Congress has adjourned over,—the Senate to Thursday, and the House to Friday, the latter body from the first process of the following merely to adjourn. A great crowd of Whig, members and delegates teft the city last evening, and another growd to follow by the noon train. The Hotels in Philadelphia are full already, but the door," and all will be welcome though many thouse sands should be present.

The troy House were both in session yesterlay but nothing was done of importance. There was however, in the House a brief but extiting debate upon a memerical of Major Tochman, a naturality.

There is no occasion at the present moment when nations are struggling to be free, to bloker up the concentrated essence of all despotic power in this person of the "Autocrat of all the Russias."

"Autocrat of all the Russias."

The question of sense was finally referred to the Judiciary Committee. There being but one court now held in the District of Columbia, it is necessary, if the verse by changed to grant a new trial beyond the Capital.

The campaign was opened in Congress to day, by a speech from Mr. Kaursian of Texas,—a member of yesterday, but who today undertakes to be at yesterday, but who to-day undertakes to bear upon his shoulders the new "Democratic plat, form" of the Baltimore Couveption. He read the Whigs on and off the course, in and out the church, as if he was a sort of "Sic Oracle," and spoke for Texas, "Texas, in turn speaking se easkarbs for the Union. Mr. K., is a transplanted Pennsylvanian, but I do not think he does much honor to the free State from which he went." From the tenor of the speech made to-day, and the debates of the week past, the Loco Focos in Congress do not mean to be very screphjous as to the means they use for carrying the election. The houtest volcation was a contraction by waiving the use for carrying the election. The notice voice-noes, however, are those which are soonest ex-hausted, and all this lava and amoke and fire will

I know of no man that would be more deserving the Presidency than Winfield Sort, and a more outrageous and shameful act, could not have been committed by the administration, than to drag Gea. Sout from his high command and make him a prisoner in the very Capitol which his own valor had won. But they that would have sacrificed Gen. Taylor on the plains of "Buena Vista" and our own army in the Valley of Mexico, are capable too of trusing the dagger of swenge into the hero's heart. But enough of this. I was very much pleased in look-over your City election. It was indeed nexpect, ed to me, but as the city of Reading went for Mayor so will the State and Union go for President.—Mark that.

by the following specimen of the state of morals in our army there, and especially by the closing lines. When the tell you how Senator Cass was treated by the rolunteers. You will recollect that we, for the volunteers were mustered under the set of May, 46, by which we were allowed $3,50 per month for clothing, and in a circular dated Angust 7th, 47, we were again assured of receiving the same. But it seems that Mr. Cass, with a good economical heart, offered a bill "to cause the volunteers to bill furnished with clothing is kind, at the same rates according to grades, as is provided for the troops of the regular army." Thus you see the has reduced our pay for clothing from $3,50 to $9,50. This, I suppose, is the compensation we get for fighing our way to the Capital. As soon as the let Pennsylvanians received news that this femnious bill had passed—chy extended a roys seems the main read leading to the civil of Mexico.

From Guadalupe and Martinique—Servite Insurrection Anticipated.

No papers from New Orleans have been received later than the 26th. The Charleston Mercury, of the 1st instant, contains the latest accounts from the 1sinon of Guadalupe and Martinique. The present state of affairs there, under the new code of things in France, was deplorable and threatening in the extreme. The greatest vigilance, was necessary to prevent an insurrection among the slaves, who believe that they are speedily to be emancipated.

The new Governor, appointed by the Provisional Government of France had arrived out.

The town of Guadalupe has been one continued scene of rot and dunkenness for three days.

The New York Tribune says, that negotiations are now going on at Washington for the transfer of the Baroburners to Cass, but it remains to be seen first, whether the leaders can be bought up with promises of office; and, secondly, whether, if they should be, the rank and file can be thrown in.—
Thus far, we haven't heard of any caving in, except one well paid subordinate of R. J. Walker, who wants to keep his place, very naturally. The rumors that Senstor bix has made a dicker, wan confirmation. Of course, some transactions will be confirmation.
