nce of an unk itor, of a material word al in yesterday's paper, ving e which a portion of it was doubtless rendered intelligible to our renders, we are compelled to expandish it this morning. In our article upon, the state of the Iron trade we remarked that our mills were partly idle in ence of the injurious operation sing of 1846, which has had the effect of bringing into the country a large amount of breign metal, and which is naturally calculated to depress the prices of our home production. These facts are to all who are in any way informed, or interested in the Iron business, and until they can be disproved by logic and figures of a more satisfactory gature than heretofore given by our astute neigh-bor of the Post, we shall adhere to our express-Time which reveals in due course
