Poreign News by the Acadia APPAIRS IN IRPLANT

From the London Chronicle, July 28. From the London Chronicie, July 23. It seems tolerably certain that we are on the eve of an insurrection, whether it has exploded or not. Relicitant as we are to say any thing inculpatory of the government at such a time, we cannot but express our surprise that Lord Clarendon should have allowed the leaders of the League to have left Dubin, knowing as he must have known that the announcementof Lord John Russell's measures would be the sequel of the crusis. If he could not have arrested them legally, he should have exceeded his legal power to do so, and saked for an indemity. However that is past now, and they are at liberty to fight.

his legal power to do so, and asked for an indemnity. However that is past now, and they are at liberty to fight.

We have always given them credit for being bold, unacrupulous rebels and we think so sell. Indeed if they chose it, they could not retreat now. Their madmen followers will keep them by force at their head, and we understand that they have fully compromised themselves with Government by their proceedings of the last few.days. So we cannot avoid the conclusion, that the condict is impending and certainly never will the government of this country engage in one with a clearer conscience of right, or a more unantimous consent of all loyal and thinking men. It is remarkable that notwithstanding the vast amount of passive disloyalty which exists in Ireland, the fictual excitement of the more dangerous character is more widely diffused than might have been expected.

The west and north are comparatively free from the contagion, though from very different reasons. The accounts which we received from Kerry, Clare, and nearly the whole of Concaught, are favorable as regards present tranquility, and the apparent absence of excitement among the people—in these counties, the people are more primitive, more subject to the influence of their clergy, (which is at present exerted to prevent rebellioul) and more affected by physical depression of extreme distress.

The organization of the clubs has in a very few mstances been extended to the west of the Shanson, nor have we heard, except in Galway, of any preparations being made for insurrection. Certainly no alarm is felt among the gentry.

Uster is safe—the demonstration of loyalty and physical force made by the Orangemen on the 12th of July, have precluded the probability of any outstreak in that province. We do not even expect partial risings there. In the northern and midland counties of Lenster, the case is different; the prople are an energetic, determined roce, the descendents of the English—and the great majority Roman Catholics; their character and organization render them less prone to the wild excitement of the Celtic South, but they are thoroughly anti-English in feeling, and would be sure to rise if they saw a chance of success.

In consequence of Smith O'Brien's proceedings at Mulliagaher, a large meeting was held lately by Ibbneney. The Government has issued orders for the formation of a Camp theye, a well as at Tilton. Camps are already formed near the seat of the Earl of Delborough. At the Irish Mining Company works, near Belingarry, county of Tipperary, the working men all returned to work yesterdy, and arms that were taken from several parties the day before, were returned to their owners.

Our latest accounts from Ireland state that are rests for training and drilling had taken place at Drogheds, that it was rumored that Smith O'Brien's had been captured, and that the police had made search for arms in 43 houses at the same instant of time.

Accordingly on Saturday, the 22d inst, his Lordship in a citar common with that distinguished Whig. It is also known that the could not, the would, influence the roll principle of the improving shouts of almost every member in the House of Commons, moved for leave to bring in a bill which is known as a suppension of the habeag corpus act, by which the Lord Leutenant of Ireland, for the time lengt, empowered to apprehend and detain until the first of March, 1349, such persons as he shall suspect. The provisions of the new Irish liabeas corpus suspension bill may be applied to Liverpool; but this is a matter upon which the Government has not yet decided.

In Italy the war is carried on with variable success. The Austrians have entered Terrarra; levied contributions and supplies, and then again withdrew from the city. By the most recent accounts from the royal camp, all communication between Mantus, Veroua and Llegnagno are completely in terrupted. The Puke of Genoa with 20,000 men, inferits Verona on both sides of the Adige, in the positions near Rivoli, The Duke of Savoy is on the other side of Ducastella to prevent the agrees of Austrians on that side. Continual skrmishes take place, but none of a character to decide the fate of Italy. The chambers of Turin have voted for the annexation of Venice to Piedmont immediately. The king of Naples was made cognigant of the election of the Duke of Genoa to the thrömer of Sully, and he commenced preparations on an extensive scale for the invasion of that island. It was calculated that the forces available for the invasion would be about 20,000 troops in Calabria, about 5000 in the fortress of Messins, and 600 or 800 in Naples. It was expected that the embarkation would take place about the 30th and they would land at Syracuse.

SPAIN.

From Spain we learn that the Queen has been officially declared to be enciruta. However, some impediment has occasioned alarming fears for the frustration of the hopes of all loyal Syaniards. We thought that the Montemollinist, movement on the Northern frontier had not succeeded, but the accounts are so little trustworthy, that it is impossible to speak of the ambject with any degree of certainty. Don Francisco de Pauls, the father of the King Consort, has been exited.

COMMERCIAL.

The progress of trade and commerce during the past week has been greatly retarded by the extreme uneasiness which is filt respecting the state of alfars in Ireland. The markets for Colonial produce have hitherto been less active with the exception of surgar, which has been in fair demand. The sales of cotton are to a moderate extent.

The Corn trade has been active and prices ruther higher. Manufactured goods are less inquired for home use. The money market is easy, and the rates of interest remain at the figure last quoted. Since the sailing of the America, the sales of cotton amount to 34,350 bales, of which speculators took 2500 American, and exported 4503 American, and 250 parts, leaving 25,380 bales for the consumers use. The general tone of the market has deen quiet and without ammation. Prices of nearly all descriptions remain the same as on this day week. If any change it is in favor of the buyer.

Bpeech of Colonel Black.

To the Editors of the Putsburgh Gazette.

The speech of Colonel Black, delivered on the third of August, at Philadelphia, has been published in this county for political effect, and public at tention challenged for it in the most marked man ner. 4 We consider it fair game to note some points raised by the gallant Colonel.

After introducing himself to the Democracy of Philadelphia in an earnest, though partian exordium, he alluded to the statement of the New Orleans Bulkens, that he would vote for Taylor, and as he voted, so would four fifths of him men vote—it was not necessary for the Colonel to contradict this statement in Pennsylvania, for it is here known that having flung himself out of the Whig party, he would not vote for Taylor, having no interest in
