clock; not agreed to. Mr. Smith (Bradford) one that the House hereafter meet at 9 o'clock in the morning, which was smended so as to require the House to meet at 7 P. M., and continue in session until halfpast.

in York county, vetoed by the Gayernor, yeas 3, nays 52.

Next in order: was a resolution excluding from the Legislature such matter as falls within the jurisdiction of the courts. This elicited some little discussion, and was finally postponed indefinitely, by yeas 63, nays 45.

The bill abolicating the Board of Revenude Commissioners was next in order and was postponed until the last Saturday of February, by a vote of years 16, nays 44. This is a virtual killing of the bill. Several Loos were disposed to treat the bill. Several Loos were disposed to treat the bill. Several Loos were disposed to treat the bill fairly and give it a full bearing. They voted against the postponement, but the unurual and unfortune as the postponement, but the unurual and unfortune as the postponement, but the unurual and unfortune and absences of a few Whiga, enabled the enemies of the bill to succeed. The bill to incorporate the fault was the variety of the several readings. In order next was the war resolution, which however, the House would not consider.

The House then went into consideration of the bill to provide for the survey of a route to avoid to the postponement of the bill to be consideration of the bill to provide for the survey of a route to avoid the inclined plain on the Columbia road.

All speculation is now at an end as to what will be done with the treaty here. It will be ratified at once by an unanimous or noarly unanimous vote of the Senate. As to the consideration to be pad to Mexico, I think it is $15,000,000; from which, however, I am inclined to believe, are to be deduted all the claims due by Mexico to our citizens, as well those already awarded as those that may be awarded by future commissions. On this point, however, my letters both from the City of Mexico and Queretard do not give precise intelligence.

Iratz.—'We see that his holiness Pope Pius IX, progresses with his constitutional reform measures to the great satisfaction of his subjects. A Ministry on the most comprehensive plan has been formed. The Ministers have all ktate appointments, with the exception of Cardinals and Nine. Twelve hundred muskets had arrived from France, in pursuance of an agreement entered into between the Roman, Tuscan and Sardinian governments, to proceed coincidently on the subject of reform.
