TAYLOR AND FILLMORE.

Hon. J.J. Crittenden. nesday, that a telegraphic despatch had been received, stating that Hon. J. J. CRITTENDEN, of Ky. would be in town on Friday, and would address people. It was therefore resolved to hold a mee at Murry's yard, on Penn street, on Friday e ing, at half past seven o'clock, to hear Mr. Critte len on the various subjects now so deenly into ing to the nation. Turn out, one and all, to her reflectio the great Kentucky Orator. This is he evening. Let there be a mighty gath ering of the Whig hosts.
