The Buffalo Nominations-The Duty of Whigs.

That there is a deep sympathy in the Whig party in the Northern States—and to some extent in the Southern-with the great principle at the botton vention, and which is now causing vast excitement in several States, we rejoice to admit is true. We would not have it otherwise. The Whig party, in the mass, has always been on the side of free of those who went out from us, and opposed Mr. Clay, in 1844, the annexation of Texas, and the consequent extension of Slavery would most assuredly have been prevented. The Whig party then, as now, presented a firm front against the encroachments of Slavery. But ought Whigs, because friendly to free soil.

yesterday, as had been announced; neither is ou yesterday, as had been announced; neither is out local reporter entirely correct in saying that the proprietors had resolved to suspend until spring. We learn from a reliable source, that the proprie-tors are assured by a large number of their hands, that they are anxious to resume work on the same rmerly, and by the sheriff that he wa prepared promptly and efficiently to suppress any demonstration of violence on the part of those hostile to the peaceable efforts to start the mills. owever, had reasons to apprehence authorities and those who would assemble to intimidate the hands, and therefore resolved to sus sible, to remove such a state of things, and having constituted a committee for conference with any committee of the operatives, which they may ting exclusively of themselves, appoin -the hope is entertained that peaceful con usis. Freights remain at the lowest point, and not ultimate accomplishment of the ten hour reform, in a manner that shall relieve the Pennsylvania milis of its viduole burthen. We sincerely hope—for the sake of the State at large—and for these cities, as well as the operatives and the employers, that this disposition of amily may pervade every mind.

Since the stoppage of the mills, on the 1st oll, the wages of the suspended labor, and the daily contingent out lay—would have reached an aggregate of some $35,000, which in its passage thro the channels of trade would probably have represented $150,000. All this is irretrievably lost to the community, to say nothing of the privation and suffering lelt by many families thrown out of employment—the loss to the manufacturers by idle capital, foregone profits, and custom estranged—the injury to Piusburgh, in the diversion from it of heavy orders for some of its staple fabrics—and the discredit which it suffers abroad, on account of the laws—all these considerations appeal to us in havor of a prompt and harmonicos adjustment of the laws—all these considerations appeal to us in havor of a prompt and harmonicos adjustment of these unfortunute difficulties.

The Ruthous Locorcoc Tariff,—Our N. York letter gives an account of the deplorable consequences of the Tariff of 1816, which ought to make every Pennsylvanian pause, and look at the consequences of the Tariff of 1816, which ought to make every Pennsylvanian pause, and look at the consequences of the Tariff of 1816, which ought to make every Pennsylvanian pause, and look at the consequences of the Tariff of 1816, which ought to make every Pennsylvanian pause, and look at the consequences in the future, and ask himself if duty does not require him to do all he can to avert the dynix storm of ruin now lowering over the country, by voting for men pledged to repeal the obnoxional measure which is producing so much mischief.

We do not yet feel, in this section, so sensibly as on the sea board, the disastrous workings of the Locofoo Tariff, but the rumblings of their approach; the sum of the falling price of pig metal, the heavy stocks of manufactured iron accumulating, the low pripe of produce, which will be still lower, and the increasing stringency in the money market. Even the success of Whig principles, by the election of Taylor and a Whig Congress, will not avert the come—but how much worse will it be to know vertainly that the day of relief is put off for six years, by the election of Cass? The election of General Taylor will inspire confidence, and render the habest work for their jumped. It is said that the whole island of the Fariff of 1846 bearable; while the success of Cass will involve our manufacturing interests in irretrievable rain.

It would be a happy thing if some people in our day could be brought to their senses as readily as was the poor tailor specken of below. They then might do some little good in the world or at least they would not do much harm. We have a good many just now about our city, who have taken it into the "ninth part" of their heads that they are appecially commissioned to make known the great specially commissioned to make known the great appecially commissioned to make known the great are appecially commissioned to make known the great appecially commissioned to aws of human brotherhood. We find them in the market places," at the "corners of the streets," and "market piaces," at the "corners of the sarces, and upon the "house tops," declaring against monopolies, denouncing the rich, and proclaiming universal and unlimited right to all. They are wondrous

But ought Whigs, because friendly to free soil, to support the Buffalo nominations? Ceptanily not. Nothing can be gained by the election of Taylor, which we deep sufficient of the work of the sure of the Whig party, with the most unrelenting bossility, during his long politic between their inversable board of the Burnburners—on the has been continued to the support of the Buffalo nominations by the election of Mar.

In 1515 we imported to deciments will show, in 1516, 69,695, as mount within our means of payment, but no sooner was the tariff removed, than the imports increased and run up to 138,104 packages in a single year. Who cannot see that our workmen must remain idle to the control of the control of the cause, and a prominent one in, running our manufactories, is in the fact, that we pay a high duty on raw materials, drugs, dyes, &c., that is not paid by the English manufactorers who drive us from the field. Twenty six classes of articles entering largely into our cotton and woolen goods pay 25 per cent in New York and are admitted to Liverpool free. Seventeen classes pay 10 per cent, and twelve classes pay 5 per cent. This duty is a disseriminating tax against our home industry, and is so much in favor of English licons and spindles; but we have not seen the end yet. We have no hope from the present Congress and the one to to be elected cannot reach the matter until December 1919, by which time many, a spindle that now hums bustly, and many a furnace that burns brightly, will have been sienced and gone out, leaving the laborer time to reflect upon the policy which has runned him.

brightly, will have been silenced and gone out, leaving the laborer time to reflect upon the policy which has reined him.

Money upon particular securities, has grown a fittle easier and can be had on call at 6 per cent, but four and six months paper still sells at 162 per cent a month. The market is flooded with New England paper, nasle by borrowers so urgent that any price is paid. Paper as good as A. & A. Lawrence & Co., has sold at the highest rate. Capitalists are very sensitive and prefer to keep their money where it can be controlled at once. The export of coin is temporarily checked, but still considered does not exist. Failures occur often and though not large singly, are disastrous to individuals. Prefights remain at the lowest point, and not one cargo out of a hundred now affont in American ships will pay the owner a profit over the wear and tear of his ship.

Messrs. Benton, Berrien, Calhoun, Bell, Turney, Buller, Houston, Webster, Yulee and Johnston, took part in the debate. In the course of his remarks, Mr. Webster said:

"He was not willing to extend the area of slavery, or to increase the alave representation in the other House. He thought enough had been yielded when twenty representatives from the slave. States, elected by three-diffus, were in the House of Representatives. When the constitution was adopted, no one looked for any accession of new States. The debate continued, as we learn up telegraph until Sunday morning, when Mr. Benton's amend ment to recode, was adopted, by a vote of 20 to 25. The bill then went to the President as it came from the House, with the Ordinance of 1757 attached, and is now a law.

In the House, the report of the committee of conference touching the diagreeing vote betwirk the two Houses upon amendments to the civil and diplomatic bill was concurred in.

The numerical strength of the recent stampede ceems not to be known by our Kentucky neighbors. The discrepancies in the number of slaves said to day for Western Virginia, to examine sites for the purpose of building up a manufacturing town. This project is sincerely entertained by all the proprietors, and by some of them very enthusiastic cally. We learn also, on good authority, that a cotton manufacturer in the eastern part of the State, who visited this city a few days back, has agreed to take $100,000 stock in this town, and to creek a large cotton mill. The danger that Pennsylvania will entirely lose this branch of manufacture, for which she is well adapted, is immined to the purpose of the pu ture, for which she is well adapted, is imminent.

Three sites are offered the company, all between Wellsville and Wheeling, in Virguna.

Our information that the cotton proprietors ha resolved to suspend until next spring, was not true to that extent. The suspension is indefiniterather the resolution to go to work yesterday was ded; and there is no probability that any action will be taken on the part of the proprietors at
