Fugitives from Justice in Fennsylvan

The Law Journal, for the present month, introdu-ces the subject of the question at issue between the States of Pennyalvania and Maryland, growing out of an act of the Maryland Legislature, making it a felony for a slave to excape into any of the States of the Union against the will and consent of his master and owner, with a winer the interaction his master and owner, with a view to escape from servinde. This law was the authority of the Gov. ernor of Maryland for demanding from Governo Shunk that John Mark, and other persons named in the indictment, should be delivered up as fagi-tives from justice, not from labor. Governor Shunk in use moustainer, not from labor. Governor summer tives from justice, not from labor. Governor summer referring to the Constitution for his guide, under ply with the demand man le upon him. The Co for labor, not from justice; and the State of Mar ryland could change neither the terms nor th spirit of the Constitution, by legislative enactmen The act of Congress, of 1793, made it unnecess ry that Mary nd should pass any law upon th subject, as it required the surrender of fugitives from labor "on the claim of the party to whom from labor "on the claim of the party to whom such labor is due." It was the owner of the slave, and not the Governor, who had a right to make the demand; and the Law Journal argues this question, we think, to a just conclusion; in ansai-ing the decision of the State Executive, and upon the ground that the act of Maryland confli vith the Federal Constitution. The law of the State of Pennsylvania, passed in The law of the State of Pennsylvania, passed in March 1967, and no much discussed at home, and descounced abroad, we must also thick, with the Law Journal, is no infringement of the Constitution. That act repeated all have for the surrender of fa-givers from atterching authority in such cases. It press, mod that Congress had no power to employ State Construction of the Construction of Factorial Lowidships. Officers for the enforcement of Federal Levi The State not being bound to take original jurisdi-tion in such cases, left the Federal Governmer and Federal Officers to enforce the law in the own way. Nor does this much abused law o March 3d, 1847, in any way obstruct the act o Congress or the Constitution, as we have seen by the act of the Circuit Court, at the term held in this County, where the heavy fine of $500 was impo ed by Judge Grier, upon a chizen charged with v olating the act of Congress of 1793. According to several decisions quoted by the Law Journal, state officers might act, if there were A.7 prohibitions by State authority, as there are here, but a score of decisions might be quoted from both the northern and Southern Courts, going F show that the States are under no obligat execute federal laws. According to a deci the Virginia Courts, Congress has no power to con fer criminal jurisdiction upon State Courts or offi-cers. In the celebrated Rig case, Chief Justice Taney sustains the act of the Pennsylvania Legi ture by declaring "that State officers are not bound to execute the duties imposed upon them by Con-gress, unless they choose to do so, or are required to do so by a law of the State, and the State Legislature, has the power, if it thinks proper to p hibit them." be descried orthodox in the Slave States, for the much abused Law of the Pennsylvania, Legisla-ture. We are glad that the law is as it is, and that the State anthorities do not require her Courts sy commissioners, whose own work was the as ject of revision. And there was other testimou available to the Commissioners-both with retur from the County to the Andior General, and in the personal Ranwiedge of members of the Reset This gives an aggregate sum of 17,196,222, and for the period of forty years, through, which it extends, makes an annual average of about $430,

The first thing that will strike the reader of this statement, is the gradual increase of the expendi-tures up to Gen. Jackson's administration, when the climax of over ten millions and a half was reached. The next thing, for remark is the fact, that there are not mark to be the statement of th

Autgeau, assessment, derived from inquiries personally maae. It would have been a great relief to the members, if full explanation had been made, but in its ab-sence they are bound by their eaths to act on the howvedge they possessed. The writer would have prefered leaving the tax of the County just where the commissioners return placed it, after correcting the error of that' return and advocated and voted accordingly. Yet he this as a between and voted accordingly. Yet he bits room that these expenditures were commenced under Democratic rule, and were greatest under the ad-ministration which is regarded by the party now, in power, as the beginning of their peculiar organ-ization at County and the State sen. Bigham then refers to loud complaints e
