come now to state the only question in which the public is interested as a social body, as regards personal rights, and as bound to guarantee equal run their mills 12 hours a day, and a large number of the operatives are willing to work 12 hours a day, or sell 12 hours' labor a day, which they have a perfect right to do. Another class of operatives wish to dispose of only 10 hours of labor per day and which they say they cannot purchase without loss. So far, all is fair. No body its to biname—Each one has asserted his just rights. But what concerns the public is, that this latter class of operatives has assaited and outraged the rights of the factory proprietors and of the other class. Me are requested to state, as the whole truth in the premises, that those cotton factories in Philodelphia, which run ten hours a day, are all running on a reduction of wages, of from 121 to 20 per cent—mostly at 16 per cent. A majority of the mills in Delaware county are running 12 hours, on the old wages—the remainder ten hours, on a reduction of wages.

Although our readers are doubtless tired of this subject, yet its importance must excuse us for directing their attention to the only and true question.

The proprietors have invested their capital in cotton mills—a private concern—and no body eise has a right to meddle with it. They have a right to rean 8, or 10, or 12, or 15 hours, or stop altogether. Their right of property is sacred, and their right to control it equally sacred. The operative has his labor to dispose of, and he also has an undeniable right to stipulate the hours and the terms on which he will sell it. He may sell 8, or 10, or 12 hours a day, just as suits himseft. If he cannot dispose of 10 hours inhor a day, because the emission of the corten in the seed, and aim;

The Paris journals of Wednesday have now reached us. M. Thiers on that day made his first appearance in the tribune of the National Assembly. He judiciously selected the opportunity of presenting a report from the Committee of Finance, upon the proposition of M. Prudhoume, to confiscate the one-third of the moone of all propositions. The speech was received with every demonstration of satisfaction from all parts of the assembly, with the exception of the "mountain."—M. Proudhoume protested against it as being an accusation, rather than a report, and complained that his idea had been misropresented and his principles distorted. Some hitle difference took place upon a particular expression, and among the objectors was Gene Cavagnac, who is represented as having been not a little excited against M. Local Affairs LYECHING IN BREMINGHAM.-A colored mar ned John Smith, who had resided for some years in Birmingham, was dreadfully whipped, and af-ice wards tarred and feathered, on Wednesday night, by a number of colored men from this city and vicinity.

It appears that a alave, by the name of Scott, who had escaped from Virginia, and concealed himself in Birmingham, had entrusted his secret to Smith. A reward of one hundred dollars having been offered for the delivery of the slave, Smith decoyed poor Scott into the toils of his master, to called,) who gagged the victim and carried him back to alayery. The colored people discovering the treachery of Smith, seized him, tore off the coloring which he had purchased with the reward of his betaryal of his fellow man, and after a terrible whipping, tarred and feathered him.
